REAL ESTATE SALES AGGREGATING MORE THAN $140,000 MADE BY LOCAL DEALERS

Real estate sales aggregating more than $140,000 were reported today by local dealers. They comprise cottages and dwelling houses in various parts of the city and represent one of the largest turn-over in real estate circles for some time. The real estate business is at its peak in Lowell just now and members of the Real Estate Exchange predict that at the rate transactions are being made, this year bids fair to outdo 1922, which was a record-breaking year.

Edward P. Shattory, Jr., secretary of the exchange, has made a record for himself in the past six days by selling a whole street, consisting of seven 8-room cottages. These cottages are located in Littlefield terrace off Walker street and were owned by Dr. Samuel Paley. They are of modern construction, with steam and electricity and all the latest improvements. The sales of the seven houses aggregate about $32,000. The names of the purchasers will not be made public for a few days.

Another large sale was that of the building containing 10 tenement and six stores located at 155-175 Chelmsford street, owned by Israel Steinberg. The property includes 13,000 square feet of land and was sold for approximately $35,000. The sale was effected through the office of George Delorier.

Other sales reported today came through the office of Michael Reardon and were as follows:

The property located at 153-153 Hall street and 94-98 Tucker street, consisting of 18 tenements and one store, as well as 7605 square feet of land, owned by Joseph Dandaneault, was sold to Alfred Goulet of Lawrence at a price of approximately $20,000.

The three-tenement block with 12-car garage and milk shed located at 179 Ludlow street, and owned by Narcisse Chermont, was sold to Henri Houssel at a price of $15,000. The land area of this property is about 15,000 square feet.

Telephore Penetta has purchased from A. Antkanson the two-tenement house and three-car garage at the corner of Avon street and Seventh avenue for $7,000.

The large tenement property located at 109-113 Cheever street with 10,000 square feet of land, owned by Marshall & Tupper of Lawrence, has been sold to Rochette Morlafox for approximately $20,000. The building contains 30 tenements and one store.

Marshall & Tupper of Lawrence have purchased from Oscar Lavoie a nine-tenement block located at 31 Exceter street. The sale price is said to be in the vicinity of $9,000.

Herve Clement has purchased from Frank Prescott the double house and 6,000 sq. ft. of land at the corner of Bolivar and Carolyn streets at a price approximating $25,000.

Merrimack Valley Superintendents' Association Holds Annual Spring Meeting at Normal School

The annual spring meeting of the Merrimack Valley Superintendents' association was held at the Lowell State Normal school today, interesting sessions being held morning and afternoon with the following school authorities present: Clarence M. Weed, principal of the Lowell Normal school, who entertained the visitors; Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of Lowell schools; John Bacon of Townsend, C. L. Randall of Dracut, G. B. Clarke of Peppercorn, Ralph R. Barr of Wilmington, Charles H. Eames of Billerica, Frederick W. Porter of Stoneham, Adelbert Safford of Reading, C. H. Walker of Chelmsford, T. C. Johnson of Ayer, W. H. Drechsler of the E. B. Dabb Co., and President Eugene B. Vining of Billerica.

The day's program opened in the main auditorium of the school, Principal Weed announcing the first exercises, a demonstration of physical education by the class of Ruth M. Bailey, showing the progressive steps in physical education as taught in the elementary schools. The class was conducted by Miss Edith M. Bernston, who directed the members in playing fascinating games, including bean bag, dumbbell and basketball while the superintendents looked on and voiced their approval.

The second event on the program was a discussion of the results of intelligence tests recently carried on in the school under the direction of Miss Amelia Peters, teacher of education and psychology. Miss Peters was aided in her talk by a chart showing the Termain group test of mental ability of students and answered several inquiries from the guests.

LAWRENCE MFG. CO. WILLING TO GIVE LAND TO THE CITY FOR CORNER WIDENING

Mayor John J. Donovan is satisfied that the only proper solution to the traffic problem at Hall and Allen streets is the adoption of a plan whereby two corners will be sliced off for a depth of 10 or more feet, one of which would be land now owned by the Lawrence Mfg. Co., which Agent Everett H. Walker will give to the city without cost. Widening in this manner would be sufficient to remove the element of danger, it is felt.

Before viewing the corner yesterday in company with the board of public service and the finance committee of the city council, the mayor was under the impression that the Lawrence Mfg. Co. will might well be moved back 40 or 50 feet and the problem solved in that way. An investigation of the property has changed his opinion, however, and he now looks with favor upon a tentative plan embracing land-taking on both corners.

It is estimated that under the new plan the city will effect a saving of approximately $10,000 from the original order which called for the expenditure of $20,000. Although the mayor vetoed the original order he said at that time he did not mean he was against any remedial measure for the corner in question, but was of the opinion the necessary results could be attained for a smaller expenditure of money.

It is probable that in connection with whatever plan of widening is adopted, flashing traffic beacons will be installed to lessen the speed of motor vehicles rounding the corner.

DRUNK CRAZED WORCESTER MAN STABS DAUGHTER, ATTACKS WIFE AND ENDS OWN LIFE

WORCESTER, April 13.—Oscar T. Carlson, a rope maker in the Quinsigamond Wire Mill, returned to his home here this morning after his night's work in a crazed condition from moonshine, stabbed his four-year-old daughter in the head and fractured her skull so that she will probably die, tried to stab his wife and drove her almost naked into the street, and then cut his own throat and attempted to hang himself. When the police arrived he was barely breathing and the officers cut him down. He died on the way to the hospital.

HENNESSEY STRONG FOR PRIEST FACES MURDER CHARGE

Councilor James F. Hennessey, a member of the city council committee on finance, emphatically declares himself for a new grammar school in the South End district to replace the ancient Edison school building and to place under one roof pupils now attending half a dozen or more smaller schools in the same general neighborhood.

"I have investigated conditions at the school building in the South End district and they are abominable," said the councilor today, "and I am convinced of the absolute necessity of a new building. Adequate, sanitary, well adapted school buildings are essential in any community which desires to prosper and retain happiness and contentment and I am ready to find whatever support I can to push the measure to a successful issue."

"Some will call the erection of a new school building in the South End district this year an ambitious step," he continued, "but the same might well have been said in connection with the beautiful new high school building now under construction."

Put to Death at Florence, Ariz., for Murder of Mrs. Anna Johnson

Given Life Sentence in 1916—Released Two Years Ago—Then Killed Woman

FLORENCE, Ariz., April 13.—Paul V. Hadley died on the gallows before sunrise today for the murder of Mrs. Anna O. Johnson. He maintained his claim of innocence to the end.

In 1916, Hadley and his bride, Ida, were tried at Muskogee, Okla., for the slaying of Sheriff W. T. Giles, of Jackson county, Texas. Although it was she who shot the sheriff, the jury acquitted her and sent her husband to prison for life.

Ida begged to accompany her husband to the penitentiary. She led an attempted jail break, was captured, and sentenced to the penitentiary. Officers declared it was only a plan to get herself in prison.

At the penitentiary guards often found it necessary to lead her to her husband's cell and let her calm herself by talking to him.

Two years ago, Hadley, then a trustee, was released to perfect an invention. He drifted to Tucson, Ariz., under the name of William S. Bataver, and was charged with the murder of Mrs. Anna Johnson, wife of a Denver contractor.

Meanwhile, Ida had been released. She went at once to Arizona, announcing her intention to appeal to the governor for her husband. The plans, however, miscarried. According to the authorities, she recently obtained a divorce.

HOUSE OF COMMONS ENDS 21-HOUR SESSION

LONDON, April 13. (By the Associated Press.)—The house of commons adjourned at noon today until Monday. Its weary members welcoming relief from a session that had been continuously in progress more than 21 hours, mainly for consideration of the army and air force annual bill, which finally passed its third reading.

This is the only opportunity presented during the year for the members of the house to revise the conditions of discipline in the army and air force, and the sitting was notable for the jumble caused by obvious obstruction from the labor benches. There were some angry scenes between labor members and the chair, and a great amount of hilarity on the labor benches.

ON APRIL 9, 1913, we opened our new market on Merrimack Square. Just think of the tremendous changes in the world's history in those ten years—methods of doing business then are entirely changed today. Volume of sales at small profits is today the rule. People are getting more for their money today in proportion than they ever did. Our business has been built on a foundation of Quality and Service at a profit that is fair to all. You cannot get goods for nothing and you cannot expect to get the best for the price of the poorest. We claim our Quality is the best obtainable and costs but little more than the medium grade. It is fair to compare—and that is where we gain. Nuf Ced.

19 PERSONS DROWNED FOR BRADFORD ACADEMY

Bishop, Two Nuns and 17 Others Lost Lives When Boat Sank in Storm

MEXICO CITY, April 18.—The bishop of Bajas (British Honduras) two nuns and seventeen other passengers were drowned when a motor boat carrying them to Pavo Obispo, territory of Quintana Roo, Mexico, sank on Wednesday during a sudden storm, according to delayed advices reaching here last night. Fifty other persons are reported to have been saved. Further details are lacking.

MUSICAL TO AID MISSIONARY FUND

The diversified musicals by William C. Heller, pianist and organist at the St. Anne's church, assisted by the church choir of 30 well trained voices, charmed the gathering of music lovers, who crowded the small hall of the parish last evening. The proceeds of the concert were used to help the missionary fund of the Episcopal church.

Mr. Heller, by his skillful playing, held the attention of his audience throughout the well balanced program. Numbers by the church choir and soloists, intermittently appeared in the program, at the proper intervals, to win proper recognition from the audience. The selections by the choir of 30 voices, trained by Mr. Heller, deserve particular mention. The singers were encircled repeatedly, but owing to the length of the program, these were limited. In the first group of selections, "Combs Let Me Kneel At Thy Feet," was interpreted in a manner which won the instant approval of the audience.

The work of the soloists, John Brooks, tenor, and Frank Alden bass, in the above number, was exceptionally good. "The Bridal Chorus," by Cowen, in the second group of selections, served as a fitting climax to the well arranged musical treat.

The program:

Bouree in B Minor, Bach-Saint-Saens
Impromptu, Schubert
Scherzo in C Sharp Minor, Chopin
Song of Thanksgiving
Folk Song of the Netherlands
Let Me Kneel At Thy Feet, Combs
Thine Is the Kingdom, Gaul
Choir
Dance of the Gnomes, Liszt
Liebestraume, Liszt
Waltz in D flat, Chopin
Etude in G flat, Chopin
Prelude in E flat, Chopin
Lullaby, Brahms
Bridal Chorus, Cowen
Polka, W. R. Rachmaninoff
Polichinelle, Rachmaninoff

LOWELL ORCHESTRAL SOCIETY CONCERT

Lovers of good music can look forward to a very pleasant evening in listening to the works of great masters as performed by the Lowell Orchestral society at Colonial hall next Wednesday evening April 18 at 8 p.m.

The society is composed of about 20 musicians, fully capable of interpreting the ideas of the most famous composers.

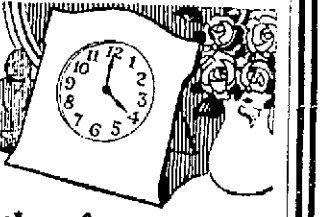

The moderate price of admission to this concert should appeal to everybody interested in music, inasmuch as the society feels that the public welcomes an opportunity to hear good music.

In connection with the concert, the society will be assisted by Miss Hazel Tuttle, contralto, a young lady who now is enjoying in one of our local churches. She is well recommended by musical critics of this city.

All in all this concert should prove one of the musical events of the season. Tickets may be had of the members also on sale at Steiner's and Kershaw's Music Store.

Lowell Girl Chairman of District for $500,000 Endowment Fund

Miss Mary Cameron, 328 Wilder street, Lowell, has accepted chairmanship of the Framingham district for a $500,000 building and endowment fund campaign for Bradford Academy, Bradford, Mass., plans for which were announced today by Dr. Raymond Calkins, of Cambridge, national chairman of the campaign organization.

The campaign opens May 2 and will last two weeks. A quota of $275 is expected to be given or secured by each Bradford alumna. Of the half million it is hoped to raise, $250,000 will be used for buildings, including a separate dormitory for the girls of the preparatory division, and the balance will be devoted to permanent endowment of which Bradford now has practically none. Renovation of the old building also is planned.

Bradford Academy has the distinction of being the oldest institution of higher learning for women in the United States. It was founded in 1803. Under its present program two years of collegiate and three years of preparatory work is offered.

One hundred and thirty-five girls from Maine to California are enrolled in the school this year.

Despatches From India Report Trouble at Amritsar—Many Injured

LONDON, April 18.—Despatches from India report trouble at Amritsar, where serious disturbances occurred in 1919. The present unrest is attributed to tension between the Hindus and Mohammedans, as a result of proselytizing activities on the part of both.

A riot occurred on Wednesday in which a score of persons were injured, and British troops were called to support the police. Street fighting between the rival factions again broke out on Thursday. British cavalry and armored cars have been brought from Lahore to strengthen the local troops.

The Amritsar correspondent of the Daily Mail reports that 50 persons were injured in yesterday's outbreak.

"HAMMER MURDERESS" MAY BE IN GUATEMALA

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Belief that Mrs. Clara Phillips, "hammer murderess," who escaped from jail Dec. 5, had fled to Latin America, was strengthened last night when Louis D. Oaks, chief of police received from Guatemala the following cablegram:

"What does Clara Phillips look like?" (Signed) "SHARP."

Mrs. Phillips beat Mrs. Albert T. Tamm, 30-year-old widow, to death last July, on a lone road in an outlying part of the city.

both cities will be tested in checkers, chess, bridge, whist, forty-five, pool and billiards. This is the first opportunity Lowell has had to entertain any considerable number of men from other cities in such tournaments, herebefore accommodations being quite limited. The facilities now at the club are especially fine, hence a fine time is looked for. Dr. James F. Gaffney, James J. Molloy, Michael E. Maloney, George F. Blighan and George H. McCabe constitute the committee in charge of arrangements. A similar tournament will be held with Nashua council in the near future.

WOMEN VOTERS' LEAGUE

Final Action on Program of Measures, Policies and Activities

DES MOINES, Ia., April 12.—Final action on the program of measures, policies and activities of the National League of Women Voters for the coming year was taken today. There was every indication that it would be adopted without further debate.

A heated discussion occurred yesterday over that section of the uniform laws concerning women relating to division of property, but it finally was agreed to as drafted by the resolutions committee. The debated section provides that the state organizations shall work for laws which would make men and women share equally all monies and property acquired after marriage.

Greetings from Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, one of the founders of the league and a native of Iowa, who is abroad, were read at today's session by Miss Elizabeth Gabeck of Watertown, Conn. Miss Gabeck also read a report from Mrs. Catt on the progress made by the Pan-American Association for Advancement of Women. Mrs. Catt and Miss Gabeck recently completed a tour of South and Central America.

JAPANESE BUY SUGAR IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 12.—Japanese importers are the latest foreign buyers to come into the local sugar market. Two cargoes, totalling 12,000 tons, sold today for June shipment for six cents a pound, f. o. b. Cuba, were said to be for Japanese interests.

Canadian and British importers have been heavy buyers in the last two weeks.

OCEAN YACHT RACE

HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 12.—(By the Associated Press) Preparations have begun for the ocean yacht race from the United States to Bermuda on June 12 next. The American yachts, which are among the fastest, have arrived here on a preliminary cruise over the course, and to see that all necessary preparations are made.

The start will be from New London, Conn., and with fair weather, it is estimated the run will be within four days.

MOVING TO THE HIGH SCHOOL ANNEX

The second year electrical class at the Vocational school is moving this afternoon to the former high school annex known as the "coop." This move is necessary as the electrical department at the Vocational school was practically ruined by the fire which destroyed the old portion of the building about a week ago.

Other departments of the school will remain in the old building, crowding into the rooms that were not damaged by the fire. The automobile department, situated on the first floor of the old building, is probably the worst affected. There is no roof over that part of the building and the first rain is likely to seep down through the ceiling and make work there an impossibility. The carpenter shop is also handicapped as all its machinery was put out of commission. They now buy finished lumber, or work their lumber at the high school annex.

WELLSBORO, Pa., April 12.—Friday the 12th, has no special significance in the life of Stephen Yessa, who, at the age of 12 years, purchased a fishing license and prepared to enjoy the waters of Tioga county, Pennsylvania.

Priest Faces Murder Charge

"Treated me like a little boy, and assumed toward me the attitude of a czar." Dillon, who is being held, told police that the tragedy was the climax of the evening meal. Father O'Neill, his assistant, and Father McCullough were at the table, he said. Father O'Neill ordered Dillon to go upstairs and "pack his grip." Instead, Father Dillon went to his room, obtained a revolver and returned to the dining-room.

"I intended to give him a chance to confess and repent before I killed him," police report Father Dillon as saying, "but as I advanced into the room, with the revolver extended, I saw him grab a salt cellar to throw at me and I fired twice."

As the priest's body slipped to the floor, Father Dillon, according to his story, gave Father McCullough a phial containing holy oils and told him to administer the sacrament of extreme unction at once.

Father O'Neill, who was about 55 years old, succeeded to the St. Augustin pastorate in November, 1921, following the death of Rev. Mice. A. A. Dillon, following his expulsion as a member of the Carthusian order from France, travelled in many countries as a missionary, coming here from Battle Creek, 13 months ago.

Rev. Father William Murphy of Detroit is in temporary charge of parish affairs. Father McCullough was recovering today from his collapse when followed the tragedy.

Asked who was at the dining table at the time of the shooting, Father Dillon replied that Father McCullough was present, but countered, "What do you want of witnesses? Oh, tell the truth. We were eating. He told me to get out. The last thing he said was: 'Tuck up and go.' I said: 'All right, I will go.' I did go and pack up and he didn't like the packing in my hand. I picked up the gun and, bang, bang, he got it right here (indicating the lower abdomen). He said: 'I'm shot, father. I'm shot.' Right in the midst of that he seized the salt cellar to throw at me; bang, bang; he dropped against the window."

Believes Slayer Insane

CHICAGO, April 12.—Bishop Michael J. Gallagher, bishop of Detroit, who was notified in Chicago that Father Dillon had killed Father O'Neill at Kalamazoo, advanced the opinion that the Rev. Father Dillon was unbalanced mentally. Father Dillon had been noted for his oddities, Bishop Gallagher said.

DEAN SUTHERLAND RESIGNS

BOSTON, April 12.—The resignation of Dean John P. Sutherland of the Boston university school of medicine, was announced today. He has been a member of the faculty for 14 years, and dean for 23 years. Dr. Sutherland is president of the International homeopathic council. In accepting the resignation the board of trustees adopted resolutions which said the school of medicine had had a remarkable growth under Dean Sutherland.

Dr. Alexander S. Beege, formerly dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Medicine, will succeed Dr. Sutherland.

MADRID, April 12.—A cable message received today states that a man attacked by the Spanish air service had crashed, owing to bad weather, between Palma and Tarifa, near the Straits of Gibraltar. The message gave no details.

WAGE INCREASE AT NAVY YARDS

WASHINGTON, April 12.—A net increase in navy yard wage scales would result from the approval by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of a report on the subject placed before him by the wage board headed by Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss. Mr. Roosevelt is expected to act this week, although the revised scales may not go into effect before the end of the fiscal year.

The board is understood to have adopted as its policy the decision that navy yard artisans will receive the same base wage as paid to similar crafts in the same locality. This will result in moderate decreases in some instances but the general effect, it is said, will be to increase the navy yard payroll.

Roxbury Woman Heals Arm With New Antiseptic

Says She Was Astonished How Quickly The Pain And Inflammation Left

As an example of the effect of Zonite, the World War antiseptic, when applied to slow healing wounds, we publish the following letter from Mrs. Martha Brown, Roxbury, Mass.

"Many weeks ago I lacerated my arm. I did not give it proper attention and it developed into a nasty and agonizing wound which became very much infected. My whole arm was sore, swollen and inflamed. I was suffering such pain that I was afraid blood poison was about to set in. I began using Zonite in a 1 to 5 solution, washing the arm and pouring the solution on the laceration. I was astonished how quickly the pain and inflammation left.

"My arm is now entirely healed. I have since used Zonite for sore throat on one of my children with splendid results."

Zonite is a powerful yet non-poisonous form of antiseptic that saves the lives of hundreds of thousands of desperately wounded men in the allied hospitals.

Reports from all sections of the country show that the antiseptic is accomplishing the same marvels in peace that it did in war.

Zonite, although non-irritating and healing, has twice the germicidal strength of pure carbolic acid and 80 times the strength of peroxide of hydrogen. It has a hundred uses in the home.—Adv.

EXPECT RE-WELDING OF INTER-ALLIED FRONT

PARIS, April 13.—(By the Associated Press) A re-welding of the inter-allied front is expected to result from today's meeting of the Franco-Belgian ministers here, at which a reparations plan drafted by the French experts will be compared to one which has been drawn up by the Belgians.

It is understood that the two differ only slightly, inasmuch as Premier Poincare through Louis Loucheur, and the Belgian government through its representatives in London have sounded the British government as to its attitude toward the question. It is believed, therefore, that the discussion today should prove fruitful.

The French plan was prepared by the foreign office experts in close collaboration with the reparations commission. La Motte, which prints a resume of the draft, says it leaves the total German indebtedness at 132,900,000,000 gold marks, but provides for a method of payment which would lessen the burden of the debt and at the same time, accelerate the installments during the next few years.

If France in that period is able, through international credit operations to get 26,000,000,000 gold marks, representing the "A" and "B" German bonds as well as her past and future expenditure for the devastated regions, she is ready to make concessions for the remainder, says the newspaper.

BY SUPERINTENDENT

Superintendent of Police Thomas R. Atkinson, in special orders read at the roll call of the department last night, praised the work of Officers John W. Mahan, Thomas F. There were three orders in which the four men were praised for their watchfulness and bravery, under trying circumstances.

The orders were:
Special order No. 10—Officer John W. Mahan is hereby commended for the arrest of Joseph F. Bradley, March 9, 1923, wanted by this department for larceny of narcotic drugs. The quickness and tact in this case is commendable.

Special order No. 11—Officers Thomas

AT THE LINCOLN SCHOOL

Excellent Comedy Presented by Abraham Lincoln School Athletic Association

A large audience gathered in the hall of the Abraham Lincoln school last evening to encourage the Abraham Lincoln Athletic Association in their presentation of the comedy, "The Master of His House," written for them by Murray Cummings, master of the school.

Their work showed unusual dramatic ability, especially that of Ronald Greenbaum, as Kara, the mystic; Theon Webster, as the master of his house; Alice Mellen, his nagging wife; Hazel Lebowitz, his determined mother-in-law; and Stages Lightman, the unbeliever in King Tut's power. A burlesque of King Tut, by Herman Greenbaum, and the subtle comedy of Henry Harris, the attendant of Kara, the mystic, caused great merriment.

The costumes, designed and made by Mabel Gennell, and the decorations by Anthony Cunha and Edith Wingood, the dancers trained by Mabel Gennell, and accompanied by Esther Thorne, A. I. A. A. "23."

The comedy was repeated this afternoon for the children of the school. The proceeds are to be devoted to the promotion of athletics in the school. The entire cast:

DIRECT SENTENCE AND FINE IN LIQUOR CASE

The case of Albert De Angelo, of 355 Middlesex street, whose residence was raided March 5, according to the testimony of Clyde Aldrich in the liquor squad, was continued in district court today. Aldrich stated that 22 quarts of alleged liquor, and a quantity of wine, a number of jugs, cans and empty bottles were found in the house.

Samples of the fluid reported as seized, were sent to Boston for analysis. The samples showed varying percentages of alcohol up to 49. Officer William J. Kilroy, who took part in the raid, said of watching De Angelo's house on several occasions, and noting men entering and leaving the house, some of them staggering, as though intoxicated.

Albert De Angelo, the occupant of the house, in answer to the coming and going of the men, stated that he denied selling any form of liquor to the boarders or visitors. He admitted making quantities of Italian grapes and raisin wine.

Mrs. Albert De Angelo, it is alleged by the raiding officers, said that the wine was freely used by the household and even by the children. Two boarders present in the kitchen at the time of the visit by the officers denied ever having bought or received any liquor at the De Angelo house. The defendant's wife, becoming excited while testifying, rattled off a continuous stream of words, interspersed with Italian dialect. Reference to one of the boarders as the "Tiger" brought smiles from the court delegation.

Attorney Joseph Donahue represented the defendant in the case. Deputy Hugh Downey upheld the government end.

Judge Fisher, summarizing the case, declared that evidence had been submitted to show that it was a clear case of keeping, and that the surveillance by the officers, gave evidence that liquor was there. The defendant was found guilty by the court, fined $300 and committed to the house of correction for one month. The case was appealed by the defendant, and will be tried in the superior court on the first Monday in May.

WOULD INCREASE PRICE OF COAL HERE

Gov. Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts has written a letter to Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania in which he protests the governor's action concerning the one and one-half per cent tax on coal shipped out of that state.

A short time ago the lower house of the Pennsylvania legislature favored a bill repealing this tax and Governor Pinchot strongly opposed their action. This tax will cost the New England states and New York state a sum of approximately $2,450,000 yearly, and will cost Massachusetts alone $825,000. This tax will also add materially to the already high retail price of coal and the consumer will have to pay the bill. Pennsylvania produces practically all the hard coal that is used in these northern states. In fact, no other state could supply us with the anthracite coal needed to keep our homes warm during the cold months.

Governor Cox, in his letter to the Pennsylvania governor, states that the tax is nothing but a method for building up the resources of that state at the expense of other states which unfortunately cannot produce their own coal, states which have not the resources which have put Pennsylvania where she is today, and that the result will be a wide breach in the relations between that state and such states as are compelled to buy coal there. In the concluding paragraph of his letter he says, "I earnestly hope that Pennsylvania may lead the way in establishing better relations between states by repealing penal can be effected."

the direct tonnage tax on coal. While Pennsylvania might lose in revenue, I am sure her people would derive far greater satisfaction in the realization that they had led the way to right settlement of a question which may otherwise precipitate a national calamity."

The Greater Wilkes-Barre chamber of commerce has written Governor Cox praising him for his stand on the tax question, so it seems that the tax is not favored even by the business men of Pennsylvania.

This tax is of the utmost importance to people in Lowell as well as in other cities and states in New England as it will add materially to the price of coal, and a concerted pressure must be brought to bear on the Pennsylvania legislature and governor before the re-

Courts Fail to Solve Strangest Love

Tangle—Two Men Look Just Alike

BY ROY JIBBONS

NEA Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—A comedy of errors here has developed into a tragedy.

Gurgling two-year-old Baby Billy Sierro is the innocent victim of an amazing tangle which even the courts have failed to solve.

And Mrs. Irene Hayes Sierro has turned to science and has asked it by means of blood tests to determine who is her husband and the father of her baby, born in legal wedlock.

The first act of this drama took place in 1919 when Irene Hayes became the wife of one Paul Sierro, according to a marriage license, duly signed, which she now offers in evidence. From this union Baby Billy was born.

Two of Him

When brought into court here the other day to answer a charge of non-support, the husband appeared in the form of two men.

One called himself Sam Serpe. The other said his name was Paul Sierro. Each bore a striking resemblance to each other.

But they seemed to have interchangeable names. Sierro, it was said at the hearing, often was known as Serpe and Serpe sometimes called himself Sierro.

"Which of these is your husband?" asked the judge.

The wife pointed to Sierro. "And the father of your child?" the court queried.

"Yes."

"Your honor, she's wrong," said the man calling himself Serpe. "I'm her husband. But I'm only the baby's stepfather."

"You lie! You lie!" the wife screamed.

"How about this, Sierro?" the court resumed.

"Never Saw Her"

"Never saw her before in my life," came the answer.

"But he is my husband. I lived with him three years. Here's his name on the marriage license," pleaded the wife.

Then the court acted.

"Both of you," he said, addressing the two men, "step forward and write the words 'Paul Sierro'."

The magistrate compared the handwriting specimens with that on the marriage license.

They were almost identical. The court was dumfounded.

"Let's let the baby decide," he then suggested. "Let it pick out its daddy."

The wife took the little one into her arms and offered it first to Sierro.

The baby was indifferent.

"Come to me," pleaded Serpe. "I'm not your daddy. Only your step-daddy. But come on anyhow."

Baby Won't Aid

Still Baby Billy registered indifference, and the judge wiped his brow.

One more ray of hope remained. The judge turned to the wife.

"Did your husband have any marks by which you might identify him?"

"Only a mole behind his ear."

Then started a judicial search for the mole. It was found—in precisely the same place—on both men.

"Defendants discharged," ruled the court. "Take the case into the divorce chambers."

And that's how science has come to be entered in the cast.

TO DISCUSS FILM PLOT FOR SCHOOL USE

NEW YORK, April 13.—A committee of the National Education association, appointed to help motion picture producers plot a film for school room use was here today to meet with H. Hays, president, and his associates in motion picture producers and distributors of America.

The committee was appointed at Boston last July, when it was decided to lay the foundation for putting the movies into the curriculum of public schools. Payson Smith, state education commissioner of Massachusetts is a member. The prime purpose of today's session, the call set forth, is to discuss plans for the production and use of pictures suited to the work of the schools and to the wholesome entertainment of young people of school age.

will follow almost the same route. They will use a Fairey twin-float seaplane with a Rolls-Royce "Cander" engine.

MacMillan With Blake

Captain MacMillan leader in the race, went 10,000 miles last year with Major Blake in the latter's attempt to fly around the world.

MacMillan will be accompanied by G. Mallins who also was in the Blake expedition. They are backed by a London club which is building a machine the dimensions and characters of which are being kept secret.

The route MacMillan proposes in: From England via Italy, Greece, Egypt and Palestine to Bagdad; thence across India and Persia to Burma, China and Japan.

Then the expedition will cut across the edge of southern Siberia to the Aleutian islands and around by southern Alaska to Vancouver.

Then MacMillan will cross the Canadian mainland to Halifax and will cross the Atlantic in a manner not heretofore attempted: via Greenland, Iceland, the Faroe Islands, Orkney, Shetland, Scotland—then to London.

In preparation for the trip "advance agents" will place caches of food and gasoline on the uninhabited islands of the Aleutian and Kurile groups.

Linoleum of Today

How modern designs and color harmony have brought a new meaning to the name "Linoleum"

ONE of the most important ingredients of linoleum is linseed oil. The name "linoleum" comes from linus, flax, and oleum, oil. This flaxseed oil when exposed to air toughens and hardens. When mixed with powdered cork and pressed on burlap, it forms a floor material that has several qualities not to be found in any other type of floor.

While the practical merits of durability and ease of cleaning deserve to be mentioned first, you really ought to know more about another feature of linoleum that is new and interesting.

A floor of Armstrong's Plain Linoleum extending through a group of rooms

Color in linoleum floors

Modern linoleum is made both in plain colors and in designs that increase the beauty and attractiveness of any room where a modern linoleum floor is laid.

Have you ever seen any Armstrong's Jaspé linoleum? Jaspés are rippling, two-tone effects in grey, brown, blue, green, that are suitable for the finest living-room, dining-room, and bedroom floors. No woman who has seen these Jaspés will deny the suitability of these patterns for any floor in her home.

Then there are plain linoleums in soft, rich colors, that may be used either as an entire floor or as borders for a patterned field. Other Armstrong designs are inset and marble tile inlays, parquetry inlays, carpet inlays.

Look for the CIRCLE "A" trademark on the burlap back

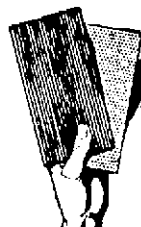

When you place linoleum on your floors you insure yourself not only all the practical conveniences of linoleum but you have opportunities to secure effects in interior decoration that no other floor can offer. One look at these new patterns will convince you of what so many already know, that Armstrong's Linoleum is not to be thought of merely as a floor for kitchens or bathrooms, but is one of the greatest advances in floor-making since our ancestors first laid floors of rough hewn wood.

Children touch Everything—yet who touched it before?

Why Does Every Mother Dread Dirt?

Generations before scientists had discovered anything about disease germs, every mother knew that dirt was dangerous.

You mothers are doctors by instinct—health doctors. Your task is to keep the family well. That is why you hate and fear dirt—why you must be interested in Lifebuoy.

Years ago, the world's largest soap manufacturers devoted months of laboratory research to producing a scientific, perfect health soap; a soap which not only would cleanse and soften the skin but which would also protect skin and bodily health from the hidden dangers lurking in dirt.

Think of all the dirt your children may touch at school and during play. Every junk pile fascinates them. Think of the stray dogs and cats they pet—the foul city dust they grind into hands, knees and faces. Children touch everything—yet who touched it before?

Lifebuoy Combats Dirt

What a comfort it must be, when the children come home, to know that the rich, creamy, healthful lather of Lifebuoy is purifying and protecting every pore of their little bodies. Not merely washing off the surface grime—but actually guarding against infection.

Lifebuoy is more than soap—it is a health habit. Homes where Lifebuoy is used regularly are protected against contagion by scientific cleanliness.

Pure and Bland

Lifebuoy is as pure and bland as soap can be made—soothing, beautifying—and an efficient deodorant.

The rich, wholesome oil which is squeezed from the flesh of palm-fruit gives to the lather its firm, creamy quality. Coconut oil lends its peculiarly grateful skin-food value. There is not a trace of free-alkali. Lifebuoy cannot harm the tenderest skin. It is admirable for babies and for the complexion.

The odor is pungent and wholesome. That is because it is truly antiseptic—truly a health soap.

The odor disappears in a few seconds but the protection remains.

Lifebuoy is not merely a boudoir requisite—it is a scientific, health protection used by millions—probably the most widely used toilet soap in the world. It guards health.

Buy several cakes today—to have it ready at every place where there is running water.

Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass., U.S.A.

Lifebuoy is Red—the natural color of pure, unbleached palm-fruit oil.

WHITE URGES LEAGUE DENOUNCES EINSTEIN SAYS CONGRESS WILL PASS BONUS BILL

Dangerous Situation in Europe Would Have Been Avoided Had U. S. Joined

BALTIMORE, Md., April 12.—Henry White, former ambassador to France, member of the American Legion during the negotiations resulting in the treaty of Versailles, last night, declared that had this country not withheld from the League of Nations, the present dangerous situation in Europe would not have come to pass.

This, Mr. White said, was his first discussion of the treaty. Mr. White addressed the first public meeting of the Maryland branch, League of Nations Non-Partisan association. He declared the greatest tragedy of the tragic year of 1919, was that peace should have been caught up in the coils of politics in America.

Capt. See Says Doctrine of Relativity Greatest Piece of Humbuggery on Record

VALLEJO, Calif., April 12. (By the Associated Press.)—Capt. T. J. See, U.S.N., astronomer at the Mare Island navy yard here, in a statement denouncing Prof. Albert Einstein as an insulator and spreader of untenable theories, expresses regret at the action of Dr. W. W. Campbell, director of Lick observatory, in announcing Wednesday that he had confirmed the Einstein theory of relativity insofar as it concerned the ending of star rays.

Development of the photographs in Australia during a total eclipse of the sun by the expedition which Dr. Campbell headed, does not, in the opinion of Capt. See, form a basis of recognizing Einstein's relativity.

"I value highly the work of the Lick observatory," said Capt. See, "but I regret to see it issue statements to the press which lend support to the discredited doctrine of relativity than which a greater piece of humbug has not appeared in any age."

He asserted that the Einstein theory cannot be confirmed.

"FLOWER" DAY FOR STRIKERS TOMORROW

All arrangements for the "Flower" day to be conducted in this city tomorrow for the benefit of the strikers of the Boston & Maine carshops in Billerica and the roundhouse in this city, have been completed and the members of the B. & M. federated craft, who are in charge of the affair, hope the residents of Lowell will donate freely for what they term a very worthy cause.

The employees of the Boston & Maine carshops and roundhouse have always been in the forefront of a public-spirited movement in the city. They have helped every worthy cause that was ever called to their attention. They showed their patriotism by coming across 100 per cent in the Red Cross drives during the war. They have scored 100 per cent in the Salvation Army drives. They made a splendid record in connection with the Liberty bond drive. They donated very freely to the textile workers in the early stages of their strike last year and have taken an active part in the fight of the local women in their struggle for the two-platoon system. In fact, they never allowed a good cause to go unnoticed, and they feel that the public of Lowell believe in reciprocity and will demonstrate it by making tomorrow's "Flower" day a big financial success.

The young women who have volunteered to sell apple blossoms on the streets tomorrow are requested to report at the craft's headquarters in Odd Fellows' building, Middlesex street, tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, for it is planned to start the drive promptly at 9 o'clock.

Every street and district of the city will be covered and at 11:30 young women will be stationed at the gates of the various mills in order to receive the donations of the working people. The day will be a busy one for the strikers and their friends and they hope that their efforts will be crowned with success. The arrangements for the day are in charge of J. E. Clancy, T. A. Goding and Frank A. Collins.

This evening at 8 o'clock there will be a mass meeting of the strikers in Colonial theatre, Middlesex street, and all members are urged to be present. Various reports concerning conditions on the road will be submitted and prominent speakers will address the gathering.

Do You Have a Bronchial Cough?

Well-Known Woman Relates Her Experience

Utica, N. Y.—"I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to all those who suffer with bronchitis. When it was quite young I had diphtheria which impoverished my blood and also left me with a tendency to bronchitis. Every few weeks I would have a spell of sore throat and my bronchial tubes would be inflamed and cause me great distress. I was this way for many years, until I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it gave such great relief I have had very little trouble with this ailment since."—Mrs. Jennie Olds, 305 Cooper St.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Joseph H. Laporte was arraigned in district court this morning on the complaint of Mrs. Laporte, that he was not paying his weekly donation of $5 a week for the support of his children as allowed by the court at a previous hearing. Laporte testified that he was earning $20 a week and that he was able to pay the weekly contribution, but that he objected to his treatment when calling to see his children staying with the mother.

Probation Officer Cronin in stating his version of the entanglement, said that Mr. Laporte had commenced paying Wednesdays, but had slipped along to Thursday and Friday and that if he maintained this skip, he would soon gain a week in allowance money.

Mrs. Laporte, garbed in an attractive fur coat, said that payments were coming irregularly, and that the defendant had missed the last two. Judge Fisher cleared the difficulty by allowing Mr. Laporte to pay $5 each week on Saturdays, plus an additional dollar at each payment for 12 weeks, until the money now due is cleared.

Atty. Jos. Donahue represented the defendant and Atty. Ben Maloney the government.

ends its suffering. This is absolute downright cruelty to animals and it is something which must be stopped immediately.

In holding the minimum rule to four or five chicks, the humane society officials and the store owners believe that this abuse will be done away with as people would not buy as many as four if only to satisfy the whim of a child, and would only buy them if they planned on raising them to become furs.

Another feature enters into this purchase of a single chick for a child to play with. The person that does this is fostering in the child's mind cruelty and abuse of dumb creatures, and if an idea such as this once gets a firm foundation in the child's character, then that child is doomed to grow up without a single shred of pity for dumb creatures. Its mind is warped. It cannot reason from the standpoint of the law which punishes people who treat animals cruelly, and sooner or later that child will run contrary to the law and as a result he will be an outcast in society. Teach the child to treat animals as they themselves wish to be treated and they will grow up to be law-respecting citizens of the land.

Gerald Chapman Escapes From Prison and Then From Hospital

By NEA SERVICE
NEW YORK, April 11.—Gerald Chapman, notorious "million dollar" mail robber, who has started the nation by his two spectacular escapes from custody in Georgia, is hiding near his old haunts in New York, say older members of the metropolitan detective force. They do not believe the criminal, whose daring exploits have put him in the position formerly occupied by Roy Gardner, Pacific coast bandit, has fled to the mountains of North Carolina, as Georgia authorities at first believed. Chapman was sentenced to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., after he had been convicted of being the leader of the $1,000,000 mail robbery here in 1921.

GERALD CHAPMAN

Early on the morning of March 27 Chapman and Frank Greig, convicted forger, escaped from the penitentiary. They cut the wires supplying electric lights for the prison yard and, under cover of the darkness, scaled the prison wall by means of a rope ladder, supplied by friends outside.

When a citizen refused to aid Chapman in his flight, Chapman forced him at the point of an automatic pistol to accompany him on a street car and to pay his fare. Chapman, however, was recaptured, after he had been shot three times. He was placed in a hospital at Atlanta, Ga., under heavy guard. Doctors said his condition was so serious that an escape would be impossible. But Chapman fooled them. He dressed in his guard's clothes, knotted his bed sheet into a rope and, while his temperature was at 100 degrees, climbed to the ground and fled. A nation-wide dragnet has failed to locate him.

FOR RECAPITALIZATION OF EASTERN SHIP LINES

BOSTON, April 13.—Stockholders of the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., were notified by President Calvin Auslin today of a plan for recapitalization. An additional issue of 25,000 shares of 7 per cent cumulative first preferred stock, par $100, is proposed for acquiring additional property and lines and for betterments and an issue of 50,000 shares non-par preferred cumulative at $2.50 a share, with the common stock outstanding. This latter was explained as "very satisfactory" which will be applied to development.

The statement said that "if plans with reference to the redemption of additional lines are sufficiently developed at the date of the annual meeting (April 18 at Eliot, Me.) they will be submitted to stockholders at that time."

The statement did not make clear whether the reference to additional lines was intended to apply to acquisitions other than the Old Dominion Steamship Co. and the Kennebec Steamship company, already announced, but not approved by stockholders as yet.

by thousands are known to exist in this country because they have been relieved from pain and suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Science in sorcery and electricity have advanced greatly during the past 50 years, but treatment of disease by old-fashioned root and herb medicines has never been improved upon. The leader of them all is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which after 50 years of success is today recognized as the standard remedy for female ills and sold everywhere for that purpose. Replies to a questionnaire recently sent out to 50,000 women by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., of Lynn, Mass., proved that it benefits 88 out of every 100 women who try it. Isn't this a marvelous record for any medicine to hold?

ATHERTON'S FIRST ANNIVERSARY SALE

Of Furniture, Rugs, Carpets, Linoleums, Beds, Bedding and Glenwood Ranges

Saturday Morning, April 14, we celebrate our First Anniversary of our Lowell Store. We had our formal opening one year ago, and at that time we told the people of Lowell that we would sell quality furniture at lower prices than ever before sold in this city. Throughout the year just passed we have faithfully kept that idea in view, and take the credit of keeping down prices on all home furnishings. Proof of this is shown in our ever-increasing number of satisfied customers and our steadily mounting volume. We are able to continue our policy for several reasons. First of all, our great buying power. The scope of our business in 18 New England cities makes it possible for us to get lower prices everywhere than it is for most other firms in our line. The second reason is that we have no costly street floor location. At this time we wish to announce that we are about to open a new Kitchenware Department on the Third Floor, and when our plans are completed you will find the finest line of Kitchen Furnishings, China and Glassware to be found in the city. Watch the newspapers for our official opening later. We wish to take this opportunity of thanking the Lowell buying public for its hearty co-operation in this venture, as we realize that without its approval we could not continue. Carefully read over the items below, and if you are need of Household Furnishings, this is an opportunity that you have been waiting for.

Chauncey Depew Writes on Nine Biggest Events of His Lifetime

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW AND THE NINE BIGGEST EVENTS OF HIS LIFETIME

By N. E. A. Service
NEW YORK, April 11—Chauncey M. Depew will enter upon his 90th year April 27.

The grand old man of American politics has seen four wars—and their aftermaths. He has been a friend of Gladstone, the statesman, and of Joe Jefferson, the actor.

He has made speeches in the halls of congress and before the motley crowds of the Bowery.

Since he became connected with the New York Central railroad, it has grown from a length of 125 miles to a length of 5000 miles, and he has seen the railroads of the United States grow from 3000 miles to 300,000 miles.

He has survived cults and fads and still retains the simple faith his mother taught him.

What are the nine biggest events that Chauncey Depew has seen in the nine decades in which he has lived? He tells of them here, in his own story.

written at the request of the N.E.A. Service.

By CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW

The first big event that I remember was the Mexican war. I was 14 years old then and it stirred me with tremendous notions of civility. However, I could not include the Mexican war as being one of the nine big events which I have witnessed. Neither could I include the development of the railroads as that development has covered too long a period of time to be designated as an "event."

Here, then, are the nine big events which I have seen in my lifetime. I consider them big because of their far-reaching effects on the human race.

One: The election of Abraham Lincoln to the presidency. This was important not only because of Lincoln's association with the Civil war, but also because of the influence which the character of Lincoln has had on the whole world.

Two: The proclamation freeing

the slaves. This was the first great blow at property which had heretofore been held in profound respect. It was the forerunner of the present day agitation over the rights of property. But it took slavery out of the present institutions and made the Declaration of Independence the vital idea of the United States.

Three: The World War. This was important because by its very horror it has paved the way for peace. The governments which instigated the World War have been overthrown. Future rulers will not be so anxious to rush into war when they reflect that they are likely to lose their jobs in consequence.

Four: The publication of Darwin's theory of evolution. It liberalized thought; it helped to break down the narrow dogmas of a personal devil and a brimstone hell; it showed that all things are in a continual process of evolution.

Five: The giving to the world of Pasteur's discoveries. I consider that he has done more than any other individual to benefit the human race.

Six: The preaching by Emil Cope of the powers of auto-suggestion. Cope did not discover auto-suggestion but he is showing men and women how they may improve themselves with it. The United States is built upon the development of the individual. Around that development hinges its whole future.

Seven: The invention of the telephone. When the first telephone company was formed I took a sixth interest at $10,000 and kept it for about a week. Then I took somebody's advice and got out. If I had kept that interest I would today be worth hundreds of millions of dollars. But I wouldn't be here to enjoy it. The case and the fine dinner would have killed me long ago.

Eight: Bessemer's discovery of his

process of treating steel. It laid the foundations for one of the world's basic industries.

Nine: The discovery of radio. It opens up a field of development as limitless as the air itself.

York, then to the Beaux Arts Cafe, Philadelphia, Pa., and after that to New York city. When Mr. Forest left the orchestra they were on their way to Williamsport, Pa. Mr. Forest has returned to this city to take up the duties of organist at the Strand theatre. This will be welcome news to the public, for Mr. Forest, besides being an accomplished pianist, is also an organist of note and at the present time intends to further his studies with one of the best teachers of organ in Boston. While on tour Mr. Forest had several excellent offers among them being playing in Dayton, Ohio; at the Windsor Hotel; with Yerkes' Happy Six; in speaking of the latest dances, "Al" says that in and around New York and other metropolitan centers he finds that the so-called "jazz" dancing is giving way to "symphonic" dancing. Also tango and fox trots are the go while the good old waltz is slowly dying out. "Al" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Teles Forest, 859 Lawrence street.

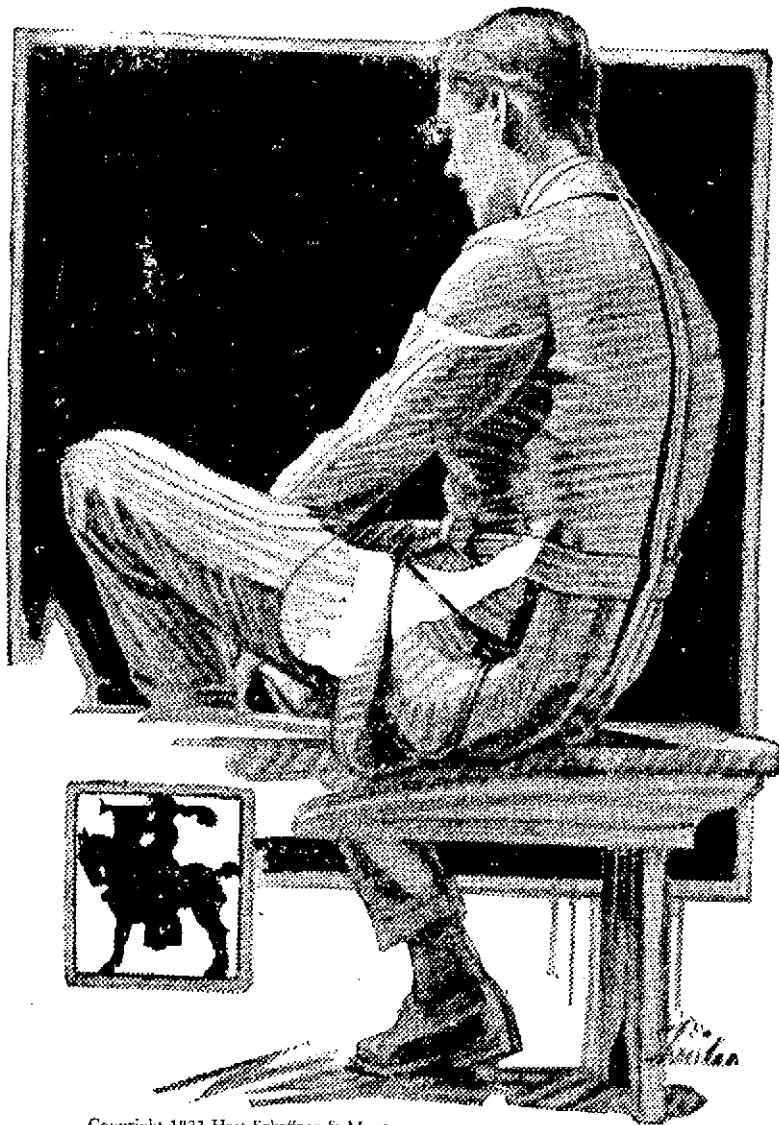

SAYS "JAZZ" DANCING IS IN THE DISCARD

"Al" Forest, a well known Lowell young man, has returned home after spending the past four months or so playing the piano in one of the most popular dance orchestras in the country. "Al" stated today that he had a most successful tour. He was with Oxley's Society Entertainers, joining them first in Virginia from which place they journeyed to Montreal, Canada, where they stayed for 11 weeks at the Mount Royal Hotel. From there they went back to "The Regent" at New

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KETH'S THEATRE
Florence Galt, who is the principal reason for "Little Briffwood" being shown, is delighting audiences at the B. F. Keth theatre this week. Miss Galt is new to us, but she is a constant delight, for her manner is one which is different and always charming. She sings and dances very well and the male quartet which supports her is decidedly good. Crawford & Underhill, makers of laughs, succeed in their ambition as well as have any vaudeville this season. They are always worth while. Robert Henry Hodge, in a farce, is one of the best character actors on the stage, and Claude Ryan, supported by Charles In-non, hits off a lot of conversation during the time she is on the boards. Other acts on the bill are: Pascal Duo, singer and harpist; Eleeta Garcia & Co. singers and dancers; and Kay, Hamlin & Kay, trampolinists.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"Getting Gerlie's Garter," has without doubt proven to be the most hilarious farce that has been staged locally in many moons. The plot that is woven around the chase for a missing garter is decidedly spicy and uproariously funny. Fred Harvey, who acts the part of the intoxicated butler with the idiotic grin, has the rare power of throwing the audience into spasms of laughter every time he appears. Mary Anne Dentler is superb as usual and the rest of the caste are unusually good.

CROWN THEATRE

From wealth and high social station to poverty and ridicule, is only one of the many humiliating situations for Thomas Meighan in "Buck Home and Broke," which will be the main attraction at the Crown theatre today. Finding only liabilities when he expected to get a fortune, he drops in popular estimation with a sickening crash. He goes away to make good, and when he returns very inauspiciously, he is the subject of more ridicule than ever. It is well worth while to see how he extricates himself from the disagreeable situation. Alfred

Green directed and Lila Lee is leading woman.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performances will be given today and tomorrow at the Merrimack Square Theatre of "Java Head," the noted production of the old clipper days of Salem. This is the big Mel-ford picture which was filmed only a few months ago in Salem. George Pawcett, Raymond Hatton and Leatrice Joy head a big cast. Johnny Hines in "Luck" is the other feature.

THE STRAND

The name of Priscilla Dean is invariably indicative of something new, novel and daring in motion pictures.

and "The Flame of Life" her newest production now playing at the Strand is no exception to the general rule. You will come to this conclusion when you see it. "Domestic Relations" gives Katherine MacDonald unusual opportunity to reflect not only her attainments as an actress, but also her wonderful wardrobe. The scenic effects and photography are also most commendable.

RIALTO THEATRE

Beginning this afternoon and continuing for the remainder of the week the Rialto theatre has an exceedingly strong attraction in which is introduced the production, "Thorns and Orange Blossoms," with Estelle Taylor and an all-star cast performing. There is also a serial introducing Pearl White in "The Plunderer," also Will Rogers in "The Hoping Foot" and a Christie comedy "Hot Potato." "The Third Alarm" next week.

MARDI GRAS PARTY AT TEXTILE SCHOOL

The freshman class of the Textile school will hold a Mardi Gras party at the school hall tonight. A committee headed by Harry Swain has been working hard to make this event a big success and the last few days have been spent in decorating the hall for the affair. The entire proceeds of this Tuesday afternoon and will continue event will go to the athletic field as until the following Monday.

in a gift from the class of 1923. The annual election of officers of the Gamma Chapter of the Phi Psi fraternity was held at the fraternity house last night with the following result: Guy H. Harmon, president; Douglas Boone, vice-president; Herbert Perry, secretary; Edward T. Dunnean, treasurer; Rodney Wilman, chapter editor; W. Martin Simpson, corresponding secretary; Cyril Moore, assistant treasurer.

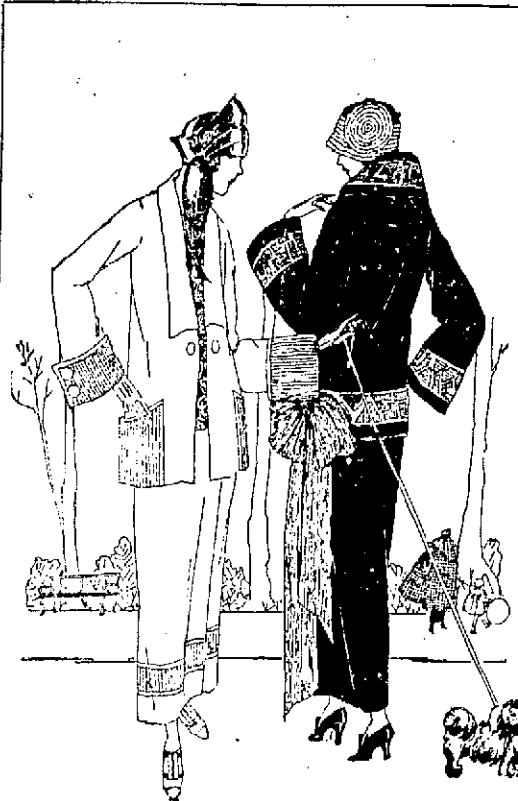

Plans for a house party and dance the week of the school play were also discussed. The spring vacation at the school will begin with the closing of school Tuesday afternoon and will continue event will go to the athletic field as until the following Monday.

Mrs. Hoover Heads Movement To Make Sturdier Women

By HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 11.—A nation-wide movement to promote the health, fitness and morale of every woman and girl in America will be inaugurated at a conference of hygiene and physical education authorities to be held in Washington April 6 and 7.

The conference is called under the auspices of the National Amateur Athletic federation, by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, the only woman vice president of the federation and national president of the Girl Scouts.

The major aim of the sessions will be to make up for women and girls a comprehensive program of athletics and recreation activities. Such a program for men and boys, formulated at a previous conference, is now in operation.

Conference Program

"The conference will afford an opportunity for the discussion of the three following major topics," says Mrs. Hoover:

"First, standards and tests and their co-ordination.

"Second, mass activities and their effect on the individual and the community.

"Third, competitive athletics.

These questions will be discussed at the conference by recognized leaders in the various related fields of hygiene, physical education and physical recreation."

With a comprehensive program of athletics and recreational activities, through which the work of all institutions and organizations dealing with hygiene and physical education can be co-ordinated, it is believed that the entire movement can be placed on a nation-wide footing that will enable it to function smoothly and effectively.

Such a result would work definitely to improve the fitness of the individual and the race. Among the benefits which might properly be expected to follow are:

Increased vigor, vitality and endurance.

The improvement of mental and moral qualities, such as courage, presence of mind, sportsmanship, loyalty, team play, co-operation and certain fundamentals of leadership and fellowship.

All these will combine to increase the usefulness of American women to the nation.

Controlling any program for women, however, are physiological, anatomical and emotional factors which, obviously, necessitate a different range of activities from those included in the program worked out for men.

Experts at Meeting

Leading national health organizations and social agencies will be represented at the conference and will assist in working out the problem. Hygiene and physical education experts from universities and colleges, normal schools, public schools and other educational institutions will be supplemented by representatives from such organizations as the National Health council, the National Child Welfare association, the Girl Scouts, the Young Women's Christian Association and the playground and Health Association.

In addition to Mrs. Hoover, who will open the conference with a summary of the national problem, individuals who will participate in the discussions include:

Colonel Henry Breckinridge, president of the federation; Dr. William A. Burdick, director of the Playground Athletic League of Baltimore; Blanche M. Trilling, professor of physical education and director of the women's gymnasium, University of Wisconsin; Dr. J. Anna Norris, professor of physical education at the University of Minnesota; Miss Elizabeth Stoner, assistant professor of physical education, University of California; Miss Edna Lee Tall, principal of the Maryland State Normal School; E. Dana Perkins, manager of the National Physical Education Service of the Playground and Recreation Association of America; and Miss Elizabeth Burdick, chairman of the American Folk Dance Society.

VICTORY OVER BLINDNESS

Exhibition to Show How State Department is Training Blind Persons

Victory over blindness will be the theme of the exhibition to be held in the Auditorium, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 24 and 25, under the direction of the state division of the blind of the department of education, and the auspices of local organizations. The exhibit will show what the state department is doing in training blind persons in overcoming their handicaps in clerical, semi-professional, professional, and industrial work.

The employment department has placed a number of sightless workers in electrical factories. The Simplex Electrical company of Cambridge employs several blind men to separate mica and to put caps on fuses. Several Massachusetts piano factories employ blind men as tuners. One piano manufacturer liked the first blind man he employed so well that he asked the employment department to send him two more.

Sixteen blind girls are rendering excellent service as dictaphone operators with the United Shoe Machinery company, the S. S. Pierce company, the Maryland Casualty company, the Walworth Manufacturing company, all at Boston; the Crompton-Knowles Loom works, Worcester; the Denison factory, Framingham; the American Optical company, Southbridge, and the Pink Tire company, Springfield.

They work under the same conditions as their seeing companions and receive the same salaries for the same quality of work. One employer wrote to the state division that the blind girl who was doing dictaphone work for him by her efficiency deserved the same rate of compensation as the other workers.

Dictaphone operators trained under supervision of the division for the blind are taught that they can not afford to make mistakes, since it is very difficult for them to correct them and the result is they make very few. Some receive their training in regular business colleges, others in the offices of the division. The most capable operator in the office of a division is a blind girl. Everyone goes to her in preference to several of the seeing operators. All letters written by this operator are stamped at the bottom: "This letter was written by a blind dictaphone operator." That stamp has paved the way for employment of other blind operators, and inspired blind girls who learned of the success of others to prepare for the same work.

STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, April 12.—The state department of education today issued a warning to fishermen asking them to avoid carelessness that may lead to forest fires and to be sure to obtain a fishing license. The statement follows:

The fishing season is about to start, which will draw into the open thousands of men, women and children. Contrary to general understanding, the country is very dry and strong winds will prevail during most of the early season.

"Even a novice knows that forests and abundant other vegetation are necessary to preserve the water supply and the temperature and quality of the water in our streams. Forest fires destroy all this, and today are the most important factor in determining whether our streams will remain suitable for fish life. If forest fires increase with the opening of the season the legislature may be asked to empower the governor to close the season."

"Each individual is charged with the individual moral responsibility of seeing that no fires are started. You naturally want to preserve your sport. The two principal things for you to do are:

"Prevent forest fires and fish according to law.

CANE FIRES LAID TO STRIKERS
SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, April 12.—Strikers or their sympathizers are charged with the setting of frequent cane fires which have been occurring recently chiefly on the south side of the island where strikes of field laborers have been on for some time. None of the mills have been forced to shut down because of the strikes, although some of the centrals have worked on a reduced scale.

Within 48 hours in the Guayama district recently there were 40 fires reported, culminating in the burning of more than 700 acres of cane.

Blame Gloria, Fellers,
For Wife's Hair Styles!

GLORIA SWANSON, CREATOR OF THE "GLORIAS BOB."

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, April 13—Say, men, come right down front here where I can talk close and confidential-like to you.
It won't be long until your wife, your sister, or even your mother, is going to come home with her hair clipped just like yours.
And who's to blame for it? Who's to blame, I ask you?

Gloria Swanson!
Yes! Gloria Swanson!
That Swanson woman has had more to do with women's heads than anyone else in this great nation. Not meaning just empty ideas about silk negligees and mink-tailed nightgowns and womanly independence, but what goes on outside the head.
As Swanson hairdresses, so hairdresses the nation!
I care not who makes the nation's laws, or writes its songs, let me set its hair styles!
Gloria used to pyramid her hair. Then she plastered it. Then curled it. Bobbed it. Flounced it. Corrugated it. Water-waved it. Star-spangled it.
And every time Gloria made a move with her curling iron or her comb all the women folks started to do the same thing.

Gloria worked so many culture changes she ran out of breath and ideas and had to sit down and think for a while when she started work on "Bluebird's Eighth Will," the other day.
"Hey, Hattie! My mirror!" she cried when at last the hirsute inspiration hit her. Hattie Tabourne, Paramount hairdresser, brought up the set of mirrors and one regulation barber's outfit.

Snip! Snip! Snip!
A few more snips and Gloria was "shingled," as the old boys used to call that style of haircut.
Gloria had her hair cut in the back like a man's. The cut follows the curve of the hair. The hair is also cut at the sides and curled under, still preserving the shape of the head.

And that's what they call the "Glorias bob."

I tell you, men, all the women folks will be wearing the "Glorias bob" before the leaves fall next autumn.

Yes, and speaking of women following movie styles and fashions, the men are just as bad. The Valentino vogue still grows. Sideburns and shaggy hair under the hat. In any subway train in Gotham you can see young Spanish, Italian, Jewish and French youths wearing the Valentino hairdress. Any dark young fellow who has a notion that he bears the slightest resemblance to the shelt does his best to improve that resemblance. It seems.

ATTACK BY GOMPERS

Charges Garland Money Used to Aid Revolutionary Organizations

WASHINGTON, April 12—Because the Workers' Education Bureau, an organization of the American Federation of Labor, is not "definitely committed to a radical program," the American Fund for Public Service, Inc., has refused to include the bureau among beneficiaries in its outlay of the $500,000 fund turned over to it by Charles Garland of Boston, out of the rejected inheritance from his father, Samuel Gompers, president of the labor federation, in making public a letter from the Garland fund organization, refusing a request for a $100,000 endowment fund for the education bureau, charged in a statement last night that the Garland money was being used to "bring together an interlocking network of pacifist and revolutionary organizations of more or less extreme character."

The request, Mr. Gompers said, had been made as a "test" to determine to what purpose the Garland inheritance was being put.

By the statement in its letter that it would support only such labor educational movement as fit workers for "carrying on the struggle for the emancipation of their class in every sphere," the American Fund for Public Service, Mr. Gompers declared, had "disclosed itself in its true path as a proponent of revolutionary effort."

Among the directors of the Garland Fund, Roger Baldwin, Robert M. La Follette, Scott Nearing, William Z. Foster and Sidney Hillman, Mr. Gompers said, had been more or less constantly associated with radical labor and other organizations which the American Federation of Labor opposed as "subversive of the best interests of American citizenship."

Master Pearl K. occupied the chair at last evening's meeting of the Billerica Grange, which was held in the Centre village. In the early part of the evening a banquet was served and later a large class was initiated by the ladies' degree. The third and fourth degrees were conferred on large classes. The latter part of the evening was taken up with entertainment numbers.

DANCING PARTY BY NURSES' ALUMNAE

A very enjoyable dancing party was held at the Highland clubhouse last night under the auspices of the Nurses' Alumnae association of the Lowell Corporation hospital.

This was the 11th party of its kind given by this association and about 200 couples turned out to make it a success. The hall was decorated with streamers of the national colors strung from the chandeliers in the centre to the walls, and lead.

The stage was banked with potted greenery. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Miss L. O. Downs, Miss Mabel Worth and Miss Elsie Mc-

98 Out of Every 100 Women Benefited

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. — 50,000 Women Answer —

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100. Did you ever hear of anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure-all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it. Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

PROMINENT CONCERT STAR TO GIVE HER FIRST RECITAL IN LOWELL

MISS EDITH BENNETT

For the last concert of the season at the Middlesex Women's Club, Miss Edith Bennett of Concord, N. H., a soprano who has rapidly forged ahead in the world of music since her graduation from Smith college only a few years ago, will give a recital in Colonial hall next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the usual meeting hour. Miss Bennett has studied extensively in this country and Europe and is considered one of the most promising young musicians New England ever has produced. In addition to being one of the most popular recitalists of the decade, Miss Bennett is also one of the prettiest and most vivacious young women now appearing on the concert stage. Club members may invite gentlemen guests to this concert.

Twelve-Year-Old Violin Prodigy Discovered in Omaha

SAMMY CARMELL

By NEA Service
OMAHA, Neb., April 12.—With an artist's "O. K." placed upon him by Fritz Kreisler, master violinist, Sammy Carmell, Omaha's 12-year-old violin prodigy, will go to New York to receive an artist's education at the expense of Omahans who have become interested in him.

Sammy is just an ordinary western boy born in a home of moderate means. He likes to fish, to play marbles and in other ways to emulate Huck Finn.

But back in the depths of his dark eyes something gleams that you don't see in every boy's eyes.

"The spark of genius," said Omaha musicians.

Since he was a very tiny lad Sammy has cherished his violin. From a very young age he's been appearing in public at home-talent dramatic entertainments.

the girl from Tennessee has a high level of excellence to maintain. With my compliments to her predecessors, I predict Jobyna will achieve full stardom in two years.

Unlike many girls in comedy, she isn't eaten with secret desire to do "more serious things."

"I have no desire to make people weep," she said, when with my little note book and pencil I had rescued her from a villainous Indian who was kidnapping her in Lloyd's unfinished and unnamed production on the Hat Ranch in Culver City. "Too many weeps in the world already. I want to make people giggle. Why climb up or down into tragedy?"

Not that Jobyna can't climb. Why, some of the tallest trees of the Pittsburgh, Tenn., countryside have been scaled with impunity by hers truly, while fences, cotton presses and corn sheds were mere practice hurdles for her summer over studio obstacles with the spectacular result.

"Mabel Normand is my model," she confessed. "I want to be able to act like her." And in action and appearance, though not suggested in her "still" photos, Miss Ralston is curiously like Miss Normand.

Strange thing! With petulant frankness Miss Ralston says she has never been proposed to. What's the matter with the Tennessee swains? Still, Pittsburgh's loss is the nation's gain. And Jobyna did add that she's had several sweethearts.

She is a quarter inch over five feet, and weighs 110 pounds. She has gray eyes. Brown curls. A sunny nose. An engaging frankness. An unspun elfin spirit. A firm handshake, and a skin you just love to—

But where were we at? Oh, yes, as I was saying: When Jobyna gets a little homesick for the farm she takes time out to play with the dogs, cats, ponies and rabbits of the Roach menagerie. She still prefers the old-fashioned title "Tomboy" to "dapper," though I prefer "the Cutie of Culver City" or something like that.

"I've waded waist deep in marshes to shoot ducks," she said proudly. "And I've pulled 'possums out of trees by their tails. I like to hunt. I like to hunt with boys, but the next best thing here is hunting golf balls with someone that can't play any better than I."

Ruefully I watched Jobyna shooed back to the encircling arm of that kidnapping Indian—a squirming, kicking, grunting, I asked Lloyd if he didn't want someone to double for the Indian in that scene. But he said, "No—thank you."

Lloyd is such a courteous man! North or south? What matters it with Robert J. Flaherty? He produced "Nanook of the North" and now is about to sail for the South Sea Islands to endeavor to incorporate the soul of the tropics in a film.

They don't call Jackie Coogan a "star" in Hollywood. He's a starlet. We want you to understand.

Ho-hum! Now we read that with delivery of one more picture to Metro, Garson's Clara Kimball Young contract, with that organization expires. The next one will come from Universal. What's the diff? The public will see them anyway.

SECRETARY WELLS AT BOSTON MEETING

George F. Wells, secretary of the Lowell chamber of commerce, attended a meeting of the Massachusetts chamber of commerce in Boston yesterday. The morning session was held in the Boston City club. At this session, considerable business was transacted and the directors were re-elected. Dr. Kenyon R. Butterfield, president of the Massachusetts Agricultural college addressed the meeting on "The Relation of Agriculture to the Industrial Future of Massachusetts." At 12:30 a luncheon was held at the Boston City club and, following the dinner, James J. Storrow, chairman of the New England railroad committee, Ernest N. Smith, department manager of the chamber of commerce of the United States; and Charles L. Behlmer, of the chamber of commerce of the state of New York, were the speakers.

Thirteen Lowell men were elected to the board of directors of the state

It was at one of these that a talented Omaha musician heard him. He told others. Patrons of art became interested.

"If the boy has got the stuff in him, we'll pay the expense of his education," this group decided.

But who was to pass on Sammy's possibilities?

Mischa Elman came. But he was too busy to give the lad a try-out.

Finally came Fritz Kreisler. He consented to listen to Sammy. He even accompanied Sammy on the piano.

Sammy had only played a few bars when—

"The boy has real talent," Kreisler interrupted.

"He should be sent to Franz Kneisel in New York for training."

So Sammy is packing his boy's treasures—and his violin—and getting ready to leave.

chamber, Samuel H. Thompson of the Thompson Hardware company was elected to represent the trade association.

William N. Goodell of the Locks and Canals, a former president of the chamber, to represent the class A organizations (chamber of commerce), and George F. Wells, secretary of the Lowell chamber, to represent the chamber of commerce secretaries.

There was something doing at the chamber, to represent the day well spent.

Actual dollars, however, by no means comprehend his idea of success.

"I feel happy," he told me with boyish earnestness, "to have some share in moulding the destinies of an agency of entertainment and enlightenment reaching some 20,000,000 Americans daily."

WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR ACADEMIE FRANCAISE

PARIS, April 12.—For the first time since the Academie Francaise was founded by Cardinal Richelieu in 1634, a woman is receiving official consideration as a candidate for a seat among "the immortals." She is Mme. Alfred Mortier, an authoress who writes under the pseudonym "Aurole." Mme. Mortier's name is among those to be voted on as a successor to the late Jean Alcard, who died two years ago.

Mme. Curie, the noted scientist, was last year elected a member of the French Academy of Medicine, the first woman member of any French academy. No woman, however, has yet been numbered among the 40 "immortals" who make up the membership of the Academie Francaise.

Why People Become Nervous and Run-down

Prominent Health Official Explains

By G. M. Lapinski, M. D., Former Member of Philadelphia Health Department

"The reason why persons who are weak, anemic, nervous and run-down have gotten into that condition is because they are so constituted that they use up their vital energy and nerve force quicker than their bodies can replace it."

"Their systems fail to extract from the food they eat and retain in sufficient quantity those mineral elements without which the body is absolutely unable to create vital energy and nerve force. And so they go on expending, day by day, their vital energy without adequately replenishing the supply until their systems become completely run-down, their blood gets impoverished, and their nerves are unstrung. The mineral elements which are essential in the creation of vital power are particularly calcium, potassium, sodium, phosphorus and iron. And these elements must be administered to those patients whose systems do not extract them in sufficient quantity in the natural way from their food. That is why I always recommend Wincarnis for weak, anemic, nervous and run-down patients. For Wincarnis contains all of these vitally necessary elements in a form that enables the system to readily assimilate them and which is acceptable to the most delicate stomach."

"IT'S THE FLAVOR"

THALBERG'S RAPID RISE TO FAME AND FORTUNE

A melodramatic title for Thalberg's career might read "Peter Pan in the Way to Photography," for millionaire photographer Thalberg is certain to be, barring decided misadventure, almost awesome at times. Think of his effect upon people whose lives would otherwise be drab. How it stimulates imagination. Builds dreams. Re-creates vanished ambition. Gives new hopes, stirring a nation with a new culture.

Why, the fact that thousands of people hereafter participate have been prompted by motion pictures to write, not only for the screen, shows us influence in quickening mental activity.

"Success," he said, cutting back, "is the measure of one's vital relationship to the rest of the world, a relationship made up of an infinite number of sentimental reactions and their material out of exchange."

"In this business you must have a great faith in the weight of emotions. You've got to be a sentimentalist to risk from $200,000 to $400,000 for a picture in the reasonable assurance that its way upon human hearts will be indelible and profit you."

"You can readily see that motion pictures can't be based on coldblooded finance like raising potatoes or getting cotton. The movie maker can't simply pour in so much money and sit back awaiting returns. He must be unusually alert to the social and economic changes that react upon fundamentally unchangeable emotions. He's got to get that into his pictures or his product is unsalable."

It is Irving Thalberg's canny ability to do just that—to sense the changing psychology of a people and to shape all the activities of a movie producing plant to the heart hunger and mind gropings of a public—which brings him an income of $100,000 a year at 23.

Over his dynamic personality and the consciousness of his ability, he wears a becoming mask of modesty and quiet, unflinching courage. Not a trace of swagger—for which, Sparks, please keep the spotlight on him a moment longer.

PALUSO WINS OVER BAIRD

Student Boxer Awarded Decision After Ten Rounds of Sensational Fighting

Baird Knocked Down in Ninth—Came Back and Weathered Storm—Record Crowd

Low Paluso moved forward a step in his campaign for championship honors last night when he triumphed over Earl Baird after ten sensational rounds of furious fighting in the feature event of the Moply club show at the Crescent rink. A great crowd turned out to see the two famous collegians in action and rarely has more enthusiasm attended a local bout.

It was a battle all the way, with Paluso the skillful and master boxer, being forced to employ all his cunning and ring generalship against Baird, the aggressive, hotting in, rugged and hard hitting "human cyclone." The latter had been recommended as "another Shugart" and he certainly lived up to predictions.

The boys entered the ring virtually at 123, and Baird moving the bar at 127½. They were in splendid physical condition, brought about by careful and intelligent training and they needed to be for the pace they set was terrific.

It was Paluso's third appearance here, while it marked Baird's initial performance before Lowell fans. But the battle they put up made such an impression that all who were on hand will welcome a return visit at any time. Their work was a revelation and when the final round sounded the great crowd gave vent to their enthusiasm and appreciation by vigorous cheers and applause.

Paluso, out to keep his record clean, opened up a well planned attack. He boxed with coolness and fair judgment. He shot in short jabs and hooks with piston regularity, and he was quick to pull away when Baird essayed to hold and hit when on the inside. Baird rushed in and out, taking a couple of Paluso's blows to get over one. He scored repeatedly with stinging punches to the mid-riff, and often ripped up terrific clouts to the head. The battle went on a whirling clip, with both boys showing to advantage, but with Paluso generally just a step ahead of his adversary. The third, the fifth, the seventh and the ninth rounds, were the most hectic. The others were replete with vigorous action, but these four stood out like beacon lights, and were crowded with superlative boxing skill. In the third, fifth and seventh the pair stood toe to toe and swapped crashing blows to the delight of those assembled. In the ninth the fans were on their feet when the pair engaged in a spirited exchange. They were trading at a bewildering clip, and all realized that if either landed a heavy blow the other would go down. It remained for the skillful Paluso to see and grasp the opportunity. He let go a swinging right that caught Baird flush on the jaw. The latter went to the canvas with a thud. The crowd was in an uproar as the referee began to count. Baird waited until the referee reached nine, he then came up like a closed in to avoid another that would send him down. Paluso tore at him like a tiger, but on putting him away, Baird gave an exhibition of ring craft and gameness the like of which has seldom, if ever, been seen in a local ring. How he was able to withstand the battering of Paluso and weather the storm was difficult to understand, but he was on his feet fighting hard when the bell sounded. And Baird came back for the tenth round and vigorous, while Paluso appeared a little tired, after his herculean efforts to knock his man in the preceding round. The round was a terrific one, with honors fairly even. Paluso earned the decision, but Baird

KAMM BATS OUT VICTORY

Brilliant Playing of Pacific Coast Star Gives White Sox Lead Over Giants

Kamm Had Perfect Batting Average—Senators Beat Braves—Ford Hurt

NEW YORK, April 12.—Due somewhat to the all-round brilliancy of Willie Kamm, the star pitcher from the Pacific coast, the Chicago White Sox took the lead from the New York Giants in their rambling series by winning yesterday's game at Johnson City, Tenn., 8 to 7. Kamm made four hits in four times at bat. The Sox have won seven, the Giants six.

The New York Yankees lost a whole bag of things at Springfield, O. They were defeated by the Brooklyn Robins 8 to 7 and lost the immediate services of Everett Scott, the shortstop, who is nearing a record of 1000 consecutive games. Scott injured his ankle when his spikes caught in the base marking second base and had to be carried from the field. This season's exhibition series between the Yankee and Brooklyn thus far stands with seven wins and five losses for the American leaguers.

Senators Beat Braves
BOSTON, April 12.—The Braves were defeated by Washington, 5 to 4, at Norfolk, Va., yesterday. Errors in the fifth gave the Senators two unearned runs. Horace Ford was out of the Boston lineup for a week, as his injured leg suddenly became troublesome in yesterday's game.

In a 16-inning game the Reading club of the International league defeated the Red Sox at Harrisburg, Pa., 4 to 3. The Reading team obtained five runs in the deciding inning.

LOWELL HIGH ON PREP SCHOOL SCHEDULE

H.; 6, St. John's; 8, Saugus at St. John's; 10, St. John's (Worcester) at St. John's; 12, Boston Commerce at St. John's; 17, G. E. Apprentice school at St. John's; 19, Milton at St. John's; 23, E. Boston at St. John's; 25, Boston English at St. John's; 30, St. James at Haverhill; June 2, St. James at St. John's.

gave him one of the stiffest arguments of his career.

Gunboat Jack won over Buddy Dolan in the semi final of eight well fought rounds. Ray Hancock of Lawrence knocked out Jack Harper of Newton in the second round of the first preliminary. In the second preliminary Johnny Fallon of Lawrence was awarded the decision over Joe Brockrick of Cambridge after six peppery rounds.

It was announced that Martin Maherty, Jr., and Johnny Avila, local rivals, will meet in the main event next Thursday night.

Lowell Needs But One More Victory to Land Verdict Over Duggan's All Stars

Harkins and Duggan, Rival Captains Both Express Confidence

With Lowell needing but one more victory to land the series from Duggan's All Stars the fourth game between these two classy polo outfits will be played at the Crescent rink tonight.

The fact that Lowell eliminated both the New Bedford team and the Worcester Tigers in four games in the two great series preceding the present competition has given players and fans confidence. While it is realized that the All Stars boast of a remarkable lineup, a team that is strong in every position one that when in its stride it is difficult to stop, the success scored by the Lowell club, in winning over New Bedford and then coping the championship from Worcester, demonstrates the fact that the Spindly city outfit also has the goods.

Capt. Harkins in discussing his team's chances today said: "We have the edge on the All Stars, with two victories out of the three games played, and while I realize the Duggan clan will come here prepared to fight and fight hard, in an endeavor to win and stay in the battle, I feel very confident that if we can get the old ball rolling our way there will be nothing to it. With Jean at center, Morrison at halfback and Jette at goal, I can not see where the enemy defense of Dufresne, Gardner and Blount, while a great combination, has anything on us. With Williams and myself on the rush line, I am very confident, we will have a little on the Duggan-Pierce combination. The teams are two of our best have ever seen in competition, and I look for one of the greatest battles of the season tonight with Lowell on top at the finish."

"Wild Bill" Duggan is bubbling over with confidence, listen to his line. "Tell the Lowell fans that they will find us a little different than the New Bedford and Worcester teams, and that we will not only win Friday night, but we will also win the series. Lowell has a good team I'll admit, but my club is a better one. We have capable men in every position. The fact that we held Lowell to a 6 to 3 count in the last game, with Jean in the Lowell lineup, demonstrates that the Harkins club has very little on us. We were a little at sea, by the shift of Harkins from center to rush, but we have the team all doped out now, and if we don't win tonight, I'll admit that I am a poor deceiver. As for myself, I am going into the game with a firm determination first to win the game and secondly to wipe out Williams' lead over me in the individual competition. The game and the series are not over until the sound of the final whistle, and Lowell fans must not be too premature with their plans for a celebration. Look out for us tonight."

Jack Russell, who has handled the important series games in a most efficient manner, will be on deck to start activities at 8:15 tonight.

SOCCER AT BUNTING PARK TOMORROW

PITCHING WORRIES BUSH

Seeks Star Twirler—Trade Strengthens Team—Has Fighting Club

By BILLY EVANS
"Add another good right-hander to my pitching staff and the club will make plenty of trouble this summer."

There in a few words you have the expert opinion of home bush, who makes his major league debut as manager of the Washington Nationals this year.

"When I say another good right-hander, I mean a pitcher who will continue the distinctive leader."

"I refuse to predict where we will finish, but I am willing to go on record that we will win more ball games than we did last season."

The Nationals finished sixth last year, winning 49 and losing 85 for a percentage of .448.

"What about the deal you made with Boston?"

That will help Nationals.

"It is going to strengthen the Nationals a lot. Deal will help my ball club in many ways. He has the experience, handles his pitchers well, and is the peppy style player that always makes a hit with me. With him and Glavin and some likely looking youngsters I am not worrying about the pitching."

"A lot of the wise guys told me that Allan Russell was through. He never broke that way when I hit against him. He reported in fine shape, is not the farthest advanced of any of my pitchers and will disappoint me unless he turns in many a good game for Washington."

"The Washington infield compares favorably with any other combination in the majors. Judge at first, Harris at second and Peck at short are hard to beat."

MACLEAN TO HANDLE MURPHY IN TITLE BOUT

Problem at Third Base
"Third base looked like the big problem, but since looking over my material, I am not worrying about it. I have Conroy of Minneapolis, Blago, who was with us the greater part of last year, Joe Evans, scored from Cleveland, and Lamotte, who also is a holder."

"Since I will probably figure on Evans more for outfield work, Conroy, because of his experience, has the best chance to start at third base. However, anything can happen between now and the opening of the season to make me change my plans."

"Sam Rice and Gossin are the only members of last year's outfield with the club. For the other position there is Wade and Fisher, as well as several other likely recruits."

"Pitching is every big league manager's greatest worry and it looks as if I wouldn't be any exception to the rule. However, if I could dig up another right-hander I would feel pretty well satisfied."

MACLEAN TO HANDLE MURPHY IN TITLE BOUT

With delegations coming from Lawrence, Nashua, New Bedford and Boston, Matchmaker Conroy Lynch of the Olympic club announced today that he expects a record crowd at Association hall Monday night when Charley Maclean, of New Bedford, holder of the N. E. middleweight championship, and Billy Murphy, Lowell's sensational contender, will meet in a titular match.

The bout has created great interest throughout New England and demands from many points are coming in for reservations. Two hundred fans headed by Mayor Romington, are coming from New Bedford, included in this "girls' city club of the Whiting city. In order to accommodate the latter and other members of the fair sex desirous of attending the bout, a special section will be reserved for them on the ball stage.

Alex Maclean, of Boston, new manager of Billy Murphy, will come to town to handle his protégé. Maclean is confident that the Lowell boy will win, and he is thereby capturing the title. If successful he plans a busy campaign, including bouts in Boston, New York and other places. One of his first, if successful over Murphy, will be a match with Al Shubert, knocking the latter makes 120 pounds.

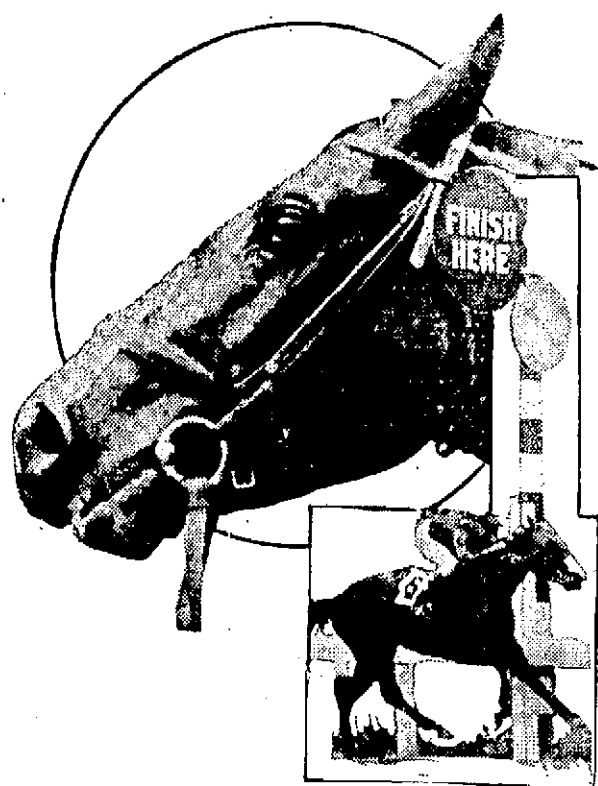

Matchmaker Lynch, while kept busy with the details of the main event, is also giving attention to his preliminary card, and he expects to have a lineup in keeping with the star attraction.

Enchantment Rules Strong Favorite in Kentucky Derby

SALLY'S ALLEY, WELL LIKED IN KENTUCKY DERBY. SHOWN WINNING FIDELITY FUTURE.

Which horse do you like in the Kentucky derby? Followers of the ponies all over the country are asking that question. The winter book which furnishes the advance prices for play on the derby entries offers some interesting data for the form players.

The boys who lay the heavy dough are beginning to make their play apparent by the big change in odds that have taken place on a number of the derby candidates.

Martingale is the derby target. Starting in the winter books at 300 to 1, the play on him has been so great that his price is now quoted at 15 to 1. The winter play on the derby is largely confined to the boys with "heavy sugar," who bet big sums on their supposed inside knowledge.

The pressure on Martingale makes it seem that the alleged "wise guys" like his chances.

Martingale is a colt by Martineau, he made a great showing as a two-year-old, winning six races in fields that contained some of the best youngsters in the country.

No doubt the ability of Martingale to run on any kind of a track has influenced the betting on him. A big, powerful horse, it doesn't matter to him whether the track is fast or sloppy.

McMillin is also getting a strong play. In McMillin seems bent on living up to the promise of the winter college football star of the same name, whose gridiron deeds are fresh in the memory of every football fan.

McMillin in the late play has been backed from 40 to 25 to 1. Duall has dropped from 15 to 12 to 1, while McMillin's price has been backed from 100 to 20 to 1.

Enchantment continues to rule favorite. He is now quoted at 8 to 1.

Other horses to receive a recent strong play in the winter book are Cherry Pie, Goshawk, Bud Lermer, Bright Tomorrow, Blue Sals, Zev, Little Colt, Sally's Alley, Viki and Wilderness.

FOR 18.2 BALKLINE "SHORTSTOP" TITLE

NEW YORK, April 12.—Charles Peterson, of St. Louis, and Albert Cutler, of Chicago, will meet tonight in the first half of the 18.2 balkline "shortstop" championship. The last half of the first block will be played tomorrow night, then they will move to St. Louis for the second block on April 19 and 20.

The title will go to the winner of the two matches. The "shortstop" of balkline is those one pointers who are too good for the club classes and fall just a little short of the championship division.

Peterson has devoted years aiding Willie Hoppe, the champion, and Cutler has given considerable of his time to young Jack Schuster, Hoppe's chief rival.

Champion was sent to a hospital here last night, suffering from a slight concussion of the brain, after he was defeated by John Feneck of Nebraska.

Peterson won the bout in straight falls and gained the right to meet "Strangler" Lewis, titleholder. The veteran Pole collapsed at the beginning of the second fall.

Governor Cox Strongly Urges

the Planting of More Trees on Arbor Day

BOSTON, April 12.—A proclamation was issued yesterday by Gov. Cox designating Saturday, April 28, as Arbor and Bird day and the week of April 22 to 28 as "Forest Protection week." The proclamation follows:

"In justice to the coming generations it is necessary that we turn energetically to the work of reforestation, in order to replenish our wasted timber lands—not alone the reforestation of large tracts of land, but the planting of trees wherever possible, on small city lots, the outstanding results of an agricultural conference of representatives of six New England states held in Boston last January was the unanimously adopted resolution recommending town forests, which has already prompted many towns to start town forests.

"To preserve what remains of our once great forests, every effort must be made to arrest the annual waste by fire and other agencies of destruction. The record of 1922 is startling—when 4100 fires swept over 85,000 acres, causing $200,000 damage, requiring the expenditure of $100,000 to fight them, and taking in their toll five human lives and 123 buildings, to say nothing of destruction of cover for song birds and friendly animal life.

"Therefore, in the hope of stimulating greater activity to protect and to increase our forests, I hereby designate Saturday, the 28th day of April, 1923, as Arbor and Bird day and the week of April 22-28, 1923, as 'Forest Protection week,' and recommend that they be generally observed throughout the Commonwealth by the planting of trees, shrubs and vines.

"This work may well be done, not only on Arbor and Bird day, but throughout the season of planting. Let the children in the schools become interested in this helpful and pleasant work, so that they may better understand Nature and more deeply appreciate the beauty of the great outdoors in which they have had a part in creating and preserving."

WHY RICKEY THINKS CARDINALS WILL WIN

Here are some of the reasons why Manager Branch Rickey, of the St. Louis Cardinals believes his team has a chance for the pennant:

First, Tony is physically in the best condition of his career and will be 20 pounds lighter than at any time during the last five years.

The addition of Bill Myers, who will play center field and fill the gap caused by the death of McHenry.

The certainty that Bill Deak will be a vast improvement over last year when his inability to win with any degree of regularity greatly hurt the Cardinals' pennant chances.

The fact that Dr. Lavan is much improved in health and should be capable of playing his usual high-class game. The assurance that Hehn will be able to fill the bill at short if Lavan should falter.

The belief that Jim Bottomly will play a much improved game both at the bat and in the field, regardless of the first showing he may make.

The knowledge that the Cardinals' secondary defense has been much improved. A ball club is no stronger than its substitutes. Lavan's last year for the want of high-class subs. He seems to have connected a number of them for the coming season.

The feeling that on the whole, the pitching, so essential to a pennant, will show to better advantage. Thereby taking advantage of the batting strength of the Cardinals. Rickey feels that the Cardinals are the strongest club on the offense in the National League.

CANNOT CALL PITCHER A "BIG TRAMP OR BUM"

CHICAGO, April 12.—(By the Associated Press) A golden rule in baseball will prevail with the opening of the western conference championship season today. The games will be conducted this season under a code of "sportsmanship and courtesy instead of rowdiness."

Calling a pitcher a "big tramp" or "big bum" or similar names in an attempt to rattle him, will be regarded as unsportsmanlike, and will not be tolerated either from the players or spectators, according to the code announced by Major John H. Griffith, commissioner of athletics in the western conference.

The code provides that there shall be no remark or action by a player or spectator that reflects directly or indirectly upon the opponent, umpire or pitcher.

MEETING OF LOWELL LIFE UNDERWRITERS

The regular meeting of the Lowell Life Underwriters with John J. McPadden, president, presiding, was held in the usual quarters of the association, Fairburn building yesterday. Lieutenant Michael J. Byron, of the Lawrence police department, was the speaker of the afternoon. Inspector Byron is in charge of the fingerprint division of the bureau of criminal investigation in the Lawrence police department and his work enabled him to give a very interesting talk on the value of the fingerprint system for purposes of identification. He first made it very clear to the gathering that the taking of fingerprints for identification purposes is by no means a modern invention for about 500 years B. C. the Chinese in lieu of signatures to legal documents, used way for the purpose of making an impression of fingerprints which were tattooed on wood and then transferred to whatever surface the permanent record was desired to be made upon.

Lieutenant Byron spoke interestingly of the manner in which the present system in use was introduced into this country, and particularly right here in Lowell. It seems that Sir E. H. Henry, chief of the Metropolitan police of London, England, in the year 1891 reduced the then known science to four distinct patterns, loops, arches, whorls and composites and adopted this system in the London police department with great success. A year or two later at the World's fair held in this country, a representative of his department came to America and met the various chiefs of police departments throughout the country and explained the Henry system to them. At that time, Chief Moffatt was in charge of the Lowell department and was one of those who attended the conference. On his return he brought the system back with him and introduced it into the Lowell police department. It is used in all departments throughout the country and is a positive means of identification.

HENNING HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Man Arrested in Connection
With Killing of Concord,
N. H. Man Lodged in Jail
No Trace of Companion
Actually Charged With Shooting Vernon F. Atkins

CONCORD, N. H., April 12.—As a result of a conference between County Solicitor Herbert W. Kaine and counsel for Francis Henning of Concord, Mass., held here in connection with the slaying of Vernon F. Atkins in his home Wednesday night, it was this morning announced that Henning's confinement is absolute. Counsel for Henning, including Frank A. Batchelder of Exeter, and A. Van Allen Thompson of Boston, expressed satisfaction with the disposition of the case today.

Not a trace of the man known only as "Reilly" and "Brian" has been discovered by police authorities who have spread a net throughout New Hampshire in hope of capturing the escaped man.

Officer Edward Silva, of the Concord police department, and local finger print expert left this morning for Boston, carrying the gun with which the murder of Atkins was committed.

The gun will be presented to Boston authorities for inspection and the taking of finger prints. He is given full authority for conference with Boston police authorities and action with respect to apprehension of the murderer.

Henning was committed to the Merrimack county jail for safe keeping. He is held without bail.

FEWER REQUESTS FOR ASSISTANCE

Miss Alice M. Bell, general secretary of the Social Service league, reports that the coming of warmer weather and increased activities in most of the industries in Lowell has lessened the demands on the league considerably.

This past winter has been one of the worst in the history of the city from the standpoint of charity and social service workers, and the calls for relief have been almost too heavy to handle, but the coming of spring has lightened the work of most of these societies and they are now enjoying their first breathing spell since the advent of winter.

At the time of the let-up is given them an opportunity to straighten out their records and prepare for summer relief and educational work.

BRITISH-AMERICAN BAND REHEARSAL

The regular weekly rehearsal of the British American Brass band was held last evening at the Free church in Middlesex street, under the direction of Richard McFadden. The committee has made the final arrangements for the potato pie supper and entertainment which is to be held on Saturday evening in Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street. All members of the band are requested to be present. Supper at 6:30, entertainment at 7:30. The next band rehearsal will be held on Friday evening, April 20, at 7:30 instead of Thursday, Patriots Day.

PUTTING GIRDERS IN POSITION

One of the 27-inch I girders, weighing 4200 pounds, was placed in position at the postoffice yesterday afternoon and the other two that are to be placed will most likely be put in today. These heavy beams form the main support of the new floor and as soon as they are anchored the shorter steel girders and wooden beams that form the longwise support for the floor will rapidly be riveted and bolted into position, and then the floors may be laid. Two floorings are to be placed over the beams, one a heavy maple or oak flooring and the other a thinner finish flooring.

Merrimack Valley Superintendents Meet

The stories were illustrated by black-board drawings by various students. The morning exercises were brought to a close with a demonstration of the methods of teaching citizenship by a group of students from the Project club, which is experiencing its first season in the school. The participants in the symposium were attractively seated in groups of various colors and each delivered a verse or vice as the occasion required. Those taking part were the following:

Virtues—Misses Helen Barrett, Mary Gerrity, Beatrice Lynch, Mary Keller, Clara Marchess, Dorothy Hill, Margaret Johnson, Elizabeth O'Donovan, Anna Curry, Sarah Connolly, Elaine Mulligan.

Vices—Misses Katherine Fitzgerald, Catherine McCann, Beatrice Devine, Sarah Lyons, Helen Powell, Helen Murphy, Evelyn Hyde, Helen Hession, Martina Davis, Margaret O'Sullivan, Edna Luddy.

A business meeting, presided over by Eugene B. Vining, was held during the noon period and this was followed by a luncheon. In the afternoon the session was resumed and consisted of a general discussion of the method of purchasing supplies. The chief speaker on this topic was Mr. Henry L. Williams, business agent of the local school department.

Miss Damon Elected Vice President of National Music Supervisors' Association

MISS INEZ FIELD DAMON.

The newly elected officer has been connected with the State Normal school here for a number of years and has gained national recognition as a student and teacher of music. Since taking up her duties in Lowell, Miss Damon had made remarkable headway and has organized many special classes in individual and community singing, which, under her competent instruction, met with unusual success. She has also interested herself in university extension work as applied to music and through public and private recitals and lectures, she has succeeded in developing the musical life of the city to a remarkable degree. Her election to the vice presidency of the national association, composed of music teachers from every state in the Union, is a signal honor, but one richly deserved.

COUNSEL DEFENDS HOUSE OF DAVID

First Public Statement Issued
to Refute Charge Made Against Organization

Lawyer Dewhurst Ridicules
Proposal That Receiver Be Appointed

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., April 12.—(By the Associated Press) In the first public statement issued by the Israelite House of David to refute charges made against the organization, H. T. Dewhurst, member of and counsel for the organization, ridiculed the proposal that a receiver be appointed for the organization.

The state legislature now is considering a bill that would permit the naming of a receiver for the colony. Mr. Dewhurst charged legislators interested in bills unfavorably to the colony were "playing politics."

"The colony has no creditors, pays its own bills, attends to its own business and is not trying to run anyone else's business," the statement said. "And where does all this talk and slander about Benjamin Parnell come from? Not one word of it from the thousand contented members of the House of David. Does any sensible person believe Benjamin and Mary would command the love and respect of these thousand members if one-tenth of what has been published were true? We all know the charges are false and that is why there is no commotion in the House of David."

Returning to the receivership question, Mr. Dewhurst asked: "Does the public believe we are a bunch of rules, just born yesterday? The House of David doesn't intend to be scared by any such procedure."

CLEAN-UP PROCLAMATION

Attention has been frequently called in this state and city to the great importance of maintaining clean and sanitary conditions in and around our homes and in all business and public places, in order that pestilence and disease may be warded off and our fair city be made a cleaner and better place in which to live. Spring is a time when the great care and attention should be given to the removal of the winter accumulation of debris, dirt and filth which, if left in such a condition, may become a breeding place of flies and source of disease. In every community attention is being called to this matter in order that civic pride may be aroused and attention directed to the necessity of cleaning our homes, our yards and premises, streets and alleys. Now, therefore, in order to bring about the accomplishment of the purpose indicated by the Board of Public Service, we request that April 18-20 be set aside as preliminary days of cleaning up week for the City of Lowell and do urge all citizens and residents of this city to lend all possible effort toward making the work of cleaning and renovating so thorough that at the end of time designated our city shall in all respects be one of the cleanest and most sanitary cities in the commonwealth. The people of Lowell are requested not only to clean their premises but also to assist the Department of Streets and Highways in cleaning the gutters in front of their premises and collect debris in proper containers to be later removed by the Department of Ashes and Waste collection.

DENNIS J. MURPHY,
FRED G. LEARY,
GEORGE BOWERS,

DEPARTMENTAL APPROPRIATION

City Auditor Daniel E. Martin is at work upon a comprehensive schedule of departmental appropriations tending to show average expenditures for the first quarter of the year and credits based upon a pro-rated monthly basis. Although the report will not be ready before the first of next week, it is understood that general increase is "good," with deficits showing only in departments which have been hard hit by the severity of winter.

UNEMPLOYMENT ON DECREASE IN LOWELL

BOSTON, April 12.—An increased demand for the competent farm labor, and a generally healthy industrial employment condition are reported by the employment service of the United States department of labor, in an analysis of industrial employment and unemployment in New England for March, made public yesterday.

"The following cities showed a decrease in the number of unemployed as compared with the previous month: Lowell, Springfield, Worcester, New Bedford, Brockton, Lawrence, Providence, Manchester, N. H., Bridgeport, Conn., Waterbury, Conn., New Haven, Conn."

"Fall River was the only city in the New England states that showed an increase in unemployment for March over that of February."

In use when that proposition was advanced. No one will argue now, however, that the high school, with its splendid equipment and accommodations, is not necessary.

"The sanitary conditions at the Edison school are a disgrace to the city," declared the councilman. "And I know of no other district that would have tolerated them for such a length of time. As a member of the finance committee you can put me down in favor of a new school. I am not competent to say how much a new building ought to cost or how large it should be. That is something for the school committee to decide, but the proposition as a whole has my unqualified support, for I look upon it as a public necessity and one which intimately concerns the health and safety of hundreds of growing boys and girls."

Speaking further on the subject, Councilor Hennessey said he felt that the Edison school problem is one of the biggest and most important questions facing the council this year, "and one which must be faced, if we are to further our educational program and keep our public school system on a proper plane of efficiency."

Councilor Hennessey's statement in regard to the proposition advanced for a new school building in the South End district is particularly interesting, inasmuch as it is the first expression from any member of the council upon the matter.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 12.—Paul Sheldon and George Mychrest, treasurer and vice-president, respectively, of Buck & Sheldon, civil engineers, and Edward J. Vaughan, engineer employed by the firm, were arrested on bench warrants today, charged with causing the deaths of 10 men through the collapse of the tower of the factory of the Fuller Brush Co., on Windsor avenue, March 31. The three were released under $5000 bonds each and the trial has been set for the June term of the criminal court.

ARMORER RYAN OF LAW- RENCE HONORED

LAWRENCE, April 12.—Sergeant John P. Ryan, who has been armorer at the Lawrence armory since it was built 30 years ago, was given a testimonial in the State armory last night. Nearly 900 men were gathered for the banquet, and in addition to the several speakers, letters of congratulation were read from Gov. Channing Cox, Vice President Calvin Coolidge, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and David I. Walsh.

In behalf of the assembly Leonard B. Huntington presented Mr. Ryan a purse of money. The amount was not mentioned, but it is understood to be in the vicinity of $3000.

Attorney John P. Kane, a life long friend of the armorer's, and a former military man and veteran of the Spanish war, was the toastmaster. Among the speakers were Col. Charles F. Sargent of this city, who presided, President Frank G. Allen, of the Massachusetts senate; Mayor Daniel W. Mahoney, Congressman William P. Connery of Lynn; Brig. Gen. Gardner W. Pearson of Lowell; Judge Louis S. Cox, Capt. William H. Higgins of this city, Rev. Donald B. Gerlish, Andrew Gritlin, Jr., Rev. J. T. O'Leary, and Hartley L. Calvert, commander of Lawrence Post, A.L.

Through war and through peace Armorer Ryan has been the same tireless worker and he has befriended many. At the time of the Spanish war he was very active, and there was no one happier than he when the boys came home.

LOCAL INSURANCE MEN MAKE MERRY

The third gathering of the season of the local representatives of the Lowell agency of the John Hancock insurance company, was held last night in the agency rooms in the Fairbank building. An excellent turkey dinner was followed by a delightful informal program of music to which Miss Catherine Cranock, Mrs. Kowalewski, Hattie B. Leggat, Frank Golden, Harry Pascale, Miss Estelle Doran and George Smith contributed generously.

A team of representatives captained by Dr. J. E. Nolette, were hosts of the evening as a result of the business competition and Dr. Nolette presented prizes won by the opposing team members to Captain Burton H. Elms.

The committee in charge of the gathering included P. P. Quinn, Robert A. Kennedy and Daniel Doran and J. J. Wiley, assistant superintendents.

REAL ESTATE SALES AGGREGATING MORE THAN $140,000 MADE BY LOCAL DEALERS

Real estate sales aggregating more than $140,000 were reported today by local dealers. They comprise cottages and dwelling houses in various parts of the city and represent one of the largest turn-overs in real estate circles for some time. The real estate business is at its peak in Lowell just now and members of the local estate exchange predict that at the rate transactions are being made, this year bids fair to push 1922, which was a record-breaker.

Edward K. Shattuck, Jr., secretary of the exchange, has made a record for himself in the past six days by selling a whole street, consisting of seven 8-room cottages. These cottages are located in Litchfield terrace off Walker street and were owned by Dr. Samuel Patenaude. They are of modern construction, with steam and electricity and all the latest improvements. The sale of the seven houses aggregated about $32,000. The names of the purchasers will not be made public for a few days.

Another large sale was that of the building containing 10 tenements and 12 stores located at 158-176 Chelmsford street, owned by Israel Strimberg. The property includes 12,000 square feet of land and was sold for approximately $35,000. The sale was effected through the office of George Deloriers. Other sales reported today came through the office of Michael Realties and were as follows:

The property located at 183-185 Hall street and 94-98 Tucker street, consisting of 18 tenements and one store, as well as 7605 square feet of land, owned by Joseph Dandaneau, was sold to Alfred Goulet of Lawrence at a price of approximately $29,000.

The three-tenement block with 12-car garage and milk shed located at 179 Ludlum street, and owned by Narcisse Clermont, was sold to Henri Roussel at a price of $35,000. The land area of this property is about 16,000 square feet.

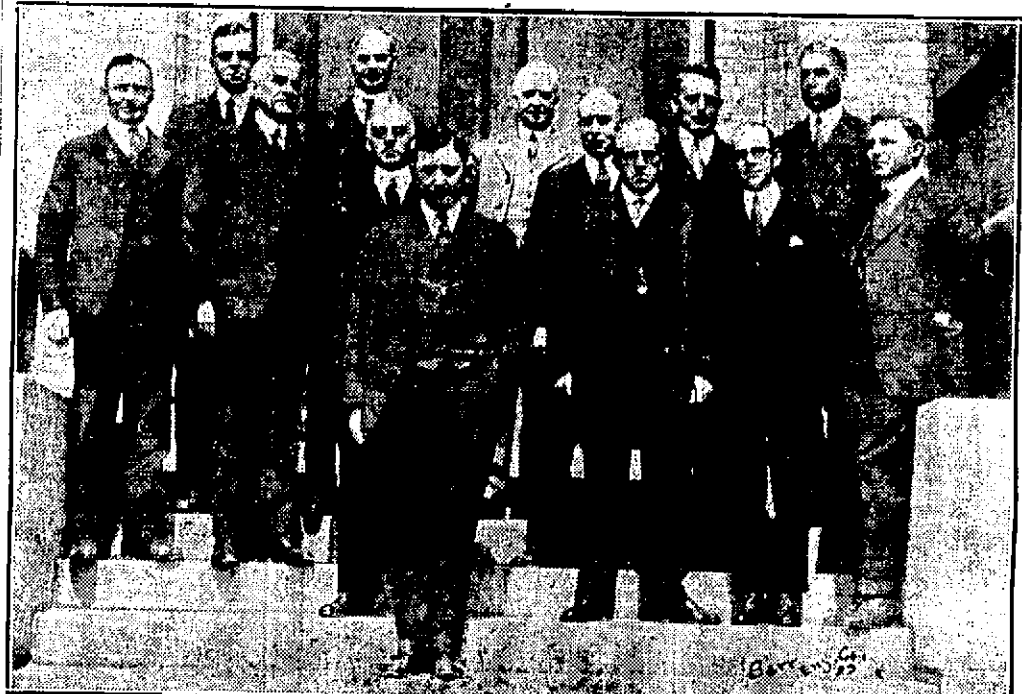

Telephore Franette has purchased from A. Antouran the two-tenement house and three-car garage at the corner of Ayon street and Seventh avenue for $7,000.

The large tenement property located at 109-119 Cheever street with 10,000 square feet of land, owned by Marshall & Tupper of Lawrence, has been sold to Rochette Mortafas for approximately $20,000. The building contains 20 tenements and one store.

Marshall & Tupper of Lawrence have purchased from Oscar Layola a nine-tenement block located at 31 Exchange street. The sale price is said to be in the vicinity of $30,000.

Herve Clement has purchased from Frank Prescott the double house and 6,000 square feet of land at the corner of Reiser and Carolyn streets at a price approximately $45,000.

The annual spring meeting of the Merrimack Valley Superintendents' Association was held at the Lowell State Normal school today, interesting sessions being held morning and afternoon with the following school authorities present: Clarence M. Weed, principal of the Lowell Normal school, who entertained the visitors; Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of Lowell schools; John Bacon of Townsend; C. L. Randall of Dracut; G. B. Clarke of Pepperell; Ralph R. Barr of Wilmington; Charles H. Ennes of Billerica; Frederick W. Porter of Stoneham; Adelbert L. Safford of Reading; C. H. Walker of Chelmsford; F. C. Johnson of Ayer; W. H. Drechsler of the B. B. Habb Co., and President Eugene B. Vining of Billerica.

The day's program opened in the main auditorium of the school, Principal Weed announcing the first exercises, a demonstration of physical education by the class of Ruth M. Bailey, showing the progressive steps in physical education as taught in the elementary schools. The class was conducted by Miss Edith M. Hernton, who directed the members in playing fascinating games, including bean bag, dumbbell and basketball while the superintendents looked on and voiced their approval.

The second event on the program was a discussion of the results of intelligence tests recently carried on in the school under the direction of Miss Amelia Peters, teacher of education and psychology. Miss Peters was aided in her talk by a chart showing the Ter-

LAWRENCE MFG. CO. WILLING TO GIVE LAND TO THE CITY FOR CORNER WIDENING

Mayor John J. Donovan is satisfied that the only proper solution to the traffic problem at Hall and Aiken streets is the adoption of a plan whereby two corners will be sliced off for a depth of 10 or more feet, one of which would be land now owned by the Lawrence Mfg. Co., which Agent E. H. Walker will give to the city without cost. Widening in this manner would be sufficient to remove the element of danger, it is felt.

Before viewing the corner yesterday in company with the board of public service and the finance committee of the city council, the mayor was under the impression that the Lawrence Co. wall might well be moved back 40 or 50 feet and the problem solved in that way. An investigation of the property has changed his opinion, however, and he now looks with favor upon a tentative plan embracing a plan which will effect a saving of approximately $10,000 from the original order which called for the expenditure of $20,000. Although the mayor voiced the original order he said at that time he did not mean he was against any remedial measure for the corner in question, but was of the opinion the necessary results could be attained for a smaller expenditure of money.

It is probable that in connection with whatever plan of widening is adopted flashing traffic beacons will be installed to lessen the speed of motor vehicles rounding the corner.

DRUNK CRAZED WORCESTER MAN STABS DAUGHTER, ATTACKS WIFE AND ENDS OWN LIFE

WORCESTER, April 13.—Oscar T. Carlson, a rope maker in the Quinsigamond Wire Mill, returned to his home here this morning after his night's work in a crazed condition from moonshine, stabbed his four-year-old daughter in the head and ~~attempted~~ so that she will probably die, tried to stab his wife and drove her almost naked into the street, and then cut his own throat and attempted to hang himself. When the police arrived he was barely breathing and the officers cut him down. He died on the way to the hospital.

HENNESSEY STRONG FOR SOUTH END SCHOOL

Councillor James F. Hennessey, a member of the city council committee on finance, emphatically declares himself for a new grammar school in the South End district to replace the ancient Edson school building and to place under one roof pupils now attending half a dozen or more smaller schools in the same general neighborhood.

BOOTLEGGERS' CORSETS Latest Styles Displayed, One Has Faucets, Other Rubber Hose Siphon

BOSTON, April 13.—Latest styles in bootleggers' corsets were displayed by the police today as a result of a raid on a tenement house in the North End, where a quantity of moonshine was seized. There are two models. Each is a two-partition tin garment of two gallon capacity, shaped to the body and held in position under the coat by shoulderstraps. One has faucets at the bottom to pour liquor into a glass. The other has a rubber hose to siphon the stuff through openings in the top.

SHOT DOWN BUT HELD PAYROLL

PHILADELPHIA, April 13.—John C. Embargo, vice president and general manager of Fred A. Havens & Co., contractors, was shot today by three young men in an unsuccessful attempt to rob him of a $2500 payroll. He is in a serious condition with bullet wounds in his back. Before the assaults could rob him, two policemen jumped off a trolley car and pursued them as they escaped on foot.

JAMES F. HENNESSEY

Edson school and they are ambitious," said the councillor today, "and I am convinced of the absolute necessity of a new building. Adequate, sanitary, well adapted school buildings are essential in any community which desires to prosper and retain happiness and contentment and I am ready to lend whatever support I can to push the measure to a successful issue."

"Some will call the erection of a big school building in the South End district this year an ambitious step," he continued, "but the same might well have been said in connection with the beautiful new high school building now under construction."

SUDDEN DEATH TODAY OF PRIEST FACES MURDER CHARGE

Rev. Chas. Dillon Admits Killing Rev. Henry O'Neill, Kalamazoo Pastor

Prosecuting Attorney Wattles Preparing to Issue Order for Warrant

KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 13.—Prosecuting Attorney Stephen H. Wattles announced today that he was preparing to issue an order for a warrant charging the Rev. Father Charles Dillon with murder in connection with the slaying last night of Father Henry O'Neill, pastor of St. Augustine's Catholic church here.

"Under Father Dillon's own sworn statement, I can do nothing but charge him with murder," the prosecutor said. "I will before God and pray that something would happen to the man." Father Dillon was quoted as saying in a statement made to Prosecutor Wattles. He was being questioned in the presence of a stenographer. The statement at times was disconnected and contained numerous repetitions. "I had no right to kill Father O'Neill; not one right in the world," the statement said. "I took that in my own hands and I killed him. I want to go to Jackson (the state prison). I never did any harm in my life; never took a cent from anybody. The gentle little children all over Michigan will tell you they love me."

Asked how long he had possessed the revolver, Father Dillon said: "Not very long."

"Did you purchase it for the purpose," asked the prosecutor.

"Yes, for the purpose," replied the priest, "conditionally for the purpose. Not absolutely to say it was going to happen; I hoped it would not."

Charles H. Treatment
KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 13.—Four bullets from a revolver brought tragedy to the priests' house of St. Augustine parish last night, when Rev. Fr. Charles Dillon, assistant pastor, and member of the Carthusian Fathers order, shot and killed his superior, Rev. Father Henry O'Neill, pastor of the parish who had ordered him from the house.

The killing of Father O'Neill culminated what Rev. Fr. Dillon told police was "13 months of ill-treatment," during which, he said, Father O'Neill

CHANCE TO BE A PHILANTHROPIST

Got an odd idea? Is it in compliance with your schedule of philanthropies to help out a worthy cause affecting the happiness of several charming young women?

If so, the next time you go to the office of the board of assessors to seek an abatement of your property assessment, just slip 10 cents to the clerk who serves you. She will not look upon it as a tip, but will hurry to place it in the little box which already jingles and jangles merrily when silver meets tin.

Every year the attitudes of the assessing department set aside one summer day for a shore outing and what is an outing without generous patronage of pleasure resort concessions?

Last year there seemed to be a stringency in the money market. This year no such condition will maintain. Therefore, the campaign for dime.

The cause is worthy. Give it your support and maybe you will be invited to share in the fun. Maybe!

PROBE OF SUGAR CONSPIRACY CHARGES

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Early developments in the department of justice investigation of the sugar conspiracy charges, were forecast today upon the return from New York of Acting Attorney General Seymour. Soon after arriving at his office, Mr. Seymour went to the White House and is understood to have conveyed to President Harding the information secured thus far in the inquiry.

It was indicated that the department of justice agents in New York had secured considerable valuable evidence. It was indicated today that the tariff commission's expected visit to the White House late today to discuss with President Harding the sugar situation would be postponed, probably until about the middle of next week.

How To Sleep
3-IN-A-BED

YES, it CAN be done—but not like this.

The trouble is, most people go to bed with "something" on the mind—or ON THE STOMACH!

The answer is, no matter what the day has brought forth to upset your mind and digestive organs, take Beecham's Pills when you retire.

Though in no sense a "sleeping potion," this 80-years-famous household medicine so harmonizes the system that you can sleep in quiet and perfect rest, even in two feet of bed space.

Beecham's Pills are as efficient and harmless for children as for adults—sweetening the stomach, invigorating digestion and stirring liver and bowels to natural activity.

JUST 10 YEARS AGO—

ON APRIL 9, 1913, we opened our new market on Merrimack Square. Just think of the tremendous changes in the world's history in those ten years—methods of doing business then are entirely changed today. Volume of sales at small profits is today the rule. People are getting more for their money today in proportion than they ever did. Our business has been built on a foundation of Quality and Service at a profit that is fair to all. You cannot get goods for nothing and you cannot expect to get the best for the price of the poorest. We claim our Quality is the best obtainable and costs but little more than the medium grade. It is fair to compare—and that is where we gain. Prof. Cad.

19 PERSONS DROWNED

Bishop, Two Nuns and 17 Others Lost Lives When Boat Sank in Storm

MEXICO CITY, April 12.—The bishop of Belice (Belice Honduras) two nuns and seventeen other passengers were drowned when a motor boat carrying them to Pava Odispo, territory of Quilana Roo, Mexico, sank on Wednesday during a sudden storm, according to delayed advices reaching here last night. Fifty other persons are reported to have been saved. Further details are lacking.

MUSICAL TO AID MISSIONARY FUND

The diversified musicals by William C. Heller, pianist and organist at the St. Anne's church, assisted by the church choir of 20 well trained voices, charmed the gathering of music lovers, who crowded the small hall of the parish last evening. The proceeds of the concert were used to help the missionary fund of the Episcopal church.

Mr. Heller, by his skillful playing, held the attention of his audience throughout the well balanced program. Numbers by the church choir and soloists, intermittently appeared in the program, at the proper intervals, to win proper recognition from the audience. The selections by the choir of 20 voices, trained by Mr. Heller, deserve particular mention. The singers were honored repeatedly, but owing to the length of the program, these were limited. In the first group of selections, "Come Let Me Know At Thy Feet" was interpreted in a manner which won the instant approval of the audience.

The work of the soloists, John Brooks, tenor, and Frank Alden bass, in the above number, was exceptionally good. The "Bridal Chorus" by Wagner, in the second group of selections, served as a fitting climax to the well arranged musical treat.

LOWELL ORCHESTRAL SOCIETY CONCERT

Lovers of good music can look forward to a very pleasant evening in listening to the works of great masters as performed by the Lowell Orchestral society at Colonial hall next Wednesday evening April 18 at 8 p.m. The society is composed of about 40 musicians, fully capable of interpreting the ideas of the most famous composers.

The moderate price of admission to this concert should appeal to everybody interested in music, inasmuch as the society feels that the public welcomes an opportunity to hear good music.

In connection with the concert, the society will be assisted by Miss Hazel Truitt, contralto, a young lady who now is employed in one of our local churches. She is well recommended by musical critics of this city.

All in all this concert should prove one of the musical events of the season. Tickets may be had of the members also on sale at Steinert's and Kershaw's Music Store.

FOR BRADFORD ACADEMY

Lowell Girl Chairman of District for $500,000 Endowment Fund

Miss Mary Cameron, 225 Wilder street, Lowell, has accepted chairmanship of the Framingham district, for a $500,000 building and endowment fund campaign for Bradford Academy, Bradford, Mass., plans for which were announced today by Dr. Raymond Perkins, of Cambridge, national chairman of the campaign organization.

The campaign opens May 2 and will last two weeks. A quota of $275 is expected to be given or secured by each Bradford alumna. Of the half million it is hoped to raise, $250,000 will be used for buildings, including a separate dormitory to the girls of the preparatory division, and the balance will be devoted to permanent endowment of which Bradford now has practically none. Renovation of the old building also is planned.

Bradford Academy has the distinction of being the oldest institution of higher learning for women in the United States. It was founded in 1803. Under its present program two years of collegiate and three years of preparatory work is offered.

One hundred and thirty-five girls from Maine to California are enrolled in the school this year.

The present unrest is attributed to tension between the Hindus and Mohammedans, as a result of proselyting activities on the part of both. A riot occurred on Wednesday, in which a score of persons were injured, and British troops were called to support the police. Street fighting between the rival factions again broke out on Thursday. British cavalry and armored cars have been brought from Lahore to strengthen the local troops.

The Amritsar correspondent of the Daily Mail reports that 10 persons were injured in yesterday's outbreak.

"HAMMER MURDERESS" MAY BE IN GUATEMALA

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—Belief that Mrs. Clara Phillips, "hammer murderess," who escaped from jail Dec. 5, had fled to Latin-America, was strengthened last night when Louis D. Oaks, chief of police received from Guatemala the following cablegram:

"What does Clara Phillips look like?" (Signed) "SHARP." Mrs. Phillips beat Mrs. Alberta Tremaine Meadows, 30-year-old widow, to death last July, on a lone road in an outlying part of the city.

K. OF C. TEAM IN TWILIGHT LEAGUE

It is announced that the Knights of Columbus will have a team in the Twilight League this year. Joseph Duffy, athletic director of the council, heads the committee in charge of the ball club and has a fine list of aspirants for the team.

Lawrence Council Knights of Columbus, will pay a visit to the Twilight League on Monday evening, April 23, at which time the prowess and skill of both sides will be tested in checkers, chess, bridge, whist, forty-five, pool and billiards. This is the first opportunity Lowell has had to entertain any considerable number of men from other cities in such tournaments, heretofore accommodations being quite limited. The facilities now at the club are especially fine, hence a fine time is looked for. Dr. James F. Gaffney, James J. Molloy, Michael F. Maloney, George F. Brigan and George H. McCabe constitute the committee in charge of arrangements. A similar tournament will be held with Nashua council in the near future.

BISHOP TUTTLE GROWS WEAKER ST. LOUIS, April 12.—Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle, critically ill of grippe, continues to decline. Attending physicians say he is growing weaker hourly and that death may come any moment.

WOMEN VOTERS' LEAGUE

Final Action on Program of Measures, Policies and Activities

DES MOINES, Ia., April 12.—Final action on the program of measures, policies and activities of the National League of Women Voters for the coming year was taken today. There was every indication that it would be adopted without further debate.

A heated discussion occurred yesterday over that section of the uniform laws concerning women relating to division of property, but it finally was agreed to as drafted by the resolutions committee. The detailed section provides that the state organizations shall work for laws which would make men and women share equally all money and property acquired after marriage.

Greetings from Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, one of the founders of the league and a native of Iowa, who is absent, were read at today's session by Miss Elizabeth Babcock of Waterville, Conn. Miss Babcock also read a report from Mrs. Catt on the progress made by the Pan-American Association for Advancement of Women. Mrs. Catt and Miss Babcock recently completed a tour of South and Central America.

JAPANESE BUY SUGAR IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 12.—Japanese importers are the latest foreign buyers to come into the local sugar market. Two cargoes, totalling 12,000 tons, sold today for June shipment for six cents a pound, f. o. b., Cuba, were said to be for Japanese interests.

Canadian and British importers have been heavy buyers in the last two weeks.

OCEAN YACHT RACE

HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 12.—(By the Associated Press.) Preparations have begun for the ocean yacht race from the United States to Bermuda on June 12 next. The American entries, has arrived here on a preliminary cruise over the course, and to see that all necessary preparations are made.

The start will be from New London, Conn., and with fair weather, it is estimated the run will be within four days.

MOVING TO THE HIGH SCHOOL ANNEX

The second year electrical class at the Vocational school is moving this afternoon to the former high school annex known as the "coop." This move is necessary as the electrical department at the Vocational school was practically ruined by the fire which destroyed the old portion of the building about a week ago.

Other departments of the school will remain in the old building, crowding into the rooms that were not damaged by the fire. The automobile department, situated on the first floor of the old building, is probably the worst affected. There is no roof over that part of the building and the first rain is likely to seep down through the ceiling and make work there an impossibility. The carpenter shop is also handicapped as all its machinery was put out of commission. They now buy finished lumber, or work their lumber at the high school annex.

WELLSBORO, Pa., April 12.—Friday the 12th, has no special significance in the life of Stephen Yocco, who, at the age of 102 years, purchased a fishing license and prepared to enjoy the waters of Tioga county, Pennsylvania.

Priest Faces Murder Charge

"treated me like a little boy, and assumed toward me the attitude of a czar." Father Dillon, who is being held, told police that the tragedy was the climax of the evening meal. Father O'Neill, his assistant, and Father McCullough were at the table, he said. Father O'Neill ordered Dillon to go upstairs and "pack his grip." Instead, Father Dillon went to his room, obtained a revolver and returned to the dining-room.

"I intended to give him a chance to confess and repent before I killed him," police report Father Dillon as saying, "but as I advanced into the room, with the revolver extended, I saw him grab a salt cellar to throw at me and I fired twice."

As the priest's body slumped to the floor, Father Dillon, according to his story, gave Father McCullough a phial containing holy oils, and told him to administer the sacrament of extreme unction at once.

Truth. We were eating. He told me to get out. The last thing he said was: 'Pack up and go.' I said: 'All right, I will go.' I did go and pack up and he didn't like the packing in my hand. I pulled the gun and, bang, bang, he got it right here (pointing to the lower abdomen). He said: 'I'm shot, father, I'm shot.' Right in the midst of that he seized the salt cellar to throw at me; bang, bang; he dropped against the window."

Believes Slayer Insane
CHICAGO, April 12.—Bishop Michael J. Gallagher, bishop of Detroit, who was notified in Chicago that Father Dillon had killed Father O'Neill at Kalamazoo, advanced the opinion that the Rev. Father Dillon was unbalanced mentally. Father Dillon had been noted for his oddities, Bishop Gallagher said.

In accepting the resignation the board of trustees adopted resolutions which said the school of medicine had had a remarkable growth under Dean Sutherland.

WAGE INCREASE

WASHINGTON, April 12.—A new adopted as its policy the decision that would result from the approval by the Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of a report on the subject placed before him by the wage board headed by Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss. The board is understood to have adopted as its policy the decision that would result from the approval by the Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of a report on the subject placed before him by the wage board headed by Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss. Mr. Roosevelt is expected to act this week, although the revised scales may not go into effect before the end of the fiscal year.

As an example of the effect of Zonite, the World War antiseptic, when applied to slow healing wounds, we publish the following letter from Mrs. Martina Brown, Roxbury, Mass.

"Many weeks ago I burned my arm. I did not give it proper attention and it developed into a nasty and aggravating condition which became very much infected. My whole arm was swollen, swollen and inflamed. I was suffering such pain that I was afraid blood poison was about to set in. I began using Zonite in a 1 to 3 solution, sanding the arm and pouring the solution on the bandage. I was astonished how quickly the pain and inflammation left.

Results: Zonite is a powerful yet non-poisonous form of antiseptic that saved the lives of hundreds of thousands of desperately wounded men in the allied hospitals. Reports from all sections of the country show that the antiseptic is accomplishing the same marvels in peace that it did in war.

Zonite, although non-irritating and healing, has twice the germicidal strength of pure carbolic acid and six times the strength of peroxide of hydrogen. It has a hundred uses in the home—Adv.

WOOLEN WORKERS
HOLD OPEN MEETING

James Starr, International vice-president of the United Textile Workers of America, whose home is in Paterson, N. J., but for the past year or so has been located at Manchester, N. H., was the principal speaker at an open meeting of the woolen workers of the city, which was held last evening in Trades and Labor hall, Central street, under the auspices of the Woolen Spinners' union.

In the course of his address, which dealt with textile conditions throughout New England, Mr. Starr sounded a note of warning to the operatives, telling them that in his opinion when the present rush in the mills subsides, there will be a drop in wages much lower than the increase recently given.

Mr. Starr said there is only one way to avoid such a calamity in textile mills and that is for the operatives to become organized. He told of last year's strikes throughout New England and said this fight against a wage reduction was won only through the efforts of organized labor. The speaker urged all mill workers to join some local of the United Textile Workers of America so that they may be in readiness when the clash comes.

Miss Doran is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Doran of 354 Princeton street. She won high praise as a singer at her high school graduation and at many local musical events. Miss Lotta Crabtree, One of Richest Women in Boston, Recovers From Illness

BOSTON, April 12.—Miss Lotta Crabtree, 30 years ago known throughout the country as Lotta, comedy actress, has recovered from a severe illness and is able to go outdoors again daily. Miss Crabtree, who after her retirement from the stage developed large real estate holdings, for many years has lived in a suite in the Hotel Brewster in this city, which she owns. She is reported to be one of the most wealthy women in this city. She was born in New York in 1817 and her stage career began when she was seven years old.

F. McGreevey and James McCann are hereby commended for their work on March 18, 1923, in arresting William J. Allard on a charge of assault with intent to rape. In this case the officers used excellent judgment in following the clue which led to a very important arrest.

Special order No. 12.—Officer William Pury is hereby commended for the arrest of Frederick Szelela on April 7, 1923, a drunken man armed with a revolver and from whom his wife had fled in terror. The promptness in the rescue and the courage displayed is worthy of emulation by every member in the department.

AT THE LINCOLN SCHOOL

Excellent Comedy Presented by Abraham Lincoln School Athletic Association

A large audience gathered in the hall of the Abraham Lincoln school last evening to encourage the Abraham Lincoln Athletic association in their presentation of the comedy, "The Master of His House," written for them by H. Murray Cummings, master of the school.

Their work showed unusual dramatic ability, especially that of Rosalie Greenbaum, as Kara, the mystic; Phyllis Webster, as the master of his house; Alice Mellen, his nagging wife; Hazel Lebowitz, his determined mother-in-law; and Moses Lightman, the unbeliever of King Tut's power. A burlesque of King Tut's power, the comedy of Henry Harris, the attendant of Kara, the mystic, caused great merriment.

The costumes were designed and made by Mabel Gennell, and the decorations by Anthony Cunha and Ed. Wingood, the dancers trained by Mabel Gennell, and accompanied by Esther Thomas, A.L.A.A. '23.

The comedy was repeated this afternoon for the children of the school. The proceeds are to be devoted to the promotion of athletics in the school.

WOULD INCREASE PRICE OF COAL HERE
Gov. Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts has written a letter to Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania in which he protests the governor's action concerning the one and one-half per cent tax on coal shipped out of that state.

A short time ago the lower house of the Pennsylvania legislature favored a 500 per cent increase in the tax on coal, which would have put Pennsylvania where she is today, and that the result will be a wide breach in the relations between that state and such states as are compelled to buy their coal there. In the concluding paragraph of his letter he says, "I earnestly hope that Pennsylvania may lead the way in establishing better relations between states by repealing the direct tonnage tax on coal."

While Pennsylvania might lose in revenue, I am sure her people would derive far greater satisfaction in the realization that they had led the way in right settlement of a question which may otherwise precipitate a national calamity.

The Greater Wilkes Barre chamber of commerce has written Governor Cox praising him for his stand on the tax question, so it seems that the tax is not favored even by the business men of Pennsylvania.

This tax is of the utmost importance to people in Lowell as well as in other cities and states in New England as it adds materially to the price of coal, and converted pressure must be brought to bear on the Pennsylvania legislature and governor before the relations between states by repealing coal can be affected.

Four British Birdmen in Four-Cornered Race To Circumnavigate the Globe by Air

By NEA Service
LONDON, April 12.—Starting to become the Magellans of the air, four British birdmen will hop off within a few weeks here in a quadrangular race to complete the first flight around the world.
It was in 1492-1493 when a handful of the sailors who had started out with Christopher Columbus, Portuguese navigator, sailed out of Seville and completed the first circumnavigation of the globe after more than three years of cruising.
Today these four British expeditions will try with ships of the air to duplicate the achievement of the Magellan cruise:
One: The expedition of Sir Keith Smith.
Two: That headed by Alan J. Cobham.
Three: A project in which H. H. McIntosh, Captain Tynna and Captain A. McCleughry will be associated.
Four: An expedition headed by Captain Norman MacMillan.
All four contestants plan to start into this month or early next month.
Ground Carefully Laid

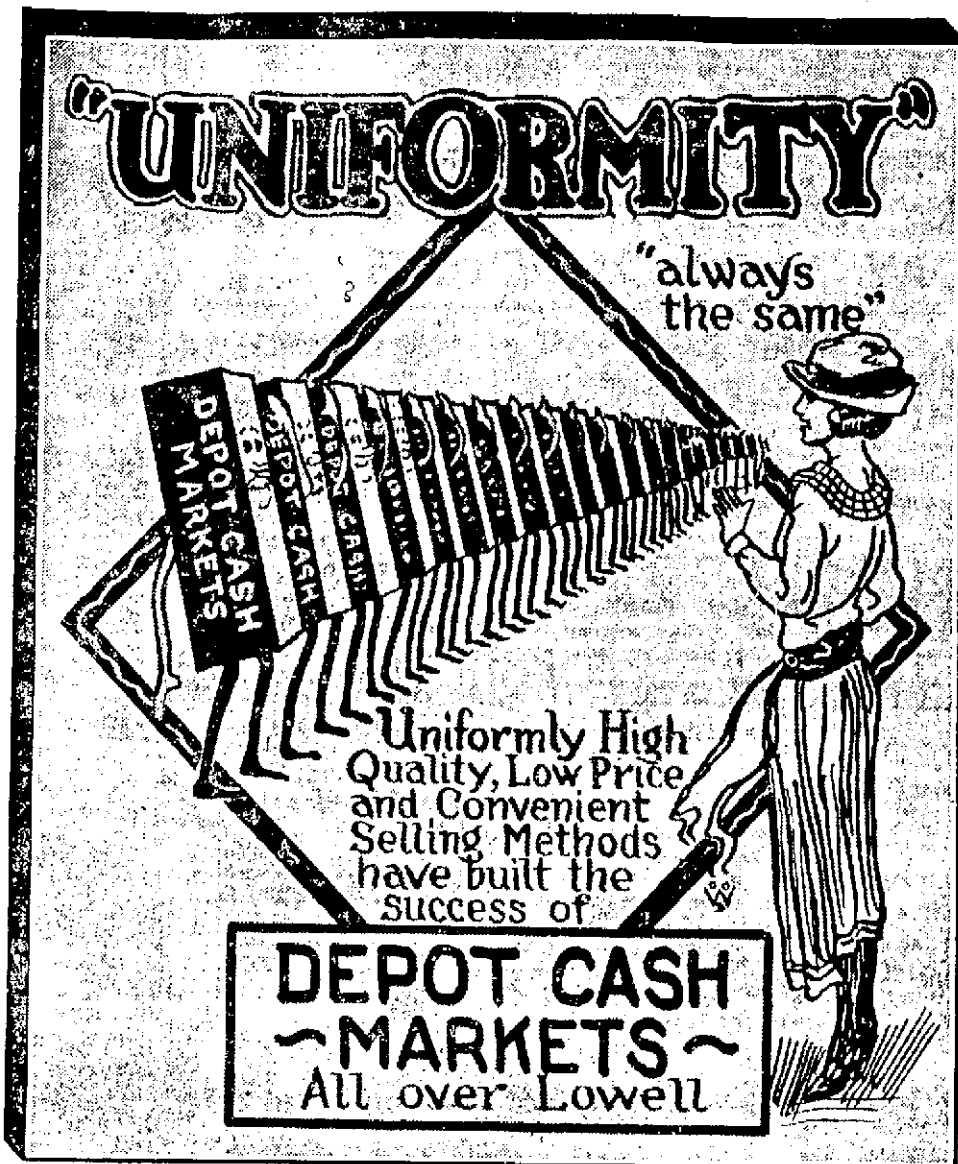

Because of the careful preliminary organization work being done by each of the four leaders, aviation experts here believe at least one expedition will reach its goal, if all of them do not.
Sir Keith Smith, it will be remembered, last year planned a flight around the world with his brother, Sir Ross Smith. But when Sir Ross lost his life in an accident, the project was abandoned.
Since that time Sir Keith has made a tour around the world in which he inspected the route he intends to follow. He will use a Vickers-Viking plane with a Napier "Lion" engine.
Cobham Famed Pilot
Cobham is a famous de Havilland pilot who makes trips in the regular air passenger service between Paris and London. He'll use a de Havilland 9 with a 240-horsepower Siddeley-Puma engine.
With him he will take Mackenzie Grieve as navigator. Grieve was with Hawker in his famous trans-Atlantic flight.

Cobham expects to make the flight in 60 days. He will fly from England across Central Europe to Constantinople via Vienna; then via Aleppo to Bagdad; on to Calcutta, Shanghai, the Aleutian Islands and Vancouver. He'll fly across Canada to St. John's, N. F., and thence across the Atlantic to his starting point.

Courts Fail to Solve Strangest Love

Tangle—Two Men Look Just Alike

BY ROY GIBBONS
NEA Staff Correspondent.
CHICAGO, April 13.—A comedy of errors here has developed into a tragedy.

Gurgling two-year-old Baby Billy Siervo is the innocent victim of an amazing tangle which even the courts have failed to solve.

And Mrs. Irene Hayes Siervo has turned to science and has asked it by means of blood tests to determine who is her husband and the father of her baby, born in legal wedlock.

The first act of this drama took place in 1919 when Irene Hayes became the wife of one Paul Siervo, according to a marriage license, duly signed, which she now offers in evidence. From this union Baby Billy was born.

Two of Him
When brought into court here the other day to answer a charge of non-support, the husband appeared in the form of two men.

(One called himself Sam Serpe. The other said his name was Paul Siervo. Each bore a striking resemblance to each other.)

But they seemed to have interchangeable names. Siervo, it was said at the hearing, often was known as Serpe and Serpe sometimes called himself Siervo.

"Which of these is your husband?" asked the judge of Siervo.

"And the father of your child?" the court queried.

"Yes."

"Your honor, she's wrong," said the man calling himself Serpe. "I'm her husband. But I'm only the baby's stepfather."

"You lie! You lie!" the wife screamed.

"How about this, Siervo?" the court resumed.

"Never Saw Her"
"Never saw her before in my life," came the answer.

"But he is my husband. I lived with him three years. Here's his name on the marriage license," pleaded the wife.

Then the court acted.

"Both of you," he said, addressing the two men, "step forward and write the words 'Paul Siervo.'"

The magistrate compared the handwriting specimens with that on the marriage license.

They were almost identical.

"Come to me," pleaded Serpe. "I'm not your daddy. Only your step-daddy. But come on anyhow."

Baby Won't Aid
The wife took the little one into her arms and offered it first to Siervo.

The baby was indifferent.

"Come to me," pleaded Serpe. "I'm not your daddy. Only your step-daddy. But come on anyhow."

The judge turned to the wife.

"Did your husband have any marks by which you might identify him?"

"Only a mole behind his ear."

Then started a judicial search for the mole. It was found—in precisely the same place—on both men.

"Defendants Discharged," ruled the court. "Take the case into the divorce chambers."

And that's how science has come to be entered in the case.

TO DISCUSS FILM PLOT FOR SCHOOL USE
NEW YORK, April 13.—A committee of the National Education association, supported by help motion picture producers plot a film for school room use was here today to meet with H. Hays, president, and his associates in motion picture producers and distributors of America.

The committee was appointed at Boston last July, when it was decided to lay the foundation for putting the movies into the curriculum of public schools. Payson Smith, state education commissioner of Massachusetts is a member. The prime purpose of today's session, the call set forth, is to discuss plans for the production and use of pictures suited to the work of the schools and to the wholesome entertainment of young people of school age.

THREAT TO BOMB HOUSE OF DAVID BUILDINGS
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 13.—A motion asking that the suit of John M. Hansel against the Israelite House of David be reopened, was filed in federal court here today.

Attorney H. T. Dewhurst, representing the colony, asserted that he has new evidence tending to prove that Hansel plotted to "bomb the buildings at the colony and make away with large sums of money kept in the vaults there."

An affidavit sworn to by C. E. Loehr, a molder, living in Benton Harbor, accompanied the motion. In it Loehr asserts that on a visit to the colony in 1920, Hansel approached him and asked him whether he wanted "to make some money."

"He said he could get it out of the safe," the affidavit declared. "I then asked him if it was his money, and he said no. I then said I didn't want anything to do with it."

At a later meeting, Loehr asserts, Hansel again broached the subject. "He said," the affidavit continues, "We will cut all the wires so they can't telephone and then we will bomb the building and get the safe."

Loehr again refused to enter the alleged scheme, Loehr declared.

Hansel, according to Loehr, said there was between $300,000 and $100,000 in the colony strongbox.

HOUSE OF COMMONS ENDS 21-HOUR SESSION

LONDON, April 13. (By the Associated Press).—The House of Commons adjourned at noon today until Monday. Its weary members welcoming relief from a session that had been continuously in progress more than 21 hours, mainly for consideration of the army and air force annual bill, which finally passed its third reading.

This is the only opportunity presented during the year for the members of the house to revise the conditions of discipline in the army and air force, and the sitting was notable for the jumble caused by obvious obstruction from the labor benches. There were some angry scenes between labor members and the chair, and a great amount of blarney on the labor benches.

NASHUA WOMAN ESCAPES EXPLOSION

NASHUA, N. H., April 13.—When a 60-gallon hot water tank at the Boston & Maine lunch exploded this forenoon, Mrs. Emma Mellon, a cook, had just stepped outside, escaping the blow up which wrecked the kitchen, based on the explosion.

MORSE TRIAL AGAIN POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Trial of Charles T. Morse, his three sons and others on indictment growing out of war-time shipbuilding operations, again was postponed today, physicians appointed to examine Harry Morse, who is ill, not having reported. The case will come up again April 16.

Four British Bird Men will follow almost the same route. They will use a Fairey twin-float seaplane with a Rolls-Royce "Condor" engine.

MacMillan With Blake
Captain MacMillan leader in the race, went 10,000 miles last year with Major Blake in the latter's attempt to fly around the world.

MacMillan will be accompanied by G. Malins who also was in the Blake expedition. They are backed by a London club which is building a machine the dimensions and characters of which are being kept secret.

The route MacMillan proposes is: From England via Italy, Greece, Egypt and Palestine to Baghdad; thence across India and Persia to Burma, China and Japan.

Then the expedition will cut across the edge of southern Siberia to the Aleutian Islands and around by southern Alaska to Vancouver.

Then MacMillan will cross the Canadian mainland to Halifax and will cross the Atlantic in a tanker, not heretofore attempted; via Greenland, Iceland, the Azores Islands, Orkney, Shetland, Scotland—then to London.

In preparation for the trip "advance agents" will place caches of food and gasoline on the uninhabited islands of the Aleutian and Kurile groups.

MORE PAY FOR JUDGES AND COURT CLERKS

Judge Fisher of the Lowell District court did not attend the hearing given to the district and the municipal court judges of the state held before the committee on counties relative to revised salary rates, held in Boston last night. The salary of the district court judges is based on the population of their respective jurisdictions, and if the committee on counties advises favorably on the hearing yesterday in its report to the legislature it probably will mean a salary increase for the judges and the clerks of the court. Commenting on the hearing Judge Fisher stated that he knew nothing about the matter. Judge Enright, who is enjoying a two weeks' vacation in the south, will resume his duties in the district court Monday.

SAYS POLICE IN LEAGUE WITH BOOTLEGGERS

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 13.—Any fair and competent investigation in New York city of the charges recently made in the New York legislature that the police are working hand in glove with the bootleg interests, will result in the exposure of police officials and political leaders, declared William B. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of New York, at a meeting of the New York east conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here today.

Mr. Anderson, however, asserted that the cry for an investigation was largely the result of a Tammany "squalor," which would result in the long run for the benefit of the enforcement of prohibition.

boats have been ordered to Boston to undergo repairs preliminary to the annual cruise of the Annapolis midships. The ships will arrive in Boston battleships Delaware, and North Da—about May 1.

WHITE URGES LEAGUE DENOUNCES EINSTEIN SAYS CONGRESS WILL

Dangerous Situation in Europe Would Have Been Avoided Had U. S. Joined

BALTIMORE, Md., April 12.—Henry White, former ambassador to France, member of the American mission during the negotiations resulting in the treaty of Versailles, last night, declared that had this country not withdrawn from the League of Nations, the present dangerous situation in Europe would not have come to pass.

This, Mr. White said, was his first discussion of the treaty. Mr. White addressed the first public meeting of the Maryland branch, League of Nations Non-Partisan association. He declared the greatest tragedy of the tragic year of 1919, was that peace should have been caught up in the coils of politics in America.

Capt. See Says Doctrine of Relativity Greatest Piece of Humbuggery on Record

VALLEJO, Calif., April 12. (By the Associated Press.)—Capt. T. J. J. See, U.S.N., astronomer at the Mare Island navy yard here, in a statement denouncing Prof. Albert Einstein as an imitator and spreader of untenable theories, expressed regret at the action of Dr. W. W. Campbell, director of Lick observatory, in announcing Wednesday that he had confirmed the Einstein theory of relativity insofar as it concerned the ending of star rays.

Development of the photographs in Australia during a total eclipse of the sun by the expedition which Dr. Campbell headed, does not, in the opinion of Capt. See, form a basis of recognizing Einstein's relativity.

"I value highly the work of the Lick observatory," said Capt. See, "but I regret to see it issue statements to the press which lend support to the discredited doctrine of relativity than which a greater piece of humbuggery has not appeared in any age."

He asserted that the Einstein theory cannot be confirmed.

PASS BONUS BILL

CHICAGO, April 12.—Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, in a statement here declared that the national soldiers' bonus bill will be passed by the next congress. He said a canvass of the next congress has shown the Legion that there are enough votes to put the bonus bill over.

"Then it will go to the president for approval or veto," he said, "and I am inclined to think he will give it his O.K. But if he does not, we have four more than enough votes to pass it over his veto."

All arrangements for the "Flower" day to be conducted in this city tomorrow for the benefit of the strikers of the Boston & Maine carshops in Billerica and the roundhouse in this city, have been completed and the members of the B. & M. federated crafts, who are in charge of the affair, hope the residents of Lowell will donate freely for what they term a very worthy cause.

The employees of the Boston & Maine carshops and roundhouse have always done their "bit" in movements of a public interest. They have helped every worthy cause that was ever called to their attention. They showed their patriotism by coming across 100 percent in the Red Cross drives during the war. They have scored 100 percent in the Salvation Army drives. They made a splendid record in connection with Liberty bond drives. They donated very freely to the red-tile workers in the early stages of their strike last year and have taken an active part in the fight of the local brownies in their struggle for the two-platoon system. In fact, they never allowed a good cause to go unnoticed, and they feel that the public of Lowell believe in reciprocity and will demonstrate it by making tomorrow's "Flower" day a big financial success.

The young women who have volunteered to sell apple blossoms on the streets tomorrow are requested to report at the crafts headquarters in Old Fellows' building, Middlesex st., tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, for it is planned to start the drive promptly at 9 o'clock.

Every street and district of the city will be covered and at 11:30 young women will be stationed at the gates of the various mills in order to receive the donations of the working people. The day will be a busy one for the strikers and their friends and they hope that their efforts will be crowned with success. The arrangements for the day are in charge of J. B. Cheney, T. A. Goding and Frank A. Collins.

This evening at 8 o'clock there will be a mass meeting of the strikers in Colonial theatre, Middlesex street, and all members are urged to be present. Various reports concerning conditions on the road will be submitted and prominent speakers will address the gathering.

Well-Known Woman Relates Her Experience

Utica, N. Y.—"I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to all those who suffer with bronchitis. When it was quite young I had diphtheria which impoverished my blood and also left me with a tendency to bronchitis. Every few weeks I would have a spell of sore throat and my bronchial tubes would be inflamed and cause me great distress. I was this way for many years, until I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it gave such great relief I have had very little trouble with this ailment since." Mrs. Jennie Olds, 305 Cooper St.

If you have a cough go now to your neighborhood drug store and get this "Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's. Write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free confidential medical advice.—Adv.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Joseph H. Laporte was arraigned in district court this morning on the complaint of Mrs. Laporte, that he was not paying his weekly donation of $5 a week for the support of his children as allowed by the court at a previous hearing. Laporte testified that he was able to pay the weekly contribution, but that he objected to his treatment when calling to see his children staying with the mother.

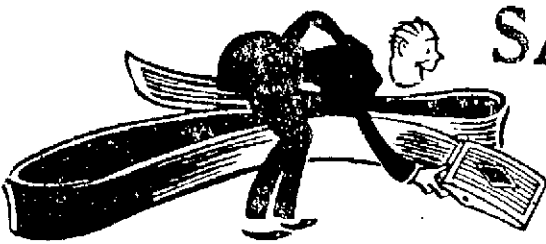

Probation Officer Cronin in stating his version of the entanglement, said that Mrs. Laporte had commenced paying Wednesdays, but had slipped along to Thursdays and Fridays and that if he maintained this sky, he would soon gain a week in arrears money. Mrs. Laporte, garbed in an attractive fur coat, said that payments were coming irregularly, and that the defendant had missed the last two. Judge Fisher cleared the difficulty by allowing Mr. Laporte to pay $5 each week on Saturday, plus an additional dollar at each payment for 12 weeks, until the money now due is cleared.

Radio Makes Baseball National Game in Reality

Forty-three thousand is the record figure for attendance at a major league baseball game. Distribution of the play-by-play account of world series games through the medium of bulletins, however, has increased the attendance at a single game to a million. But today the distribution of play-by-play accounts of important games by wireless makes the possible attendance at any game at least 10,000,000. Thus has the radio taken major league baseball to the distant future, ranch and mountain home. Young fans and old fans listening in at their receiving sets, will be able not only to hear the announcement of each play of the game, but wherever sending outposts are set up in the baseball parks, as often will be the case, they will be able to hear the crack of the bat against the ball, the roar of the crowd and the umpire's decision.

ends its suffering. This is absolute downright cruelty to animals and it is something which must be stopped immediately.

In limiting the minimum sale to four or five chicks, the Humane society officials and the store owners believe that this abuse will be done away with as people would not buy as many as four if only to satisfy the whim of a child, and would only buy them if they planned on raising them to become layers.

Another feature enters into this purchase of a single chick for a child to play with. The person that does this is fostering in the child's mind cruelty and abuse of living creatures, and if an idea such as this once gets a firm foundation in the child's character, then that child is doomed to grow up without a single shred of pity for dumb creatures, its mind is warped, it cannot reason from the standpoint of the law which punishes people who treat animals cruelly, and sooner or later that child will run contrary to the law and as a result he will be an outcast in society. Teach the child to treat animals as they themselves wish to be treated and they will grow up to be law-respecting citizens of the land.

Gerald Chapman Escapes From Prison and Then From Hospital

By NEA SERVICE

NEW YORK, April 11. Gerald Chapman, notorious "million-dollar mail robber" who has startled the nation by his two spectacular escapes from custody in Georgia, is hiding near his old haunts in New York, say other members of the metropolitan detective force.

They do not believe the criminal.

whose daring flight has put him in the position of being the leader of the $1,000,000 mail robbery here in 1921.

Early on the morning of March 27 Chapman and Frank Grey, convicted forger, escaped from the penitentiary. They cut the wires supplying electric lights for the prison yard and, under cover of the darkness, scaled the prison wall by means of a rope ladder, supplied by friends outside.

Menaces Citizen

When a citizen refused to aid Chapman in his flight, Chapman forced him at the point of an automatic pistol to accompany him on a street car and to pay his fare.

Chapman, however, was recaptured after he had been shot three times. He was placed in a hospital at Atlanta, Ga., under heavy guard.

Doctors said his condition was so serious that an escape would be impossible.

But Chapman fooled them. He dressed in his guard's clothes, knotted his bed sheet into a rope and, while his temperature was at 104 degrees, climbed to the ground and fled.

A nation-wide dragnet has failed to locate him.

FOR RECAPITALIZATION OF EASTERN SHIP LINES

BOSTON, April 13.—Stockholders of the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., were notified by President Calvin Austin today, of a plan for recapitalization. An additional issue of 36,000 shares of 7 per cent cumulative first preferred stock, par $100, is proposed for acquiring additional property and lines and for betterments and an issue of 90,000 shares non-preferred cumulative at $3.50 a share, with the common stock outstanding. This latter was explained as "very satisfactory" which will be applied to development.

The statement said that "if plans with reference to the acquisition of additional lines are sufficiently developed at the date of the annual meeting (April 15 at Elliot, Mo.) they will be submitted to stockholders at that time."

The statement did not make clear whether the reference to additional lines was intended to apply to acquisitions other than the Old Dominion Steamship Co., and the Kennebec Steamship company, already announced, but not approved by stockholders as yet.

HAPPIER, HEALTHIER WOMEN

by thousands are known to exist in this country because they have been relieved from pain and suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Science in surgery and electricity have advanced greatly during the past 50 years, but treatment of disease by old-fashioned root and herb medicines has never been improved upon. The leader of them all is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which after 50 years of success is today recognized as the standard remedy for female ills and sold everywhere for that purpose. Replies to a questionnaire recently sent out to 50,000 women by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., of Lynn, Mass., proved that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it. Isn't this a marvelous record for any medicine to hold? —Adv.

BUYING CHICKS FOR PLAYTHINGS

The Humane society has appealed to the stores that sell baby chicks to sell not less than four or five to one person, and to sell only to people who wish to buy them for the purpose of raising them. Most of the stores have agreed to do this.

The reason for the society's appeal is that many people have bought single chicks only to gratify a child's desire for a new plaything. The chick is taken home, sometimes it is crushed, other times a leg is broken, and in almost every instance of this sort the chick survives but a day or two. The child enjoys the plaything for a day, then allows it to starve until death.

ATHERTON'S FIRST ANNIVERSARY SALE

Of Furniture, Rugs, Carpets, Linoleums, Beds, Bedding and Glenwood Ranges

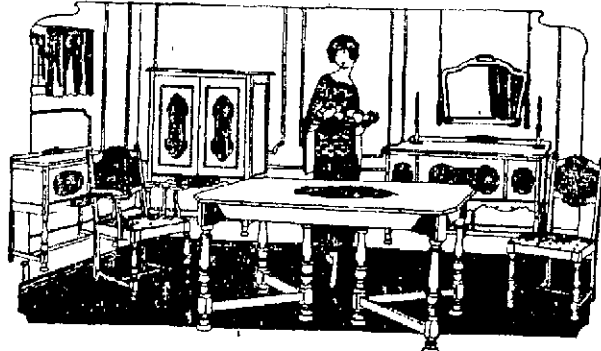

Saturday Morning, April 14, we celebrate our First Anniversary of our Lowell Store. We had our formal opening one year ago, and at that time we told the people of Lowell that we would sell quality furniture at lower prices than ever before sold in this city. Throughout the year just passed we have faithfully kept that idea in view, and take the credit of keeping down prices on all home furnishings. Proof of this is shown in our ever-increasing number of satisfied customers and our steadily mounting volume. We are able to continue our policy for several reasons. First of all, our great buying power. The scope of our business in 18 New England cities makes it possible for us to get lower prices everywhere than it is for most other firms in our line. The second reason is that we have no costly street floor location. At this time we wish to announce that we are about to open a new Kitchenware Department on the Third Floor, and when our plans are completed you will find the finest line of Kitchen Furnishings, China and Glassware to be found in the city. Watch the newspapers for our official opening later. We wish to take this opportunity of thanking the Lowell buying public for its hearty co-operation in this venture, as we realize that without its approval we could not continue. Carefully read over the items below, and if you are in need of Household Furnishings, this is an opportunity that you have been waiting for.

Chauncey Depew Writes on Nine Biggest Events of His Lifetime

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW AND THE NINE BIGGEST EVENTS OF HIS LIFETIME.

By N. E. A. Service
NEW YORK, April 11.—Chauncey M. Depew will enter upon his 90th year April 23.

The grand old man of American politics has seen four wars—and their aftermaths. He has been a friend of Gladstone, the statesman, and of Joe Jefferson, the actor.

He has made speeches in the halls of congress and before the motley crowds of the Bowery.

Since he became connected with the New York Central railroad, it has grown from a length of 123 miles to a length of 5500 miles, and he has seen the railroads of the United States grow from 2600 miles to 200,000 miles since he entered the railway service.

He has survived cults and fads and still retains the simple faith his mother taught him.

What are the nine biggest events that Chauncey Depew has seen in the nine decades in which he has lived? He tells of them here, in his own story.

written at the request of the N.E.A. Service.

By CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW

The first big event that I remember was the Mexican war. I was 14 years old then and it stirred me with tremendous notions of chivalry. However, I could not include the Mexican war as being one of the nine big events which I have witnessed. Neither could I include the development of the railroads as that development has covered too long a period of time to be designated as an "event."

Here, then, are the nine big events which I have seen in my lifetime. I consider them big because of their far-reaching effects on the human race.

One: The election of Abraham Lincoln to the presidency. This was important not only because of Lincoln's association with the Civil war, but also because of the influence which the character of Lincoln has had on the whole world.

Two: The proclamation freeing

the slaves. This was the first great blow at property which had heretofore been held in profound respect. It was the forerunner of the present day agitation over the rights of property. But it took slavery out of the present institutions and made the Declaration of Independence the vital idea of the United States.

Three: The World War. This was important because by its very horror it has paved the way for peace. The governments which instigated the World war have been overthrown. Future rulers will not be so anxious to rush into war when they reflect that they are likely to lose their jobs in consequence.

Four: The publication of Darwin's theory of evolution. It liberalized thought; it helped to break down the narrow dogmas of a personal devil and a brimstone hell; it showed that all things are in a continual process of evolution.

Five: The giving to the world of Pasteur's discoveries. I consider that he has done more than any other individual to benefit the human race.

Six: The preaching by Emil Coue of the powers of auto-suggestion. Coue did not discover auto-suggestion but he is showing men and women how they may improve themselves with it. The United States is built upon the development of the individual. Around that development hinges its whole future.

Seven: The invention of the telephone. When the first telephone company was formed I took a sixth interest at $9,000 and kept it for about a week. Then I took somebody's advice and got out. If I had kept that interest I would today be worth hundreds of millions of dollars. But I wouldn't be here to enjoy it. The ease and the fine dinners would have killed me long ago.

Eight: Bessemer's discovery of his

process of treating steel. It laid the foundations for one of the world's basic industries.

Nine: The discovery of radio. It opens up a field of development as limitless as the air itself.

York, then to the Beaux Arts Cafe, Philadelphia, Pa., and after that to New York city. When Mr. Forest left the orchestra they were on their way to Williamsport, Pa. Mr. Forest has returned to this city to take up the duties of organist at the Strand theatre. This will be welcome news to the public, for Mr. Forest, besides being an accomplished pianist is also an organist of note and at the present time intends to further his studies with one of the best teachers of organ in Boston. While on tour Mr. Forest had several excellent offers among them being playing in Dayton, Ohio; at the Windsor Hotel; with Yerkes's Happy Six, Montreal; and at Al Burt's "Bluebird" Dancing academy, Broadway, N. Y. In speaking of the latest dances, "Al" says that in and around New York and other metropolitan centers he finds that the so-called "jazz" dancing is giving way to "symphonie" dancing. Also tangoes and fox trots are the rage while the good old waltz is slowly dying out. "Al" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Teles Forest, 359 Lawrence street.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
 Florence East, who is the principal reason for "Little Driftwood" being shown, is delighting audiences at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week. Miss East is new to us, but she is a constant delight, for her manner is one which is different and always charming. She sings and dances very well, and the music quartet which supports her is decidedly good. Crawford & Braderick, makers of laughs, succeed in their ambition as well as have any vaudevillians this season. They are always worth while. Robert Henry Hodge, in a farce, is one of the best character actors on the stage, and Maude Ryan, supported by Charles Inness, hits off a lot of conversation during the time she is on the boards. Other acts on the bill are: Fred Duo, singer and harpist; Elita Garcia & Co. singers and dancers, and Kay, Hamlin & Kay, trampolinists.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"Getting Gertie's Garter," has without doubt proven to be the most hilarious farce that has been staged locally in many moons. The plot that is woven around the chase for a missing garter is decidedly spicy and unvarnishedly funny. Fred Harvey, who acts the part of the intoxicated butler with the idiotic grin, has the rare power of throwing the audience into spasms of delight every time he appears. Mary Anne Dentler is superb as usual and the rest of the cast are unusually good.

CROWN THEATRE

From wealth and high social station to poverty and ridicule, is only one of the many humiliating situations for Thomas Meighan in "Back Home and Broke," which will be the main attraction at the Crown theatre today. Finding only liabilities when he expected to get a fortune, he drops in crash. He goes away to make good, and when he returns very humbly, he is the subject of more ridicule than ever. It is well worth while to see how he extricates himself from the disagreeable situation. Alfred

Green directed and Ida Lee is leading woman.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performances will be given today and tomorrow at the Merrimack Square Theatre of "Java Head," the noted production of the old clipper days of Salem. This is the big Mel-ford picture which was filmed only a few months ago in Salem. George Fawcett, Raymond Hatton and Leatrice Joy head a big cast. Johnny Hines in "Luck" is the other feature.

THE STRAND

and "The Flame of Life," her newest production now playing at the Strand is no exception to the general rule. You will come to this conclusion when you see it. "Domestic Relations" gives Katherine MacDonald unusual opportunity to reflect not only her attainments as an actress, but also her wonderful wardrobe. The scenic effects and photography are also most commendable.

RIALTO THEATRE

Beginning this afternoon and continuing for the remainder of the week the Rialto theatre has an exceedingly strong attraction in which is introduced the production "Thorns and Orange Blossoms," with Estelle Taylor and an all-star cast performing. There is also

A serial introducing Pearl White in "Phantom," also Will Rogers in "The Hoping Fool" and a Christie comedy "Hot Tomato." "The Third Alarm" next week.

MARDI GRAS PARTY AT TEXTILE SCHOOL

The freshman class of the Textile school will hold a Mardi Gras party at the school hall tonight. A committee headed by Harry Swain has been working hard to make this event a big success and the last few days have been spent in decorating the hall for the affair. The entire proceeds of this event will go to the athletic field as a gift from the class of 1926. The annual election of officers of the Gamma Chapter of the Phi Psi fraternity was held at the fraternity house last night with the following result: Guy H. Harmon, president; Douglas Boone, vice-president; Herbert Perry, secretary; Edward T. Dunne, treasurer; Rodney Willman, chapter editor; W. Martin Simpson, corresponding secretary; Cyril Moore, assistant treasurer. Plans for a house party and dance the week of the school play were also discussed. The spring vacation at the school will begin with the closing of school Tuesday afternoon and will continue until the following Monday.

Mrs. Hoover Heads Movement To Make Sturdier Women

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 10.—A nationwide movement to promote the health, fitness and morale of every woman and girl in America will be inaugurated at a conference of hygiene and physical education authorities to be held in Washington April 6 and 7.

The conference is called under the auspices of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, the only woman vice president of the federation and national president of the Girl Scouts.

The major aim of the sessions will be to make up, for women and girls, a comprehensive program of athletics and recreation activities. Such a program for men and boys, formulated at a previous conference, is now in operation.

Conference Program

"The conference will afford an opportunity for the discussion of the three following major topics," says Mrs. Hoover:

"First, standards and tests and their co-ordination.
"Second, mass activities and their effect on the individual and the community.
"Third, competitive athletics.

"These questions will be discussed at the conference by recognized leaders in the various related fields of hygiene, physical education and physical recreation."

With a comprehensive program of athletics and recreational activities, through which the work of all institutions and organizations dealing with hygiene and physical education can be co-ordinated, it is believed that the entire movement can be placed on a nation-wide footing that will enable it to function smoothly and effectively. Such a result would work definitely to improve the fitness of the individual and the race. Among the benefits which might properly be expected to follow are:

Increased vigor, vitality and endurance.

The improvement of mental and moral qualities, such as courage, presence of mind, sportsmanship, loyalty, team play, co-operation and certain fundamentals of leadership and fellowship.

All these will combine to increase the usefulness of American women to the nation.

Controlling any program for women, however, are physiological, anatomical and emotional factors which, obviously, necessitate a different range of activities from those included in the program worked out for men.

Experts at Meeting

Leading national health organizations and social agencies will be represented at the conference and will assist in working out the problem. Hygiene and physical education experts from universities and colleges, normal schools, public schools and other educational institutions will be supplemented by representatives from such organizations as the National Health council, the National Child Welfare association, the Girl Scouts, the Young Women's Christian Association and the playground and health association.

In addition to Mrs. Hoover, who will open the conference with a summary of the national problem, individuals who will participate in the discussions include:

Colonel Henry Brookbridge, president of the federation; Dr. William A. Burdick, director of the Playground Athletic League of Baltimore; Blanche M. Trilling, professor of physical education and director of the women's gymnasium, University of Wisconsin; Dr. J. Anna Norris, professor of physical education at the University of Minnesota; Miss Elizabeth Stoner, assistant professor of physical education, University of California; Miss Lida Lee Tall, principal of the Maryland State Normal School; E. Dana Cuthins, manager of the National Physical Education Service of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, and Miss Elizabeth Burchenal, chairman of the American Folk Dance Society.

JOHN G. JACKSON BACK IN LOWELL

John G. Jackson, former superintendent of parks and cemeteries in this city, and now with the Twenty-Mile Team Express people, will be in Lowell for the next two or three weeks doing business and renewing old acquaintances. "Jack" looks as young as ever and his popularity here has not waned during his years of absence.

Cuticura Heals Itching Burning Eczema On Hands

"I was troubled with eczema on my hands. It broke out in a rash from my elbows to the ends of my fingers. I used to stay up all night because it was impossible to sleep on account of the itching and burning. I had to have my sister do my work for me."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me. I continued using them and now I am completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Rose Coady, 24 Summit Ave., Lewiston, Me.

Keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for every-day toilet purposes. Touch pimples and itching, if any, with Cuticura Ointment; bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Dry and dust lightly with Cuticura Talcum.

VICTORY OVER BLINDNESS

Exhibition to Show How
ing Blind Persons

Victory over blindness will be the theme of the exhibition to be held in the Auditorium, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 24 and 25, under the direction of the state division of the blind of the department of education, and the auspices of local organizations. The exhibit will show what the state department is doing in training blind persons in overcoming their handicaps in clerical, semi-professional, professional, and industrial work.

The employment department has placed a number of sightless workers in electrical factories. The Simplex Electrical company of Cambridge employs several blind men to separate mica and to put caps on fuses. Several Massachusetts piano factories employ blind men as tuners. One piano manufacturer liked the first blind man he employed so well that he asked the employment department to send him two more.

Sixteen blind girls are rendering excellent service as dictaphone operators with the United Shoe Machinery company, the S. S. Pierce company, the Maryland Casualty company, the Walworth Manufacturing company, all of Boston; the Crompton-Knowles Loom Works, Worcester; the Denison factory, Framingham; the American Optical company, Southbridge; and the Fisk Tire company, Springfield.

They work under the same conditions as their seeing companions and receive the same salaries for the same quality of work. One employer wrote to the state division that the blind girl who was doing dictaphone work for him by her efficiency deserved the same rate of compensation as the other workers.

Dictaphone operators trained under supervision of the division for the blind are taught that they can not afford to make mistakes, since it is very difficult for them to correct them and the result is they make very few. Some receive their training in regular business colleges, others in the offices of the division. The most capable operator in the office of a division is a blind girl. Everyone is to her in preference to several of the seeing operators. All letters written by this operator are stamped at the bottom "This letter was written by a blind dictaphone operator." That stamp notice has paved the way for employment of other blind operators, and inspired blind girls who learned of the success of others to prepare for the same work.

FISHERMEN URGED TO BE CAREFUL ABOUT FIRES

(Special to The Sun.)
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, April 12.—The state department of conservation today issued a warning to fishermen asking them to avoid carelessness that may lead to forest fires and to be sure to obtain a fishing license. The statement follows:

"The fishing season is about to start, which will draw into the open thousands of men, women and children. Contrary to general understanding, the country is very dry and strong winds will prevail during most of the early season."

"Even a novice knows that forests and abundant other vegetation are necessary to preserve the water supply and the temperature and quality of the water in our streams. Forest fires destroy all this, and today are the most important factor in determining whether our streams will remain suitable for fish life. If forest fires increase with the opening of the season the legislature may be asked to empower the governor to close the season."

"Every fisherman is charged with the individual moral responsibility of seeing that no fires are started. You naturally want to preserve your sport. The two principal things for you to do are:

"Prevent forest fires and fish according to law."

CANE FIRES LAID TO STRIKERS
SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, April 12.—Strikers or their sympathizers are charged with the setting of frequent cane fires which have been occurring recently chiefly on the south side of the island where strikes of field laborers have been on for some time. None of the mills have been forced to shut down because of the strikes, although some of the centrals have worked on a reduced scale.

Within 48 hours in the Guayama district recently there were 40 fires reported, culminating in the burning of more than 700 acres of cane.

Blame Gloria, Fellers,
For Wife's Hair Styles!

GLORIA SWANSON, CREATOR OF THE "GLORIAS BOB"

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, April 13.—Say, men, come right down front here where I can talk close and confidential-like to you.
It won't be long until your wife, your sister, or even your mother, is going to come home with her hair clipped just like yours.
And why to blame for it? Who's to blame, I ask you?

Gloria Swanson!
Yessir! Gloria Swanson!
That Swanson woman has had more to do with women's heads than anyone else in this great nation. Not meaning just empty ideas about silk negligees and milk-tailed nightgowns and womanly independence, but what goes on outside the head.
As Swanson hairdresses, so hairdresses the nation!
I care not who makes the nation's laws, or writes its songs, let me set its hair styles!
Gloria used to pyramid her hair. Then she plastered it. Then curled it. Topped it. Flounced it. Corrugated it. Wave-waved it. Star-spangled it.
And every time Gloria made a move with her curling iron or her comb all the women folks started to do the same thing.

Gloria worked so many coiffure changes she ran out of breath and ideas and had to sit down and think for a while when she started work on "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," the other day.

"Hey, Hattie! My mirror!" she cried when at last the hairdresser inspired her. Hattie Tabourne, Paramount hairdresser, brought up the set of mirrors and one regulation barber's outfit.

Snip! Snip! Snip!
A few more snips and Gloria was "bingled," as the old boys used to call that style of haircut.
Gloria had her hair cut in the back like a man's. The cut follows the curve of the hair. The hair is also cut at the sides and curled under, still preserving the shape of the head.

And that's what they call the "Glorias bob."

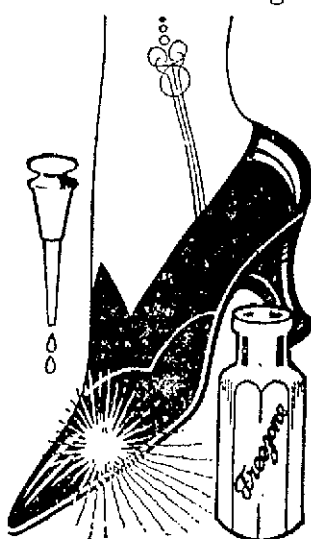

I tell you, men, all the women folks will be wearing the "Glorias bob" before the leaves fall next autumn.

Yes, and speaking of women following movie styles and fashions, the men are just as bad. The Valentino vogue still grows. Sideburns and shaggy hair under the hat. In any subway train in Gotham you can see young Spaniards, Italians, Jewish and French youths wearing the Valentino hairdress.

Any dark young fellow who has a notion that he bears the slightest resemblance to the sheik does his best to improve that resemblance, it seems.

ATTACK BY GOMPER'S

Charges Garland Money Used to Aid Revolutionary Organizations

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Because the Workers' Education Bureau, an organization of the American Federation of Labor, is not "definitely committed to a radical program," the American Fund for Public Service, Inc., has refused to include the bureau among beneficiaries in its outlay of the $500,000 fund turned over to it by Charles Garland of Boston, out of the rejected inheritance from his father, Samuel Gompers, president of the labor federation, in making public a letter from the Garland fund organization, refusing a request for a $100,000 endowment fund for the education bureau, charged in a statement last night that the Garland money was being used to "bring together an international network of pacifist and revolutionary organizations of more or less extreme character."

The request, Mr. Gompers said, had been made as a "test" to determine to what purpose the Garland inheritance was being put.
By the statement in its letter that it would support only such labor educational movement as fit workers for "carrying on the struggle for the emancipation of their class in every sphere," the American Fund for Public Service, Mr. Gompers declared, had "disclosed itself in its true garb as a proponent of revolutionary effort."

COMPULSORY PRACTICE OF COMMUNISM

BOSTON, April 12.—The practice of communism by revised communists "themselves would be made compulsory" by a measure which the government is soon to present to parliament, from Mr. Stamboulsky, an announcing that the proposed law, said it would compel the expropriation of communists' property in which he said these are at least 10 persons professing the communist creed. These would be compelled to live in colonies established by the government. Each member would be forced to share equally in the labor of production as well as in its fruits.

STUCK BY AUTO TRUCK
Mrs. Duhe of Lawrence, sustained slight injuries to her leg, when yesterday afternoon when she was struck by an automobile truck, in Central street near the corner of Broad street. The truck was being loaded by Joseph Duhe, who claims the machine skidded and became unmanageable. The woman received three add at the office of Dr. Hyman and later was taken to her home.

RECEIVED BY QUINCY
Master Pearl Quinsey, completed the club at last evening's meeting of Hillside grange, which was held in the Centre Village. Quincy was the guest of the evening and was warmly welcomed by a large crowd of ladies and ladies' degrees. Quincy, the third and fourth degrees, were conferred on large classes. The latter part of the evening was taken up with entertainment numbers.

DANCING PARTY BY NURSES' ALUMNAE

A very enjoyable dancing party was held at the Highland clubhouse last night under the auspices of the Nurses' Alumnae association of the Lowell Corporation hospital.

This was the 11th party of its kind given by this association and about 200 couples turned out to make it a success. The hall was decorated with streamers of the national colors strung from the chandeliers in the centre to the walls, and floor.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Miss L. G. Downs, Miss Mabel Worth and Miss Elsie Mc-

98 Out of Every 100 Women Benefited

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. — 50,000 Women Answer —

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100.

Did you ever hear of anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

It's reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

PROMINENT CONCERT STAR TO GIVE HER FIRST RECITAL IN LOWELL

MISS EDITH BENNETT

For the last concert of the season at the Middlesex Women's Club, Miss Edith Bennett of Concord, N. H., a soprano who has rapidly forged ahead in the world of music since her graduation from Smith college only a few years ago, will give a recital in Colonial hall next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the usual meeting hour, Miss Bennett has studied extensively in this country and Europe and is considered one of the most promising young musicians New England ever has produced. In addition to being one of the most popular recitalists of the decade, Miss Bennett is also one of the prettiest and most vivacious young women now appearing on the concert stage. Club members may invite gentlemen guests to this concert.

SAMMY CARMELLA

OMAHA, Neb., April 13.—With an artist's "O. K." placed upon him by Fritz Kreisler, master violinist, Sammy Carmella, Omaha's 12-year-old violin prodigy, will go to New York to receive an artist's education at the expense of Omahans who have become interested in him.

Sammy is just an ordinary western boy born in a home of modest means. He likes to fish, to play marbles and in other ways to emulate Huck Finn.

But back in the depths of his dark eyes something gleams that you don't see in every boy's eyes.

"The spark of genius," said Omaha musicians. Since he was a very tiny lad Sammy has cherished his violin. From a very young age he has been appearing in public at home-talent dramatic entertainments.

the girl from Tennessee has a high level of excellence to maintain. With my compliments to her predecessors, I predict Jobyna will achieve full stardom in two years.

Unlike many girls in comedy, she isn't eaten with secret desire to do "more serious things."

"I have no desire to make people weep," she said, when with my little men's hat and pencil I had rescued her from a villainous Indian who was kidnapping her in Lloyds' unfinished and unnamed production on the flat Roach lot in Culver City. "Too many weeps in the world already. I want to make people giggle. Why climb up or down into tragedy?"

Not that Jobyna can't climb! Why, some of the tallest trees of the Pittsburgh, Tenn., countryside have been scaled with impunity by her truly while fences, cotton presses and corn sheds were mere practice hurdles for her scamp over studio obstacles with the speediest of comedians.

"Miss Norman is my model," she confessed. "I want to be able to act like her." And in action and appearance, though not suggested in her "still" photos, Miss Ralston is curiously like Miss Norman.

Strange thing! With petulant frankness Miss Ralston says she has never been proposed to. What's the matter with the Tennessee awnings? Still, Pittsburgh's loss is the nation's gain. And Jobyna did add that she's had several sweethearts.

She is a quarter inch over five feet, and weighs 110 pounds. She has gray eyes, brown curls, a saucy nose, an engaging frankness. An unspooled elfin spirit. A firm handshake, and a skin you just love to—

But where were we at? Oh, yes, as I was saying: When Jobyna gets a little homesick for the farm she takes time out to play with the dogs, cats, ponies and rabbits of the Roach managerie. She still prefers the old-fashioned title "Pamper" to "dapper," though I prefer "the Cutie of Culver City" or something like that.

"I've waded waist deep in marshes to shoot ducks," she said proudly. "And I've pulled 'possums out of trees by their tails. I like best to hunt coons with hounds, but the next best thing here is hunting golf balls with someone that can't play any better than I."

Ruefully I watched Jobyna shooed back to the enthralling arm of that kidnapping Indian—a squirming, kicking animal. I asked Lloyd if he didn't want someone to double for the Indian in that scene. But he said, "no, thank you."

Lloyd is such a courteous man! North or south? What matters it with Robert J. Flaherty? He produced "Nanook of the North," and now is about to sail for the South Sea Islands to endeavor to incorporate the soul of the tropics in a film.

They don't call Jackie Coogan a "star" in Hollywood. He's a starlet. We want you to understand.

Hio-hum! Now we read that with delivery of one more picture to Metro, Garson's Clara Kimball Young contract with that organization expires. The next one will come from Universal. What's the dirt? The public will see them anyway.

SECRETARY WELLS AT BOSTON MEETING

George F. Wells, secretary of the Lowell chamber of commerce, attended a meeting of the Massachusetts chamber of commerce in Boston yesterday. The morning session was held in the Boston City club. At this session considerable business was transacted and the directors were elected. Dr. Kenyon R. Butterfield, elected president of the Massachusetts Agricultural college addressed the meeting on "The Relation of Agriculture to the Industrial Future of Massachusetts." At 12:30 a luncheon was held at the Boston City club and following the dinner, James J. Storrow, chairman of the New England railroad committee, Ernest N. Smith, department manager of the chamber of commerce of the United States, and Charles L. Behrman, of the chamber of commerce of the state of New York, were the speakers.

Three Lowell men were elected to the board of directors of the state

Harold Lloyd Picks Some Cutie!

JOBYNA RALSTON AND HAROLD LLOYD.

By JACK JUNGMEYER
HOLLYWOOD, April 13.—Translation from a Tennessee farm flapper to mix of the movies was just a hop-skip-and-jump for little Jobyna Ralston, Harold Lloyd's new leading lady.

Jobyna, who is 18, was not a decorative farmette, but a truly rural who curled the cows and performed such other chores as humble husbandry demands of its glumhaired daughter.

But how you gonna keep 'em down on the farm when the pictures beckon? A little over a year ago she donned her best bib and tucker, shook out her curls, took her mother by the hand and scampered to Hollywood, beat a vigorous tattoo upon its gilded gates and was promptly admitted.

Spared the usual vicissitudes of the untrained novice, Miss Ralston broke into two-reelers with the Paul Parrot company and was doing a part with Max Linder in "The Three Must Get There" when Lloyd glimpsed her through his horning spectacles.

As the successor of Mildred Davis, Lloyd's bride of a few months, and Bebe Daniels, his first leading lady, Allen's Lung Healer. Protects the lungs from attack, warding off pneumonia when used in season, and banishes the obstinate bronchial cough. Not infallible, but it seldom fails.

THALBERG'S RAPID RISE TO FAME AND FORTUNE

A melodramatic title for Thalberg's career might read, "Peter Pan's Way to Plutocracy," for millions he is certain to be, barring decided mis-chance before he reaches 30. He has a substantial interest in the Louis B. Mayer studio.

Actual dollars, however, by no means comprehend his idea of success.

"I feel happy," he told me with boyish earnestness, "to have some share in molding the destinies of an agency of entertainment and enlightenment reaching some 20,000,000 Americans daily."

"That implies tremendous power and responsibility, almost awesome at times. Think of its effect upon people whose lives would otherwise be drab. How it stimulates imagination! Builds dreams. Re-creates a nation. Fires new hopes. Starting a nation with a new culture."

"Why, the fact that thousands of people hereafter 'recreate' have been prompted by motion pictures to write, not only for the screen, shows its influence in quickening mental activity."

"Success," he said, cutting back, "is the measure of one's vital relationship to the rest of the world, a relationship made up of an infinite number of sentimental reactions and their material gain of exchange."

"In this business you must have a great faith in the weight of emotions. You've got to be a sentimentalist to risk from $200,000 to $400,000 for a picture in the reasonable assurance that its sway upon human hearts will reimburse and profit you."

"You can readily see that motion pictures can't be based on cold-blooded finance like raising potatoes or selling cotton. The movie maker can't simply pour in so much money and sit back awaiting returns. He must be unusually alert to the social and economic changes that react upon fundamentally unchangeable emotions. He's got to get that into his pictures or his product is unsalable."

It is Irving Thalberg's canny ability to do just that—to sense the changing psychology of a people and to shape all the activities of a movie producing plant to the heart hunger and mind gropings of a public—which brings him an income of $100,000 a year at 23.

Over his dynamic personality and the consciousness of his ability, he wears a becoming mask of modesty and quiet, unfailing courtesy. Not a trace of swarthy—for which, Sparks, please keep the spotlight on him a moment longer!

PALUSO WINS OVER BAIRD

Baird Knocked Down in Ninth—Came Back and Weathered Storm—Record Crowd

Low Paluso moved forward a step in his campaign for championship honors last night when he triumphed over Earl Baird after ten sensational rounds of furious fighting in the feature event of the Moody club show at the Crescent rink. A great crowd turned out to see the two famous boxers in action and rarely has more enthusiasm attended a local bout.

It was a battle all the way, with Paluso the skillful and master boxer, being forced to employ all his cunning and ring generalship against Baird, the aggressive, brawling, rugged and hard hitting "human cyclone." The latter had been recommended as "another Shubert" and he certainly lived up to predictions.

The boys entered the ring virtually at even weight, Paluso tipping the beam at 175 and Baird moving the bar at 172½. They were in splendid physical condition, brought about by careful and intelligent training and they needed to be for the pace they set was terrific.

It was Paluso's third appearance here, while it marked Baird's initial performance before Lowell fans. But the battle they put up made such an impression that all who were on hand will welcome a return visit at any time. Their work was a revelation when the final gong sounded the great crowd gave vent to their enthusiasm and appreciation by vigorous cheers and applause.

Paluso, once kept his record clean, opened up a well planned attack, he boxed with coolness and rare judgment. He shot in short jabs and hooks with piston rod regularity, and he was quick to pull away when Baird essayed to hold and hit when on the inside. Baird rushed in and out, taking a couple of Paluso's blows to get over one. He scored repeatedly with stinging punches to the mid-riff, and often ripped up terrific clouds to the head. The battle went on at a whirlwind clip, with both boys showing to advantage, but with Paluso generally just a step ahead of his adversary. The third, the fifth, the seventh and the ninth rounds, were the most hectic. The others were replete with vigorous action, but these four stood out like beacon lights, and were crowded with superlative boxing skill. In the third, fifth and seventh the pair stood toe to toe and whapped each other blow to the delight of those assembled. In the ninth the fans were on their feet when the pair engaged in a spirited exchange. They were traveling at a bewildering clip, and all realized that if either landed a heavy blow the other would go down. It remained for the skillful Paluso to see and grasp the opportunity. He let go a swinging right that caught Baird flush on the jaw. The latter went to the canvas with a third. The crowd was in an uproar as the referee began to count. Baird waited until the referee reached nine. He then came up and closed in to land another that would send him down. Paluso tore at him like a tiger, intent on putting him away. But Baird gave an exhibition of ring craft and guile, and the blow of which he was schism, if ever, been seen in a local ring. How he was able to withstand the battering of Paluso and weather the storm was difficult to understand, but he was on his feet fighting hard when the bell sounded. And Baird, who had been knocked down a little third, after his heroic effort to knock his man in the preceding round, was a little more than a little worse for the wear. Paluso earned and received the decision, but Baird

Kamm Had Perfect Batting Average—Senators Beat Braves—Ford Hurt

NEW YORK, April 13.—Due somewhat to the all-round brilliancy of Willie Kamm, the star brought from the Pacific coast, the Chicago White Sox took the lead from the New York Giants in their rambling series by winning yesterday's game at Johnson City, Tenn. 8 to 7. Kamm made four hits in four times at bat. The Sox have won seven, the Giants six. The New York Yankees lost a whole bag of things at Springfield, O. They were defeated by the Brooklyn Robins 5 to 7 and lost the immediate services of Everett Scott, the shortstop, who is nearing a record of 1000 consecutive games. Scott injured his ankle when his spikes caught in the bag marking second base and had to be carried from the field. This season's exhibition series between the Yanks and Brook-lyns thus far stands with seven wins apiece and no losses for the American leaguers.

Senators Beat Braves
BOSTON, April 13.—The Braves were defeated by Washington, 5 to 4, at Norfolk, Va., yesterday. Errors in the fifth gave the senators two unearned runs. Horace Ford may be out of the Boston lineup for a week, as his injured leg suddenly became troublesome in yesterday's game.

In a 10-inning game the Reading club of the International league defeated the Red Sox at Harrisburg, Pa., yesterday, 9 to 4. The Reading team obtained five runs in the deciding inning.

LOWELL HIGH ON PREP SCHOOL SCHEDULE

On the St. John's Prep school baseball schedule, just received, Lowell is slated for a game with the Danvers nine on April 22 at Danvers. The complete schedule follows:

April 1, Danvers at Danvers; 21, Boston Trade at St. John's; 24, Cambridge Latin at St. John's; 25, Lowell at St. John's; May 2, Medford at St. John's; 4, Harvard 2nd at Cambridge; 5, St. Joseph's (Manchester, N. H.) at St. John's; 8, Saugus at St. John's; 10, St. John's (Worcester) at St. John's; 102, John's (Worcester) at St. John's; 15, Boston Commerce at St. John's; 17, G. E. Apprentice school at St. John's; 18, Milton at St. John's; 23, E. Boston at St. John's; 26, Boston English at St. John's; 29, St. James at Haverhill; June 2, St. James at St. John's.

gave him one of the stiffest arguments of his career.

Gunboat Jack won over Buddy Dolan in the semi final of eight well fought rounds. Ray Bancourt of Lawrence knocked out Jack Harper of Newton in the second round of the first preliminary. In the second preliminary Johnny Fallon of Lawrence was awarded the decision over Joe Broderick of Cambridge after six peppery rounds.

It was announced that Martin Flaherty, Jr., and Johnny Avila, local rivals, will meet in the main event next Thursday night.

Lowell Needs But One More Victory to Land Verdict Over Duggan's All Stars

Harkins and Duggan, Rival Captains Both Express Confidence

With Lowell needing but one more victory to land the series from Duggan's All Stars the fourth game between these two classy polo outfits will be played at the Crescent rink tonight.

The fact that Lowell eliminated both the New Bedford team and the Worcester Tigers in four games in the two great series preceding the present competition has given players and fans confidence. While it is realized that the All Stars boast of a remarkable lineup, a team that is strong in every position one that when in its stride it is difficult to stop, the success scored by the Lowell club in winning over New Bedford and then coping the championship from Worcester, demonstrates the fact that the Spindle city outfit also has the goods.

Capt. Harkins in discussing his team's chances today said: "We have the edge on the All Stars with two victories out of the three games played, and while I realize the Duggan clan will come here prepared to fight and fight hard, in an endeavor to win and stay in the battle, I feel very confident that if we can get the old ball rolling our way there will be nothing in it. With Jean at center, Morrison at halfback and Jette at goal, I can see where the enemy defense of Duggan, Gardner and Blount, while a great combination, has anything on us. With Williams and myself on the rush line, I am very confident, we will have a little on the Duggan-Pierce combination. The teams are two of the best I have ever seen in competition, and I look for one of the greatest battles of the season tonight with Lowell on top at the finish."

"Wild Bill" Duggan is bubbling over with confidence. Listen to his line. "Tell the Lowell fans that they will find us a little different than the New Bedford and Worcester teams, and that we will not only win Friday night, but we will also win the series. Lowell has a good team I'll admit, but my club is a better one. We have capable men in every position. The fact that we held Lowell to a 6 to 3 count in the last game, with Jean in the Lowell lineup, demonstrates that the Harkins club has very little on us. We were a little at sea, by the shift of Harkins from center to rush, but we have the team all doped out now, and if we don't win tonight, I'll admit that I am a poor dooper. As for myself, I am going into the game with a firm determination first to win the game and secondly to wipe out Williams' lead over me in the individual competition. The game and the series are not over until the sound of the final whistle, and Lowell fans must not be too premature with their plans for a celebration. Look out for us tonight!"

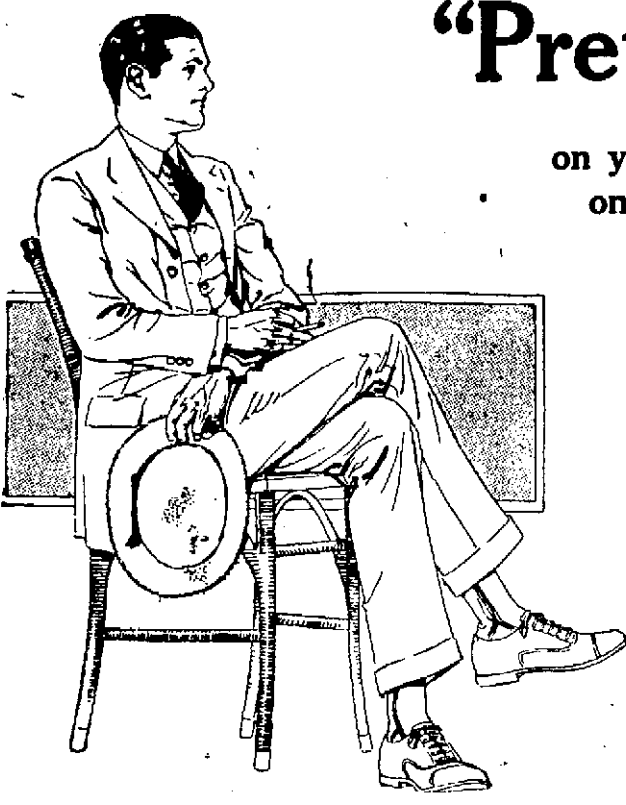

Jack Fennell, who has handled the important series games in a most efficient manner, will be on deck to start activities at 8:15 tonight.

SOCCER AT BUNTING PARK TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon at Bunting park, the Abbot Worsted soccer team will play the Massachusetts Mills team of this city in an industrial league game. Rumors to the effect that the Forge Village outfit was to play Fore River Saturday are ungrounded as that game with the local team is a scheduled affair and must be played according to the rules of the league. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

PITCHING WORRIES BUSH

Seeks Star Twirler—Trade Strengthens Team—Has Fighting Club

By BILLY EVANS
"Add another good right-hander to my pitching staff and the club will make plenty of trouble this summer." There in a few words you have the expert opinion of Donnie Bush, who makes his major league debut as manager of the Washington Nationals this year.

"When I say another good right-hander, I mean a pitcher who can come close to winning 20 ball games." "I refuse to predict where we will finish, but I am willing where we will finish, that we will win more ball games than we did last season."

The Nationals finished sixth last year, winning 69 and losing 85 for a percentage of .418.

"What about the deal you made with Boston?"

Ruel Will Help Nationals
"It is going to strengthen the Nationals a lot. Ruel will help my ball club in many ways. He has the experience, handles his pitchers well, and is the peppy, staid player that all of us need. I am not worrying about the pitching."

less he turns in many a good game for Washington.

Problem at Third Base
"Third base looked like the big problem, but since looking over my material, I am not worrying about it."

I have Conroy of Minneapolis, Blum, who was with us the greater part of last year, Joe Evans secured from Cleveland, and Lamotte, who also is a holdover.

"Since I will probably figure on Evans more for outfield work, Conroy, because of his experience, has the best chance to start at third base. However, anything can happen between now and the opening of the season to make me change my plans."

"Sam Rice and Gosh are the only members of last year's outfield who are in the club. For the other position there is Wade and Fisher, as well as several other likely recruits."

"Pitching is every big league manager's greatest worry and it looks as if I wouldn't be any exception to the rule. However, if I could pick up another right-hander I would feel pretty well satisfied."

INTERCOLLEGIATE GOLF LEAGUE
NEW YORK, April 13.—College golfers will have an added competitive incentive this season as a result of the formation for the first time of an intercollegiate golf league.

Seven colleges have entered the league, but they do not represent the complete membership of the intercollegiate golf association. The national title will be reserved for the team victor in the annual college tourney.

The league colleges are Columbia, Dartmouth, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Yale.

MACLEAN TO HANDLE MURPHY IN TITLE BOUT

With delegations coming from Lawrence, Nashua, New Bedford and Boston, Matchmaker Connie Lynch of the Olympic club announced today that he expects a record crowd at Associated Hall Monday night when Charley Maclean, of New Bedford, holder of the N. E. featherweight championship, and Billy Murphy, Lowell's sensational contender, will meet in a titular match.

The bout has created great interest throughout New England and demands from many points are coming in for reservations. Two hundred fans headed by Mayor Kenyon, are coming from New Bedford. Included in this delegation will be 25 members of the girls' city club of the Whaling city. In order to accommodate the latter and other members of the fair sex desirous of attending the bouts, a special section will be reserved for them on the hall stage.

Alex Maclean, of Boston, new manager of Billy Murphy, will come to town to handle his protégé. Maclean is confident that the Lowell boy will win over Maury and thereby capture the title. If successful he plans a busy campaign, including bouts in Boston, New York and other places. One of his first, if successful over Maury, will be a match with Al Shubert, providing the latter makes 150 pounds.

Macleaner Lench, who kept busy with the details of the main event, is also giving attention to his preliminary card, and he expects to have a lineup in keeping with the star attraction.

Enchantment Rules Strong Favorite in Kentucky Derby

Which horse do you like in the Kentucky derby?

Followers of the ponies all over the country are asking that question. The winter book which furnishes the advance prices for play on the derby entries offers some interesting dope for the form players.

The boys who lay the heavy dough are beginning to make their play apparent by the big change in odds that have taken place on a number of the derby candidates.

Martingale is the derby target. Starting in the winter books at 300 to 1, the play on him has been so great that his price is now quoted at 15 to 1. The winter play on the derby is largely confined to the boys with "heavy sugar," who bet big sums on their supposed inside knowledge.

The pressure on Martingale makes it seem that the alleged "wise guys" like his chances.

Travelling Bag Governor Cox Strongly Urges the Planting of More Trees on Arbor Day

GOVERNOR COX, April 13.—A proclamation was issued yesterday by Gov. Cox designating Saturday, April 28, as Arbor and Bird day and the week of April 22 to 28 as "Forest Protection week." The proclamation follows:

"In justice to the coming generations it is necessary that we turn energetically to the work of reforestation, in order to replenish our wasted timber lands—not alone the reforestation of large tracts of land, but the planting of trees, wherever possible, on small city lots. One of the outstanding representatives of an agricultural conference of states held in Boston last January was the unanimously adopted resolution recommending town forests, which have already prompted many towns to start such forests.

"To preserve what remains of our once great forests, every effort must be made to arrest the annual waste by fire and other agencies of destruction. The record of 1922 is startling—when 4100 fires swept over 55,000 acres, causing $50,000,000 damage, requiring the expenditure of $100,000 to fight them, and taking in their toll five human lives and 122 buildings, to say nothing of destruction of cover for song birds and friendly animal life.

"Therefore, in the hope of stimulating greater activity to protect and to increase our forests, I hereby designate Saturday, the 28th day of April, 1923, as Arbor and Bird day and the week of April 22-28, 1923, as 'Forest Protection week' and recommend that they be generally observed throughout the Commonwealth by the planting of trees, shrubs and vines.

"This work may well be done, not only on Arbor and Bird day, but throughout the season of planting. Let the children in the schools become interested in this helpful and pleasant work, so that they may better understand Nature and more deeply appreciate the beauty of the great outdoors in which they have had a part in creating and preserving."

One of the outstanding representatives of an agricultural conference of states held in Boston last January was the unanimously adopted resolution recommending town forests, which have already prompted many towns to start such forests.

"To preserve what remains of our once great forests, every effort must be made to arrest the annual waste by fire and other agencies of destruction. The record of 1922 is startling—when 4100 fires swept over 55,000 acres, causing $50,000,000 damage, requiring the expenditure of $100,000 to fight them, and taking in their toll five human lives and 122 buildings, to say nothing of destruction of cover for song birds and friendly animal life.

"Therefore, in the hope of stimulating greater activity to protect and to increase our forests, I hereby designate Saturday, the 28th day of April, 1923, as Arbor and Bird day and the week of April 22-28, 1923, as 'Forest Protection week' and recommend that they be generally observed throughout the Commonwealth by the planting of trees, shrubs and vines.

"This work may well be done, not only on Arbor and Bird day, but throughout the season of planting. Let the children in the schools become interested in this helpful and pleasant work, so that they may better understand Nature and more deeply appreciate the beauty of the great outdoors in which they have had a part in creating and preserving."

GOVERNOR COX, April 13.—A proclamation was issued yesterday by Gov. Cox designating Saturday, April 28, as Arbor and Bird day and the week of April 22 to 28 as "Forest Protection week." The proclamation follows:

"In justice to the coming generations it is necessary that we turn energetically to the work of reforestation, in order to replenish our wasted timber lands—not alone the reforestation of large tracts of land, but the planting of trees, wherever possible, on small city lots. One of the outstanding representatives of an agricultural conference of states held in Boston last January was the unanimously adopted resolution recommending town forests, which have already prompted many towns to start such forests.

HENNING HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Man Arrested in Connection With Killing of Concord, N. H. Man Lodged in Jail

No Trace of Companion Actually Charged With Shooting Vernon F. Atkins

CONCORD, N. H., April 12.—As a result of a conference between County Solicitor Herbert W. Hamble and counsel for Francis Henning of Concord, Mass., held here in connection with the slaying of Vernon F. Atkins in his home Wednesday night, the case was this morning continued until April 20, or until such time as the escaped slayer, "Relly," who was Henning's companion, is apprehended. Counsel for Henning, including Frank A. Batchelder of Boston, and A. Van Allen Thomsen of Concord, expressed satisfaction with the disposition of the case today.

Not a trace of the man known only as "Relly" and "O'Brien" has been discovered by police authorities who have spread a net throughout New Hampshire in hope of capturing the escaped man.

Officer Edward Silva, of the Concord police department and local financier, left this morning for Boston, carrying the gun with which the murder of Atkins was committed. The gun will be presented to Boston authorities for inspection and the taking of fingerprints. He was given full authority for conference with Boston police authorities and action with respect to apprehension of the murderer.

Henning was committed to the Merrimack county jail for safe keeping. He is held without bail.

FEWER REQUESTS FOR ASSISTANCE

Miss Alice M. Bell, general secretary of the Social Service league, reports that the coming of warmer weather and increased activities in most of the industries in Lowell has lessened the demands on the league considerably.

This past winter has been one of the worst in the history of the city from the standpoint of charity and social service workers, and the calls for relief have been almost too heavy to handle. But the coming of spring has lightened the work of most of these societies and they are now enjoying their first breathing spell since the advent of winter, and this let-up is giving them an opportunity to straighten out their records and prepare for summer relief and educational work.

BRITISH-AMERICAN BAND REHEARSAL

The regular weekly rehearsal of the British American band was held last evening at the Free church in Middlesex street, under the direction of Richard McBride. The committee has made the final arrangements for the potato pie supper and entertainment which is to be held on Saturday evening in Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street. All members of the band are requested to be present. Supper at 5.30, entertainment at 7.30. The next band rehearsal will be held on Friday evening, April 20, at 7.30 instead of Thursday Patriots Day.

PUTTING GIRDERS IN POSITION

One of the 27-inch I girders, weighing 4200 pounds, was placed in position at the postoffice yesterday afternoon and the other to be placed will most likely be put in today. These big beams form the cross supports of the new floor and as soon as they are anchored the shorter steel girders and wooden beams that form the lengthwise support for the floor will rapidly be erected and bolted into position. Then the floors may be laid. Two floors are to be put over the beams, one of heavy matched mill flooring and the other a thinner finish flooring.

Merrimack Valley Superintendents Meet

The stories were illustrated by blackboard drawings by various students. The morning exercises were brought to a close with a demonstration of the methods of teaching citizenship by a group of students from the Project club, which is experiencing its first season in the school. The participants in the symposium were attractively attired in gowns of various colors and each depicted a virtue or vice as the occasion required. Those taking part were the following: Virtues—Misses Helen Barrett, Mary Carvity, Beatrice Lynch, Mary Keller, Clara Marchand, Dorothy Hill, Margaret Johnson, Elizabeth O'Donovan, Anna Curry, Sarah Connolly, Elaine Madigan.

Vices—Misses Katherine Fitzgerald, Catherine McCann, Beatrice Devine, Sarah Lyons, Helen Powell, Helen Murphy, Evelyn Hyde, Helen Hession, Martha Davis, Margaret O'Sullivan, Edna Ledy.

A business meeting, presided over by Eugene R. Vining, was held during the noon period and this was followed by a luncheon. In the afternoon the session was resumed and consisted of a general discussion of the method of purchasing supplies. The chief speaker on this topic was Mr. Henry L. Williams, business agent of the local school department.

LOCAL WOMAN HONORED

Miss Damon Elected Vice President of National Music Supervisors' Association

At the annual conference of the National Music Supervisors' association at Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday, Miss Inez Field Damon, supervisor of music at the Lowell State Normal school, was elected vice president of the association.

The newly elected officer has been connected with the State Normal school here for a number of years and has gained national recognition as a student and teacher of music. Since taking up her duties in Lowell, Miss Damon had made remarkable headway and has organized many special classes in individual and community singing, which, under her competent instruction, met with unusual success. She has also interested herself in university extension work as applied to music, and through public and private recitals and lectures, she has succeeded in developing the musical life of the city to a remarkable degree. Her educational association, composed of music teachers from every state in the Union, is a signal honor, but one richly deserved.

COUNSEL DEFENDS HOUSE OF DAVID

to Refute Charge Made Against Organization

Lawyer Dewhurst Ridicules
Proposal That Receiver Be Appointed

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., April 12.—(By the Associated Press) In the first public statement issued by the Israelite House of David to refute charges made against the organization, H. T. Dewhurst, member of and counsel for the organization, ridiculed the proposal that a receiver be appointed for the organization.

The state legislature now is considering a bill that would permit the naming of a receiver for the colony.

Mr. Dewhurst charged legislators interested in this unfavorably to the colony were "playing politics."

"The colony has no creditors, pays its own bills, attends to its own business and is not trying to run anyone else's business," the statement said.

"And where does all this talk and slander about Benjamin Purnell come from? Not one word of it from the thousand contented members of the House of David. Does any sensible person believe Benjamin and Mary would command the love and respect of these thousand members if one-tenth of what has been published were true? We all know the charges are false and that is why there is no commotion in the House of David."

Returning to the receivership question, Mr. Dewhurst asked:

"Does the public believe we are a bunch of rubes, just born yesterday? The House of David doesn't intend to be scared by any such procedure."

DENNIS J. MURPHY,
FRED G. LEARY,
GEORGE BOWERS,

DEPARTMENTAL APPROPRIATION

City Auditor Daniel E. Martin is at work upon a comprehensive schedule of departmental appropriations tending to show average expenditures for the first quarter of the year and credits based upon a pro-rated monthly basis. Although the report will not be ready before the first of next week, it is understood the general average is good, with deficits showing only in departments which have been hard hit by the severity of winter.

CLEAN-UP PROCLAMATION

Attention has been frequently called in this state and city to the great importance of maintaining clean and sanitary conditions in all business and public places. In order that pestilence and disease may be warded off and our fair city be made a cleaner and better place in which to live, Spring is a time when the great care and attention should be given to the removal of the winter accumulation of debris, dirt and filth which later, if left in such a condition, may become a breeding place of flies and sources of disease. In every community attention is being called to this matter in order that civic pride may be aroused and attention directed to the necessity of cleaning our homes, our yards and premises, streets and alleys. Now, therefore, in order to bring about the accomplishment of the purpose indicated by the Board of Public Service requests that April 15-19-20 be set aside as preliminary days of cleaning up week for the City of Lowell and do urge all citizens and residents of this city to lend all possible effort toward making the work of cleaning and removing so thorough that at the end of time designated our city shall in all respects be one of the cleanest and most sanitary cities in the Commonwealth. The people of Lowell are requested not only to clean their premises but also to assist the Department of Streets and Highways in cleaning the gutters in front of their premises and collect debris in proper containers to be later removed by the Department of Ashes and Waste collection.

UNEMPLOYMENT ON DECREASE IN LOWELL

BOSTON, April 12.—An increased demand for the competent farm labor, and a generally healthy industrial employment condition are reported by the employment service of the United States department of labor, in an analysis of industrial employment and unemployment in New England for March, made public yesterday.

"The following cities showed a decrease in the number of unemployed as compared with the previous month: Lowell, Springfield, Worcester, New Bedford, Brockton, Lawrence, Providence, Manchester, N. H., Bridgeport, Conn., Waterbury, Conn., New Haven, Conn."

"Full titer was the only city in the New England states that showed an increase in unemployment for March over that of February."

Strong for South End School

In use when that proposition was advanced. No one will argue now, however, that the high school, with its splendid equipment and accommodations, is not necessary.

"The sanitary conditions at the Edison school are a disgrace to the city," declared the councilor, "and I know of no other district that would have tolerated them for such a length of time. As a member of the finance committee you can put me down in favor of a new school. I am not competent to say how much a new building ought to cost or how large it should be. That is something for the school committee to decide, but the proposition as a whole has my unqualified support, for I look upon it as a public necessity and one which ultimately concerns the health and safety of hundreds of growing boys and girls."

Speaking further on the subject, Councilor Hennessey said he feels that the Edison school problem is one of the biggest and most important questions facing the council this year, "and one which must be faced, if we are to further our educational program and keep our public school system on a proper plane of efficiency."

Councilor Hennessey's statement in regard to the proposition advanced for a new school building in the South End district is particularly interesting, inasmuch as it is the first expression from any member of the council upon the matter.

The three were released under $5000 bonds each and the trial has been set for the June term of the criminal court.

ARMORER RYAN OF LAW- RENCE HONORED

LAWRENCE, April 12.—Sergeant John P. Ryan, who has been armorer at the Lawrence armory since it was built 30 years ago, was given a testimonial in the State armory last night. Nearly 800 men were gathered for the banquet, and in addition to the several speakers, letters of congratulation were read from Gov. Channing Cox, Vice President Calvin Coolidge, Senators Henry Cabot Lodge and David I. Walsh.

In behalf of the assembly Leonard E. Hennington presented Mr. Ryan a purse of money. The amount was not mentioned, but it is understood to be in the vicinity of $3000.

Attorney John P. Kane, a life long friend of the armorer's, and a former military man and veteran of the Spanish war, was the toastmaster. Among the speakers were Col. Charles P. Sargent of this city, who presided; Pres. Frank G. Allen, of the Massachusetts senate; Mayor Daniel W. Mahoney, Congressmen William W. Peck, Capt. William B. Higgins of this city, Rev. Donald H. Gerrish, Andrew Griffin, Jr., Rev. J. T. O'Reilly, and Harry L. Calvert, commander of Lawrence Post, A.L.

Through war and through peace Armorer Ryan has been the same tireless worker and he has befriended many. At the time of the Spanish war and again during the world war he was very active, and there was no body happier than he when the boys came home.

Clergymen Condemned by Soviet Acclaimed by Christian Advocate

"Not for Any Protestant to Lessen the Glory of These Martyrs"

NEW YORK, April 12.—The Roman Catholic prelates and priests condemned by the Russian soviet government, one of whom, Monsignor Butchkevitch, was executed, are acclaimed by the Christian Advocate, a Methodist publication, in an editorial in its current number issued today:

"It is not for any Protestant to lessen the glory of these martyrs by saying that they were obedient to 'Rome' rather than to God," it reads. "They have been bred in belief that the voice that speaks to them through the church is the voice of God. And in their defiance of that soviet law which offends the dictates of conscience, they have displayed a heroism that links them with all who through the ages have said 'We know that we ought to obey God rather than man.'"

"The spectacle of their Christian constancy ought to bring Protestants and Romanists to a clear realization of their common origin and common destiny and their obligation to their common lord."

LOCAL INSURANCE MEN MAKE MERRY

The third gathering of the season of the field of representatives of the Lowell agency of the John Hancock insurance company, was held last night in the agency room in the Fairbank building. An excellent turkey dinner was followed by a delightful informal program of music, to which Miss Caroline Urbanek, Mrs. Kowalewski, Horace B. Logan, Frank Golden, Harry Pasanoff, Miss Estelle Doran and George Smith contributed generously.

A team of representatives captained by Dr. J. E. Nollette, were hosts of the evening as a result of the business competition and Dr. Nollette presented prizes won by the opposing team members to Captain Burton H. Bliss.

The committee in charge of the gathering included P. F. Quinn, Robert A. Kennedy and Daniel Doran and J. Riley, assistant superintendents.
